Buyer Services unexpectedly closes its doors

Customers were stunned after learning Buyer Services Ltd. in Beverly Hills shut their doors and allegedly stopped returning phone calls in late March.

A few weeks ago, customers received a bankruptcy notice from the popular and longtime business on Robertson Boulevard, saying the business is filing a Chapter 7 bankruptcy.

Currently, no changes have been made to the store, which led many customers to believe Buyer Services was still in business.

Former Beverly Hills resident Michelle Kleinert said she and her husband registered with the company this January, and there was no indication that the store was having financial problems.

"We've been going to Buyer Services for years, and they've been really great throughout the years," said Kleinert. "We even received notices of items purchased by our friends and family right before they closed."

Kleinert received one phone call from an employee shortly after doors closed regarding a liquidation sale accepting cash only. She said the employee had no idea that the store was filing for bankruptcy and had not heard from the owner of the property.

Kleinert said although she and her husband have thousands of dollars of purchases not received, she is more concerned that her friends and family were ripped off.

"We just feel scammed and burned," said Kleinert. "My husband and I will be ok, and were pretty sure we won't get anything back but we feel bad that our friends and family lost money to this place."

The business, which has been open since 1991 with Donald D. Byerly listed as CEO, specializes in home furnishings. According to Glatis, it is a popular place to register for weddings.

Kleinert said Buyer Services was the goto place for gifts for any occasion. She has friends who have unused store credit as well.

Internet discussion boards are filled with angry customers who have no idea what to do or who to contact for help, including customers who placed orders in 2008 and have paid in full but have not received their merchandise.

A hearing was held last Friday. According to Lawrence Diamant, attorney specializing in bankruptcy at Robinson Diamant & Walkowitz in Century City, the hearing includes a bankruptcy trustee examining the company's assets and other related information.

Mandarin Chinese course moves forward

Beverly's new foreign language course moves forward with student interest and current screening of instructors.

"Currently we have 27 students who are interested in the course," said Assistant Superintendent Ilene Straus. "Also, the number may change as we are still finishing student counseling for incoming freshmen."

Straus said the majority of students are incoming freshmen, however there are a few upperclassman who have enrolled in the class as well. Straus confirmed that the course is UC approved and will be offered for at least three years, so students will be able to meet college requirements.

Although Beverly Hills Education Association President Chris Bushee supports diversity in programs at Beverly, he is concerned with the timing of the new course.

"BHEA believes that students should have a variety of learning opportunities, so offering Mandarin Chinese in and of itself is a good thing. However, both timing and quality of implementation are two logistical

NOTICE OF COMMISSION VACANCY

TRAFFIC & PARKING COMMISSION

The Beverly Hills City Council is seeking qualified residents to fill two upcoming vacancies on the Traffic and Parking Commission. The initial term of office is for two years. At the discretion of the City Council, the Commissioners may be reappointed to a second term of four years. The appointees will be required to file an initial and an annual "Statement of Economic Interests" financial disclosure.

In order that we may preserve the integrity of the application and interview process, please direct all inquiries to the City Clerk, City Manager or the Director of Public Works, Engineering and Transportation. Please DO NOT contact the City Councilmembers or the members of the Traffic and Parking Commission regarding the Traffic and Parking Commission vacancies.

Application forms for the Traffic and Parking Commission, along with a description of the duties of a Commissioner, and filing details are available for pickup in the City Clerk's Office, Room 190, 455 N. Bushee also said the course could interfere with other elective courses.

"Also, it is possible that instead of expanding the total amount of program offered at the high school, Mandarin may actually compete for the same students who might otherwise take a different foreign language or another elective," said Bushee. "BHEA cautions against changes that serve to destabilize existing, successful programs."

After posting a notice for a teacher with four years teaching experience a few weeks ago, a candidate has been chosen out of four applicants according to Straus.

Beverly Vista 4th graders participated in another "Bookends" learning project last month, collecting over 4,000 books.

The students spent one week collecting books each morning at the Beverly Vista student drop-off, taking donations from parents, staff, and students. After all the books were collected, the students participated in "Sorting Day," separating genres of books, and counting a total of 4,048 books.

