Candidates file for Board of Education race

Howard Goldstein

Two candidates filed for the Board of Education election on November 5 this week, according to lavote.net.

Dr. James Fabe, a 25 year Beverly Hills resident, has three children, one who currently attends Horace Mann School, which is also where the two previously attended.

Fabe has a bachelor's degree in economics from UC Berkeley, a DDS from USC; and an MBA from UCLA-Anderson.

"Unlike private school, I don't think there's enough early active intervention when there are problems to create academic success for all students, so that's one goal," said Fabe, who said he wanted to run this year to return to public service.

Fabe, who is currently a senior associate in dentistry, was in private practice in Beverly Hills for 25 years. Fabe was recruited by the armed forces of the United States and served as a major in the United States Army and California Army National Guard in 2009, 2010 and 2011.

He unsuccessfully ran for city council in 2001.

Citizen's Oversight Committee member Howard Goldstein announced his intent to run earlier this year in March and filed on Tuesday.

Goldstein, a former Horace Mann PTA president, attended Beverly Vista. His wife Juliet Oken Goldstein is a 1983 Beverly High graduate. They have two children, a fifth grader at Horace Mann and a ninth grader at Beverly High.

Goldstein is member of the BHUSD's Citizen Oversight Committee and has previously served as PTA Council Parliamentarian, school site member, and the executive board of BHEF. Goldstein is also a member of the City's Southeast

Crescent Drive to close for bollard installation

The City of Beverly Hills will begin installing retractable street bollards on Crescent Drive between North and South Santa Monica the week of August 5.

The construction will involve diversion of traffic on Crescent Drive and is scheduled to be completed by the first week of September. Signs will direct traffic to Rexford or Canon Drives. Signs will also show that Crescent Drive businesses will be open. The street will remain closed until completion.

The Crescent Drive parking garage will remain open.

A bollard is a short vertical post used to increase pedestrian safety by restricting vehicle access to a specific area. The Crescent Drive bollards will be stainless steel cylinders, decorated with the Beverly Hills shield logo. They will be used to close one block of North Crescent Drive in front of City Hall for occasional community events.

The Beverly Hills City Council unanimously approved installation of a manually operated counter weighted bollard system that requires between 35 to 45 pounds of lifting to raise each bollard. The bollards are 15 inches in diameter, 35 inches high and 48 inches on centers. The bollards are also able to stop a 15,000 pound vehicle traveling at 50 miles per hour.

The council approved a contract with Matt Construction, who is overseeing the work at the Annenberg Center, for "part four," which includes reconstruction of the public streets and parkways surrounding the Annenberg Center as required by the lease agreement approved in July of 2012. The project sum approved in July included an allowance for the installation of street bollards.

Donation site created for former Beverly High drama teacher battling cancer

Beverly High theater teacher Herb Hall and his wife Donna Peacher-Hall have set up a GoFundMe fundraiser for former Beverly High drama teacher Katie Grant Shalin, who has been diagnosed with inoperable stage four brain cancer.

"We created the fundraiser because she and her husband are about to go to Duke University Brain Tumor Center where they have experimental programs for brain cancer," said Peacher-Hall. "They'll develop a plan and start treatment and then they'll go home to Marietta, Georgia, where they live and will continue treatment. All doctors have said that this is the best thing for her to do."

Shalin, who was part of the Beverly High faculty from 1998 to 2005, was taken to the hospital after experiencing a headache and dizziness. Doctors found a brain tumor and she was diagnosed with Stage four brain cancer.

Peacher-Hall said the fund would be to help with airline expenses, food, and other expenses incurred on the trip. The website has been set up with a goal of $5,000. As of press time, the site had raised $330.

Shalin's fundraising page is at <http://www.gofundme.com/katiegrantshalin>.

Interim Fire Chief Ralph Mundell to apply for Fire Chief Position

Ralph Mundell

Ralph Mundell has been named Interim Fire Chief following Tim Scranton's resignation last week.

"It's an exciting time for me," said Mundell.

"I'm looking forward to it greatly. I think it's going to be an outstanding opportunity and if I'm lucky enough to be selected, I look forward to leading the organization in to the future."

Mundell, who joined the Beverly Hills Fire department 27 years ago, was promoted to deputy fire chief six months ago following former Deputy Fire Chief Mark Embry's retirement.

"I think the primary difference is as the fire chief, you're not focused on the day to day activity. It's more of the vision: where you see the fire department going [and] where the fire service looks like it is heading," Mundell said.