Beverly Vista 4th grade teacher Victoria Hanlon, who has coordinated the Bookends project in previous years, said the project brings the students together for a good cause.

Principal Erik Warren agreed the project is a good learning experience, and teaches community service to the students.

"In this case they get to interface with other students with other socioeconomic backgrounds," said Warren.

Students from both schools met and read books to each other in the library of Vine Street Elementary in Los Angeles when books were delivered last Monday.

takes place on May 16th and 17th from 10am to 6pm.

Since 1973, "Affaire in the Gardens" has drawn a wide-range of artists and exhibitors, featuring collections in painting, sculpture, watercolors, photography, mixed media, ceramics, jewelry, drawings and printmaking. The two-day event will take place at Beverly Gardens Park. For more information call (310) 285-6830.

Students recognized for National performance

Under the direction of Beverly Vista Music Specialist Judith Chan, four students from Beverly Vista School were selected to be part of the 2009 OAKE (Organization of American Kodàly Educators) National Conference Honor Choirs. Students were recognized by the Board of Education at Tuesday's meeting.

They performed at the Daughters of American Revolution Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C. on March 14.

Every student has gone through a rigorous audition process and numerous hours of rehearsal to be part of this event. Students from 32 states participated in this performance.

Students from Beverly Vista included Olivia Berris (6th grade), Isabella Cantu-Buck (4th Grade), Eric Fram (6th Grade) and Brittany Pedrosa (5th Grade).

The mission of the Organization of American Kodály Educators is to enrich the quality of life of the people of the USA through music education by promoting the philosophy of Zoltán Kodály, Hungarian composer, philosopher, and educator.

Beverly Vista students to receive city-wide award

Four 6th grade students from Beverly Vista will be awarded the Digital Voice Award from the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE) on May 16 at South Pasadena High School.

Students storyboarded their idea and then made their characters from scratch using a styrofoam base, armature wire, and plasticine clay.

Using still cameras and tripods donated by Beverly Vista's PTA, the students filmed their claymation using the stop-motion method.

"This is a great way to expose students to the real-life workings of how films and shows are made. Working in groups, students develop their own story including characters, plot and setting. It is a lot of work, but the knowledge they've gained and their end result is invaluable," said Lisko.

The program will honor the winning classroom instructional technology projects from across Los Angeles County at the 2009 Digital Voice Awards. The celebration highlights exemplary projects from K–12 educators and students that were created with a variety of technology tools in support of the California Content Standards.

News and Opinion

When the city began the budget cutting process, pain was inevitable. How can we maintain the same services with massive losses in tax revenues? The simple answer: We can't.

However, when cuts mean dismantling of essential city services, the council should move very slowly, and carefully consider impacts and alternatives. Mostly, that's what they are doing.

Which brings us to CPR – the citizen training that teaches residents how to respond to life threatening emergencies before help arrives. In the 33 years since CPR began, as a quasi-city agency, some 87,000 people have completed the program. There is no estimate on how many lives have been saved, but it must be a considerable number.

Although in this economy, the $80,000 needed for basic staff and other support is not trivial, we think the council will and should keep the CPR program in place. However, there is a very active volunteer group and they should consider a fund raising appeal so that they are not so dependent on the city. Some of their current revenue does come from fees, but they need a donor support outreach.

Each week, we will try to bring you some exciting and imperative press release we receive. This week's winner is a Canadian organization that insists we could all learn by talking to horses. The best place to achieve this communication through "Understanding the Infinite" is Gateway 2 Ranch in British Columbia where the horses are treated as family.

Not sure what language the horses use, but if it is Canadian, we might have a problem. The only horse with whom I ever tried to communicate rewarded my effort by running last at Hollywood Park. I'm afraid I must say neigh to the press release.

The word "lobbyist" has almost become a pejorative, even in our highly, politically sophisticated community. In fact, we are so concerned these political operatives might somehow have undue influence on our city government that we have enacted laws barring former councilmembers from engaging in the practice for some considerable time after they leave public office.

It may not be coincidental that since the city began considering these "ethics" rules, no lawyer has sought election to the council, at least not any that had a chance of winning, and that may not be in the public interest despite the Shakespearean advise about the profession.

Time for some reality checks. First, we do have a form of registration required for anyone, lawyers included, who are retained to represent clients on city matters. But we use a less emotion packed description: they are legally called "legislative advocates" in Beverly Hills.

The title of lobbyist actually came from the place where they worked. Those who supported or opposed some legislative action and wanted to reach an elected official, waited in the "lobby" to make contact and argue their concerns. Today's lobbyists at the state and federal level are far more professional and make periodic visits to the offices of legislators.

The stereotypical lobbyist is a cigar smoking, overweight fixer who doles out money to gain influence. Reality is somewhat mellower. Would it surprise you to know that the League of Women Voters has a lobbyist, as does the American Lung Association, the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, the American Newspaper Publishing Association, the Humane Society, the American Civil Liberties Union, and even many who toil for the American Association of Retired Persons. Others lobby for favorable funding and legislation impacting the environment, the arts, human rights and social legislation.

In fact, our own city has no problem with using lobbyists. We retain the services of one of the top lobbying firms in the state to make sure we obtain our fair share of state and federal project funding.

Lobbyists provide very important services for government. The technical data, the history and significance of proposed legislation or funding for their clients is often very complicated. Legislators depend on the lobbyists to provide data that can help them make responsible decisions. Of course, the information disseminated is targeted to improve the lobbyists interests, but it also helps balance out a busy legislator's supply of source material.

There are horrendous abuses of the process, but never has there been more oversight at both the state and national level and never more regulatory protection of the public interest.

But back to Beverly Hills. The new ordinances limiting the work of former councilmembers or mayors may have some value, but they are also punitive and probably not entirely fair.

Former city officials do have insights into how the system works, can and do advise clients on legal realities and help avoid unrealistic efforts to win approval for a development that has no chance of gaining approval.

A good example of this is something that happened many years ago. A new owner of a large tract on Sunset Boulevard actually retained the services of a consultant who agreed it might be possible to rezone the property and permit development of a major condo project.

There are so many reasons this had absolutely no chance of succeeding, that a quick visit to the planning department would have avoided considerable expenses by the hapless property owner. But the consultant did prosper.

I can not think of one former member of the council who would even have considered representing this property owner. Although this is an extreme example, all the lawyer-former mayors do this in some manner with every client, and that does serve the public interest.

Ethics rules are also more likely to be followed by the more ethical lawyers. A client can easily be referred to a colleague or some associate without directly violating our laws. What is really more important is assuring that no former councilmember is ever able to represent any interest that ever had a matter before the council and on which he or she might have voted. The same should be true for city commissioners.

What is more disturbing is our failure to appreciate the past work of former mayors who now may represent clients who have city interests and presuming they no longer care about their community.

Our civic and community organizations would not be as effective without the volunteer hours given by former mayors. Compare what they give back to that of some of their critics.

Two excellent examples of responsible involvement are former mayors Mark Egerman and Allan Alexander. They have no professional affiliation and are often on opposite sides on client representation, but when the city needed leadership to guide our involvement in the proposed "subway to the sea" Egerman and Alexander were appointed co-chairs by the city council of the citizen review committee.

Both made very significant contributions to our city as public servants. Alexander was one of the founders of the Southwest Beverly Hills Homeowners, became a moderating voice on the Planning Commission and then served two terms as mayor and eight on the city council Egerman first served as a member and president of the board of education, member of the Public Works Commission and then as councilmember and mayor.

To mention just a sampling of their successes: Alexander is really the father of the CTV monitoring program that has given our police advanced technology on crime prevention and detection. As mayor, he brought new commissions such as Human Relations, Recreation and Parks, Health and Safety into government which increased citizen involvement and oversight.

Egerman as a Public Works Commissioner and councilmember/mayor helped modernize our entire water delivery system and funding for a water storage facility. He led efforts to implement the urban design program for the business community that has dramatically improved the look not only of Rodeo Drive but much of the business triangle.

These are only a few examples of their good works. It is also important to remember that councilmembers receive a pittance salary, lose hours of billable time as lawyers and are more often subject of abuse instead of appreciation.

Historically, some of our best councilmembers were lawyers including Alexander and Egerman, and also George Slaff, Hugh Darling, Mendel Silberberg and countless others.

We need to remember and appreciate what these lawyers did for our city. They continue to give and are still the same ethical contributors to our community even when they make a living practicing law.