Mundell, who grew up and still lives in Santa Clarita, said he had been in his third year of studying economics at California State University of Northridge when he grew wary of the prospect of sitting behind a desk all day. While he was in high school, a test had suggested he become a firefighter.

"I got to the point where maybe based on that exam five years ago, [being a firefighter] is something that might interest me," said Mundell.

Mundell said he had taken about 15 fire department entry level exams when he was offered a position with the City of Beverly Hills. Two other departments offered him a position and he chose Beverly Hills due to the fire department's reputation.

Mundell has an Associate of Arts degree from College of the Canyons and a Bachelor's degree in Occupational Studies from California State University Long Beach.

City Manager Jeff Kolin announced Mundell's appointment to the position of interim fire chief at the study session on July 16. Greg Barton was appointed interim deputy fire chief.

Kolin said he would look to fill the position internally. Mundell said he plans to apply once the position is posted.

Egerman says North Oakhurst residents do not want a historic district

Prior to the Cultural Heritage Commission's decision last month not to designate Oakhurst Drive as a historic district, a survey conducted by Former Mayor Mark Egerman showed residents of the district would not have been in favor of such a finding.

"The finding of my survey was that the substantial majority of the individuals involved did not wish to have the block designated a cultural district," said Egerman, who lives on the block.

The item went before the commission at its meeting on June 5. The block did not qualify as a historic district because under municipal code, 70 percent of the homes would have needed to be found as contributing to the historic district. In this case, the commission found 69.69 percent of the properties contributed to the potential district. Because the percentage fell short of the required 70 percent, the commission did not find that the block could be designated a historic district.

The discussion was prompted when the property owner at 619 North Oakhurst Drive applied for a "director's determination of ineligibility." A property owner may apply for a determination of ineligibility. If found ineligible, the property owner would be able to modify the house. In this case, the determination would have allowed the property owner to remove a balcony and a façade remodel of the home built in 1937.

At the time, Director of Community Development Susan Healy Keene found that the property, designed by master architect James F. Dickason, was not a historic resource individually, but contributed to a potential historic district on North Oakhurst.

This street has 23 homes that were developed by Dickason. The street could have potentially been a thematic district of the 23 Dickason homes.

To qualify as a historic district, the potential district would have to meet seven criteria -- one of which is the requirement that 70 percent of the homes in the district contribute to the district. Additionally, other criteria include that a district must retain integrity, have significant architectural value, and must be in conformance with the city's historical preservation commission. Districts must also meet two criteria of a list which includes being related to an important event, represent a notable work from a person on the city's list of master architects, or be associated with the life of a person significant to local, state or national history.

Keene said when that when the property owner came forward interested in a remodel, staff determined that it may be necessary to look further into the historic background of the block.

"Looking at that, we weren't making a recommendation on whether it should be a district or not, we were just saying that we would have to look at that because of the potential to be considered," said Keene.

The applicant appealed the decision to the cultural heritage commission leading Egerman to survey his neighbors who said he found the majority of his neighbors would not have supported such a finding.

Egerman said he was among those who had opposed the potential historic district.

"Speaking for myself alone, none of the houses on the block were deemed of sufficient quality to designate any individual house as a landmark house," Egerman said. "The houses individually do not qualify for landmark designation. That being the case, it seems that a historic district designation would simply impose limits on the owners of the homes as to what they can do without any corresponding benefits."

Cultural Heritage Commissioner Noah Furie, who was chair at the time of the discussion, said the commission felt the street was one of the most historically intact streets in the city, but it did not meet the minimum threshold of 70 percent.

Beverly Hills civic leader George Fenimore passes

Civic leader and former Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce President George Fenimore passed away on July 21 in Beverly Hills. He was 92.

"He was the consummate citizen. He was devoted to his country, California and his community," said former Mayor Vicki Reynolds, who served with Fenimore on the Chamber of Commerce Education Committee, YMCA board, and the Beverly Hills Rotary Club. "He was a mentor, a great friend and he had an enormous impact on every aspect of this community, which he loved dearly, so we will certainly miss him."

Former school board member and former Rotary President AJ Willmer said Fenimore, a Beverly Hills Rotary member for 46 years, introduced him to the City of Beverly Hills.

Willmer said Fenimore invited him to join the Chamber of Commerce and later along with the late Leonard Wasserstein, sponsored Willmer for Rotary membership.

"Rotary has become an extraordinarily important part of my life, including serving as president last year, and I will be forever indebted to George and Len, for having introduced me to Rotary," said Willmer.

Willmer said Fenimore became a Rotarian in 1967 and had perfect attendance, which meant he attended every meeting, or if he could not attend a meeting, he would make the meeting up at another club or attend a Rotary committee meeting.

Willmer said if for some reason Rotary did not meet a few Mondays in a row, he would receive a phone call from Fenimore letting him know it was a mistake not to have Rotary meetings, which typically meet every Monday.

Fenimore, a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force during World War II, earned his law degree from Harvard University following the war.

Fenimore was past president of the Planning Commission to review in-lieu parking fees, minor accommodations

The Beverly Hills Planning Commission will discuss and vote on a resolution establishing a pilot program for leasing in-lieu parking spaces at its meeting today at 1:30 p.m.

The zone text amendment is for Spaghetini Restaurant, which has come before the city council twice before.

The amendment would establish an in-lieu parking structure that would allow leasing of in-lieu parking spaces, as required by the code. Currently, in-lieu parking structures may only be purchased.

The City Council recently discussed Spaghetini at the formal meeting on July 2. The council decided it will work with a consultant to evaluate the entire in-lieu parking program at a later date. On July 2, council sent the zone text amendment back to the Planning Commission to review the zone text amendment establishing a pilot program for the restaurant, which is also a jazz club proposed to open at 184 Canon Drive.

Spaghetini is required 59 spaces under municipal code. An ad hoc committee, which included Mayor John Mirisch and Councilmember Julian Gold, proposed that an appropriate lease fee would be 50 percent of the 10-year rate for a full price in-lieu parking space.

The Planning Commission will discuss what businesses are eligible to participate in the pilot program, the fee rate, the term of the program, and the term of the lease agreement.

Under the 50 percent rate structure proposed by the ad hoc, Spaghetini would pay an annual fee of $83,439 to lease 59 in-lieu spaces.

The ordinance drafted by staff recommends the lease program only be available to tenants, would be available to uses eligible to participate in the in-lieu parking program, would not be applicable to new construction, a cap of 125 spaces for lease, non-transferability to future tenants, and a provision that would end the program on June 30, 2014, according to the commission's staff report.

The commission will also review minor accommodation standards in the city.

At the city council meeting on July 2, the council discussed a minor accommodation at 601 N. Elm Drive which caused concerns that the accessory structure built at the property encroached too far into the street side setback adversely affecting the streetscape.

The setback is compliant with code with the approval of a minor accommodation, City planner Jonathan Lait said at the formal meeting.

The council sent the issue to the Planning Commission, so the commission could look at the issue and present a set of recommendations of how to avoid similar situations and clarify the code to define what is minor.

According to the staff report, since concerns were raised regarding the project on North Elm, staff has implemented procedures, which include that all minor accommodation requests be reviewed by the city planner, and minor accommodation requests that encroach into a side yard adjacent to a street and minor accommodation requests to increase height to where it is visible from the right of way will be sent to the Planning Commission, according to the staff report.

The commission will discuss changes made by staff, notification requirements of minor accommodations, and possible revisions to accessory structure regulations.

Metro presents plans for La Cienega/Wilshire Station to Chamber of Commerce

Officials from the Metropolitan Transit Authority presented plans for the proposed Metro station at Wilshire and La Cienega Boulevards at the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce's Governmental Affairs Committee meeting on July 18.

The presentation precedes a city council discussion on permit approvals for Metro.

At the city council's study session on August 20, the city will seek direction from the city council on the permit approval process and the framework of any agreement that the City Council decides should be discussed with Metro.

Jim Cohen, Metro's Deputy Executive Officer, Project Management, explained that the timeline for construction work assumed that Metro would be granted certain exemptions by the City of Los Angeles and Beverly Hills.

The exemptions Metro is seeking include peak hour exemptions so work can continue during rush hour, extended work hours to allow work to continue at night within legal noise limits imposed by the city, and a lifting of the holiday moratorium which would allow work to be completed between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day.

Construction on phase one of the Purple Line Extension is expected to begin in January of 2014, with operations beginning in 2023.

Utility relocation is expected to begin at the La Cienega Station in January 2014 with construction in late 2015, at the earliest, according to a City of Beverly Hills staff report.