A bad typo last week omitted a key word in my column. The reference to former Mayor Ed Brown came out as "my Ed Brown" and dropped the preface my "friend Ed Brown." I appreciate all the hidden meaning in the attempts at humor in my emails, but we are just friends and he is not "mine." Josette was reasonably sure that was true.

However, what was perplexing is that I received no complaint at all from Linda Brown.

Speaking of the council, the current agony over the budget deficit and the almost Solomon effort required to cut expenses without impairing public safety has again meant a very heavy and time

Although they bring different styles, temperament and agendas to their jobs, we should appreciate the hard work they are doing as a council. The two newest members are off and running with their colleagues and we are lucky to have them on the council.

Dr. Willie Brien may well be the most balanced, clear thinking member we have had in many years. His enormous integrity and dedication to public service are immeasurable and he arrived when he was most needed.

John Mirisch was not given too many chances of winning election. But he has proven his ability to become a fair student of the council process, to do his homework and to make decisions based on realities and not knee jerk reactions. Extremely bright, totally ethical and willing to listen, John has been a most welcome addition to city government. Along with Barry Brucker, Jimmy Delshad and Mayor Nancy Krasne, the most challenging budget crisis in our city's history will be handled responsibly.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the excellent contribution of City Manager Rod Wood and his professional staff.

Rudy Cole served for eight years as a member and chair of the city's Recreation & Parks Commission. He was also President of the Greystone Foundation and served on three other city committees. Rudy can be reached at: Rudy@bhweekly.com.

Norman athletes win league titles in tennis, track, swimming.

Beverly High won its second consecutive Southern Section Western Team Divisional boys' golf tournament Monday, finishing one shot ahead of Hacienda Heights Los Altos at Montebello Municipal Golf Course.

Mario Clemens shot a team-low twounder-par 69 for the Normans, while teammates William Byun, Colt Knedler and Kristof Sebesteny all shot one-over-par 72s.

Freshman Brian Song shot a seven-overpar 78 to give Beverly Hills a total of eightover-par 363.

"I'm very proud of the kids," Normans coach Jason Newman said. "Last year when we were fortunate to win, nobody really expected to win. We were just going there to compete and try to qualify for the next round.

"This year, the kids knew winning [the divisional] was one of the goals that we were pointing towards and it probably added a little bit of pressure to the round, but I thought that the guys played very, very well."

Byun, Knedler and Sebesteny all got off to what Newman described as great starts, with sub-par scores over the first five holes, while Clemens was two over par after the first nine holes.

"I was able to drive up to Mario and tell him that the other guys were really playing well," Newman said.Clemens, who has signed with UCLA, then shot four-under-par for the final nine holes, helping provide Beverly Hills with the margin of victory.

"As the kids were seeing each other throughout the second nine... I think that everybody fed off of everybody else's momentum and I think that's what really sort of helped us get through," Newman said.The divisional title follows a 14-0 record in dual matches for the Normans. Newman cited "great leadership from William Byun," who is in his fourth year on the team, and "friendly competition among on guys that spurs them on to want to play well" as reasons for the team's success.

"We're fortunate that they drive each other to improve," Newman said. "With the top golfers we've had for the last few years, the rest of the team when they've come in as freshmen and sophomores sees their practice habits and realizes the price you have to pay for excellence.

"Forgetting the results, one of greatest benefits to all the kids on the golf team is to see the work habits that you need to have in order to achieve success both in golf and in life."

Ocean League Finals

Clemens overcame a one-shot deficit at the start of the round to win the tournament last Thursday at Wilson Golf Course in Griffith Park.

COVERSTORY BEVERVS PROPOSED NEW BULLDING Will it lead to better security, or a badly conceived boondoggle? By Diana Vu

In a 3-2 vote Tuesday night, the Board of Education approved the next phase of design for the new Beverly High administration building, also known as Building M. Board members Nooshin Meshkaty and Brian Goldberg voted against.

After much debate, with Board member Myra Demeter's motion to move forward with Option I, a second from Board member Steven Fenton, and a yes from Board member Myra Lurie, the FAC's recommendation to include administration in building M was approved.

"We need to take one step forward," said Fenton.