Phase one extends the purple line from the existing Wilshire and Western Station to Wilshire and La Cienega.

The Purple Line extension is a nine-mile project that has been separated into three phases.

The La Cienega station will be located under Wilshire Boulevard. The entrance will be on the northeast corner of the Wilshire and La Cienega intersection.

Phase two of the project is 2.6 miles and includes a station at Wilshire and Rodeo and in Century City. Preconstruction is not expected to begin until 2017 and construction is projected to begin in 2019, due to current funding streams. The project could be accelerated if Metro is able to secure alternate funding scenarios.

Phases two and three of the project were not discussed during the committee meeting.

Construction at each station is estimated to take five to seven years. The time frame for construction would be extended if exemptions are not granted.

Stations are about 800 to 1000 feet long and 70 feet wide and generally 50 to 60 feet deep.

Cohen explained the various steps in construction for the construction of a new station. Site preparation for a station includes relocating underground utilities such as power lines, water lines, and sewers.

Once site preparation is completed, concrete decking is installed as a temporary street surface, which allows for traffic to drive over the station while excavation and construction goes on underneath. Once the station is completed, the concrete decking is removed, and the street is repaved.

The station entrance will be used for construction staging. The northwest corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Gale Drive will also be used for staging.

Community Relations Director Jody Litvak said full street closures on Wilshire would only occur when concrete decking is installed and at the end of the project when the street is repaved.

Litvak said the work would be done on weekends from Friday night to Monday morning. Litvak said Metro would work on traffic control plans.

The Metro stations will not include plans for parking, according to Litvak, though she said Metro may work with the city in the future to provide parking.

At the end of the meeting, Egerman proposed the government affairs committee make a motion.

The committee agreed to withhold a motion until discussed by city council on August 20.

By Andrea Aldana

How did you get involved with the Architectural Commission?

I volunteered my services to the city. I have two businesses but one of them happens to be design and I had [served] previously. I used to live in Santa Barbara and I was on the architectural board in Santa Barbara for six years and I thoroughly enjoyed it. When the opportunity came for Beverly Hills, I said, why not try? And I did.

Tell us about what type of projects go before the Architectural Commission.

The commission basically does the golden triangle and condominiums -- that is our purview. Our purview is to enhance the overall vision of the city. We're dealing with the impact of what people see when they see Beverly Hills.

What are your goals as commission chair?

My goals are the same as when I interviewed for this commission, which is that progress is always good. I believe in progress. Also, Beverly Hills is a small town and it is a village in essence. I felt we are starting to lose that and we need to bring back that "village feel." When I say village feel, it's the modulation of stores. When a new store comes to us and we have a chance to raise it or add detail to the store front so that it stands out, we will ask that of the applicant. Over time, we will start to individualize every one of these stores. We have owners who own big buildings and they just paint the façade and change the awning. We're asking them to raise it up a little higher or do something different so that a building becomes a building instead of just a painted façade on the building.

I would also like to change, if possible, or enhance and simplify the sign ordinance. The problem is that it's outdated and we at the commission have our hands tied when we are making decisions on buildings and the signs. Most of us sitting on the commission feel that the sign and the building are one and they should be part of the package to enhance the building. The sign ordinance as it stands now does not do that.

Can you give us an example of an issue you have not been able to address?

We would like to have the owners of the building create a sign program, so that there's some consistency with that store. We would like to have some sort of oversight to all of the signs that are going up in the city.

Right now, we don't have that.

You are an interior designer and you own an interior design firm, Blakeley-Bazeley LTD, here in the City. Tell us about that.

I've been doing it for 25 years. I have offices in Beverly Hills and Santa Barbara and I do high-end residential. I don't design. I remodel. I change the concepts of the space and most of my clients are high profile celebrities. I also have a film company -- following in my family's footsteps. We have a production company where we try to find money for other productions. We produce documentaries and TV shows and films, but our main source is funding money to people who cannot find money to create products.

What's the name of your film company?
B2MR.

How do you balance an interior design company with a film company?

In both of them, you have to deal with personalities, which is always the case. In the design business, I do the creativity and then I'll have my staff follow through with

"I enjoy that I am able to make [the city I'm living in] a better place for not only the people who live there but the people who visit. Then, everybody gets the benefit of a better looking city and the city gets the benefit of making more money. Everybody wins. I think if you love a city, you should give back to the city."