The Facilities Advisory Committee (FAC), appointed by Board of Education members, oversees development and evaluates information presented by the architect and school site committees. The FAC then reports to the Board of Education with regard to renovations from the $334 million Measure E bond that passed last year.

FAC co-chairs Jacob Manaster and Ron Stone presented Option I as the recommendation to the Board, but reported much reservation and debate within the committee. They also agreed that as chairs, they felt it was necessary to present the board with a concrete option.

FAC committee members also include Ben Alexander, Chris Biehl, Tricia Garcia, former Board member John Millan, Councilmember John Mirisch, Marc Saleh, Colleen Sternshein, Beverly High choral director Joel Pressman, PTA council co-president Franny Rennie, Beverly PTSA copresident Alissa Roston, and Tina Wiener.

"Neither option delighted anyone and there wasn't anything else for us to choose from. If there were more options, we probably would have a different result," said Manaster. "We needed to bring something to the table."

The FAC voted 6-2 in favor of Building M housing administration in a FAC special meeting Monday prior to the Tuesday Board of Education meeting.

According to the master plan, security and safety is one of the main concerns in regard to the modernization and renovation of the school that could cost upwards of $40 million. However, project opponents say they don't believe the building will make the campus safer.

Councilmember John Mirisch expressed his opposition towards both project options. Mirisch said he does not feel either option is valid and meets Mirisch. "If they really felt a need to build a field, it would have made more sense for it to be a baseball field, where a softball and lacrosse field could also be located. I would also hate to see the historic math patio fall to the wrecking ball, as both options propose."

Mirisch also said there are better uses of the bond funds.

"Unfortunately, it really seems like they're just trying to find new ways to the needs of Beverly High.

"The idea was originally to have a single point of entry to the high school for visitors. What was originally supposed to be an 'entryway' building morphed into an administration building with classrooms, which was laid out in order to accommodate a full-size lacrosse and softball field," said spend money. There are much better uses of the bond funds, and my fears about Measure E seem to be validated by this initial proposal. I'm far from convinced of the need for such a grandiose 'entryway' building, and certainly don't think that 'Building M' as designed in either option is a good use of resources," said Mirisch. "I sincerely hope they'll go back to the drawing board and come up with better and more sensible ways to use the taxpayers' money."

The recommendation was presented with a caveat, "that he district take into account the needs of faculty and administration and the frustration of staff," said Stone during his presentation Tuesday. The FAC chairs reported the original vote didn't support Option I until the caveat was in place.

"We have to make decisions on what goes inside [Building M], if we don't decide on functions, we cannot move forward," said Stone.

Lurie said the administration should be located in Building M; however, other details need to discussed.

Board member Brian Goldberg said he wanted more options and wasn't sure if he wanted a Building M at all.

"I feel we are being pushed in a path that is an inevitable one," said Goldberg. "Even though everything is conceptual, the more we decide, the more likely we are to go on a specific path that's difficult to change."

Pressman expressed his concern with the possible agenda of architects and voiced the concerns of staff.

"We were given the agenda by the architects, and the drawings do not actively reflect discussions on the high school committee," said Pressman. "The materials we were given lobby towards a specific point of view."

Pressman reported that the majority of administration preferred Option II, and the need for the high school committee to discuss other options.

"There is a push. I feel it, to make this [Option I] a more clear cut choice," said Pressman.

Both options include a security office, weight and fitness room, textbook storage, food services, learning improvement classrooms, ASB, and activities/athletic directors.

Option I would house all administration and student services, six teaching stations, and approximately 39,000 square feet in total program area.

Student services include administrative services from Houses A, B, and C, House D/Maple Center, counseling, career center, special education offices, and ASB.

Option II includes 21 teaching stations, 12 social studies classrooms, a computer lab, and approximately 48,000 square feet of program area, and requires a large portion of administration and student services to be located in Building B.

Option I includes administration in one location, while Option II includes more academics. Option II is more expensive, mostly due to costly renovations of an older building.

Board President Nooshin Meshkaty said the projects options are too limited and the said feedback from the community is needed.

"People in the community still don't know what's going on. We need to hear everyone's voice," said Meshkaty. "We have to pick and choose what goes in the building and come up with our own options."