-- Architectural Commission Chair James Blakeley III

it. On the production end of it, I put the people together and I let my partner make the deal. Basically, I am the front man for both of them. I make deals and let people put them together and in the design business, I create the image and then I let people follow through with it.

Is there a style of design that you are known for?

I'm known for making whatever the space is better than the space was before. I don't have a look. I do everything under the sun from traditional to contemporary to Spanish. I try to make the space better than it is, but my favorite would be contemporary, but that's very hard to do. In a good contemporary house, everything has to flow. The eye should not stop anywhere and so it's very difficult and expensive to do contemporary right.

What about your film company?

We've only been in business a couple of years. We created two TV pilots that we are out trying to sell. We have a documentary that's coming out called Death Zone. It's about the melting of Mount Everest and we have another documentary coming out. It's in post production regarding a new energy source that is United States-invented that is very political at the moment called thorium.

You said you were following in your family's footsteps. In what way?

All of my family from aunts, uncles, cousins and godparents has been in the [motion] picture business. There are Oscars, Emmys, and a star on Hollywood Boulevard in the family. My uncle won the Oscar, my father won the Emmy, and my mother has the star.

How does your work as an interior designer help you as the Architectural Commission chair?

It allows me to look at balance and scale and the relationship of the stores to the rest of the stores on the street. I'm detail-oriented so I'm looking at the subtle details that they're asking us to look at as a commissioner and trying to enhance the building and make the building better for both the architect and the city. The main point is making the building the best building we can give the city. We're looking at it from a city standpoint. How can this building enhance the city?

What style of architecture would you like to see more of in the city?

It doesn't matter. I think a multitude of architecture in a city will enhance the cityscape and will enhance the village atmosphere and add more charm to the city than just having one look. I think if each individual store has its own identity then I think that enhances the vision for the city.

six years I was there, never overruled the commission. The commission was in charge of the beautification and the standard and the character of Santa Barbara. That is not the case here. We do the best we can. It didn't matter to the commission in Santa Barbara how long it took to get done. We were in charge of two projects when I was there that changed the face of the city. One was the airport and one was the new hospital complex. The hospital complex sat in front of our board for over two years until the board was happy with it. Granted, no one else was happy with it for taking two years, but that board was not going to allow that project to have a detriment to the city, so it sat for two years before it got approved. That's the difference between the two.

What has been your favorite project to work on since joining the commission?

I think my favorite project is one that is in the works right now. It's very, very contemporary. It's the one on Spalding and Wilshire. It's going to be very different for the city but what I liked about it was that the architect came back to us about eight times, each time tweaking it and changing it and wanting to get this building better than they originally had done it with our input. That process is what I liked about the project and I think that project, from where it came from to where it is, is an incredible project for the city. It's going to be a building that the City is going to be proud of. The City is going to be talked about, but it only got there because both the commission and the client kept changing it and that doesn't really happen. This building is going to be its own architectural gem. I think we can have those on Wilshire. I think it's really tough to put it in the golden triangle because it would dominate, but on Wilshire -- especially that end of the city -- I think it's important.

There are two buildings that we are very proud of as a commission. The other one is the parking garage to the Annenberg Center on Crescent. The architect brought it to us and it didn't look anything like it looks like now. Because [those two buildings] are two opposite buildings, one is a stand out and the one blends in, I think that shows the commission is trying to make the best that they can with the building for the city. It came to us nowhere near what that is, so we're very proud of the fact that we gave that to the city. We're not looking for a singular look. We're trying to make the space and building look best where it is.

What are some of the design features on the Wilshire and Spalding building that you particularly like?

Well, it started out looking a very Art Deco side of a ship, and that was alright. It is now going to be a whole building of a cube of glass. So, it went from a ship to a cube.

What is the commission working on right now?

We just approved a brand new store on the corner of Rodeo and Dayton Way: the Burberry building. They're coming back to Beverly Hills and it'll be a gorgeous store. It will be stunning. Those kinds of buildings are what the city needs.

What are some of the challenges faced by the commission?

The challenges are sometimes that the commission sees something that the architects don't see. We're trying to get that building to be better and sometimes they don't get it. It's hard for us to try to get them to understand that this is better for them and the city. That's one of our frustrations. The other frustration is that we see a building and we approve the building and then two months later we get nitpicked by the sign coming back. Then, we're approving the sign without remembering the building and so what happens is there's a little disorientation there between the sign and the building. Anytime you have a gap in between, your thought process is different. That's a big issue that we have.