Principal J Guidetti said at the meeting he is fearful of the current security level at the school. He said it has been less than two weeks since an adult was escorted off campus by security and recommended Option I for a centralized location for administration from his experience in education.

Building M, one of the first renovation projects to be funded by Measure E, is a proposed four-story entry building addition to the Beverly campus.

Included in the renovation is a dramatic change to the front campus with the addition of a bus drop off and visitor parking zone.

The proposed project is currently in the schematic design phase, which means the committee is discussing the exact function of the building, according to BHUSD a p p o i n t e d facilities program manager K a r e n Christiansen.

Christiansen expressed urgency in a decision, stating that design cannot begin until the Board decides the function of the new building.

According to the executive summary, LPA, one of the appointed architects, developed floor plan options that illustrate, "the existing classroom locations and use and the proposed classroom locations and department reorganization to be accomplished as part of the modernization."

In the draft facilities master plan, Building M will act as a "gateway building," and provide a direct point of entry for visitors. The main concern is increased security for the front lawn of the school, which may be confusing to visitors since there is no direct entry point according to Manaster.

According to the master plan, "The campus plan envisions the addition of a student union as the new front of Beverly Hills High School. Located with adjacent subterranean visitor parking on M o r e n o [Drive], it will complement the ceremonial historical entrance, and provide safe and secure access from a single point."

Building M is proposed to be located just east of the softball field. The building would extend towards Moreno Drive, connecting with a drop-off zone that would be used for buses and visitors. Existing tennis courts would be relocated behind fields towards the rear of the school.

Proposed additional parking is located underneath Building M.

The building is also described as a community resource providing joint-use activity rooms, student weight training and fitness space, centralized counseling and administration, college/career center, and state of the art instructional spaces.

Another project titled "Graduation Lawn, Site Walls, and Fencing," is proposed to cost a little over $2 million.

Any attempts to change the historic look of the front of the school may face significant opposition in the community. The lawn has essentially looked the same since the school was opened in 1927.

Manaster said there are no details for fencing at this time. Christiansen used the term "form follows function," and said until the exact function of the building is decided, there are no details as to whether or not a fence would be added, and what the exact definition of a fence is at this time. Stone said fencing could mean several different things.

"Fencing is a broad term," said Stone. "It could be anything from a chain to a 30 foot stone wall."

Design development will start in June, according to Christiansen. Once designs are made and presented, the Board of Education will be able to make changes to the schematics, as a result of Tuesday's approval.

Calls to Principal J Guidetti were not returned by press time.

Li-quid-i-ty: When you review your investment portfolio and wet your pants!

How much of your stock and real estate portfolio are you willing to sacrifice?

Recover your family's inheritance with

the security of life insurance. Life insurance proceeds provide cash when your family needs it most. Diversify your investment portfolio with a guaranteed death benefit that is never affected by the fluctuation of the stock market or real estate values. You will know exactly what your family will inherit.

Life insurance is more affordable than you may realize. Designing a policy to life expectancy can reduce premium payments by as much as 30%, especially for seniors. What's more, term insurance rates are now at historic lows. Young people who have never owned insurance coverage often don't understand how inexpensive it is to provide security and peace of mind for themselves and their family.

Some people own policies that are no longer the best product to accomplish their goals. One of our clients paid $40,000 annually for $5 million of coverage. His goal was to pay the least amount to guarantee his death benefit. We exchanged his policy for a new one that guaranteed the same amount of coverage beyond age 100, with no further premium payments. He accumulates much less cash surrender value in the new policy, but that was never his goal.

New insurance products offer guarantees that were not previously available. Alan Kaye recently designed a policy to pay the death benefit and all of the accumulated annual premium payments, plus 3% annually. The longer you live, the more your family will inherit!

Why let the market determine the future

of your estate? Use life insurance death benefits to recover your investment loses. You may also increase the amount your family receives from your retirement plan assets, provide for your granchildren's education and create large gifts for your favorite charities. Call Alan Kaye at 800.662.5433. He can help you decide whether to buy insurance, sell, surrender, keep or replace your old policy.

How liquid is your estate? And what will your heirs inherit?

Be sure to ask for a complimentary consultation to review your life insurance needs and products.