What is your favorite part of serving on a commission?

I enjoy that I am able to make [the city I'm living in] a better place for not only the people who live there but the people who visit. Then, everybody gets the benefit of a better looking city and the city gets the benefit of making more money. Everybody wins. I think if you love a city, you should give back to the city.

chemicals, which were traced back to the address.

Sassafras or safrole oil is a precursor for MDMA. According to a DEA law official, it is unusual shipments would be sent to someone's house. Chemicals that may be sent for medical purposes would go to a business address, not a personal address, which alerted law enforcement officers of suspicious activity.

The weight of the packages was about 30 pounds. According to a report by Fox 11 news, one pound of sassafras oil can yield 1,500 MDMA pills.

Christopher Lansing, the homeowner's son, was arrested for possession and is currently out on bail.

The investigation is being carried out by the DEA. The Beverly Hills Police Department assisted the DEA in providing a patrol presence.

Proposed design at San Vicente and Wilshire Boulevards

Recreation and Parks Commission recommends Olympic boulevard as next gateway project

The Beverly Hills Recreation and Parks commission unanimously recommended that the next gateway project location be on Olympic Boulevard, next to Beverly High and that it would mirror the recently completed project on Wilshire and Whittier.

"Because the configuration is so similar to that of Wilshire and Whittier, there should be some consistency," said Vice Chair Howard Rosoff.

Steve Smith and Dean Howell, landscape architects with Gruen and Associates, presented the commission with ideas and options for two remaining locations that have been previously identified as "priority locations" for gateway improvements: Olympic Boulevard, adjacent to Beverly High and the intersection of Wilshire and San Vicente Boulevards.

The Olympic Boulevard intersection contains a narrow median that separates east and west bound traffic, which would allow for a similar configuration to that of Wilshire and Whittier, according to the staff report.

Gruen and Associates designed the gateway improvements at Wilshire and Whittier and have created designs for Santa Monica Boulevard and Doheny Drive.

Vice Chair Howard Rosoff made a motion that the gateway on Olympic Boulevard replicate the Wilshire and Whittier gateway project with raised signage so that surrounding landscaping does not overpower the gateway sign.

Commissioner Susan Gersh said she liked the idea of uniformity at the various gateway locations, but liked the idea of something "more spectacular" at the San Vicente and Wilshire gateway.

The commissioners also prioritized the signs, recommending work on the Olympic boulevard project be completed first.

Smith said that due to the tall buildings on the intersection of San Vicente and Wilshire, there was an opportunity to do something different at that location.

The area to be considered for improvement is an existing triangular island at the northwest intersection of Wilshire and San Vicente.

The commission recommended that the gateway at San Vicente include a tower between 36 and 40 feet which would be set upon a circular structure. The city's shield would be on the tower. The circular structure would also include twelve inch letters around the wall that reads, "City of Beverly Hills."

Rosoff said he would be against having the shield on both sides of the tower because he would not want people to think Beverly Hills continued past the city's limit.

Rosoff made a motion which was accepted unanimously that would recommend "Plan A," which includes the tower and the full circle at the base. The commission proposed that "City of Beverly Hills" lettering on both sides of the circle and whether or not the shield would be placed on both sides of the tower be left open to discussion. The recommendation proposed a tower height between 36 and 40 feet.

The commission's recommendations are expected to be presented to the City Council at a meeting on August 20.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF MERTON KUSMARK Case No. BP143432

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of MERTON

KUSMARK

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by County of Los Angeles Public Administrator in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that County of Los Angeles Public Administrator be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on August 23, 2013 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 9 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. ORDINANCE NO. 13-O-2643

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING SECTION 10-3-3107 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE REGARDING DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS FOR ROOFTOP USES.

WHEREAS, on March 14, 2013 the Planning Commission conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider a proposed amendment to the development standards for rooftop uses approved pursuant to a Development Plan Review as set forth in the Beverly Hills Municipal Code and recommended that the City Council approve the proposed amendment.

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2013, the City Council conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider proposed amendments to the development standards for rooftop uses approved pursuant to a Development Plan Review and introduced the Ordinance.

WHEREAS, the City Council hereby finds and concludes that the Amendment has been environmentally reviewed pursuant to the provisions of the California Environmental Quality Act (Public Resources Code Sections 21000, et seq. ("CEQA"), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000, et seq.), and the City's Local CEQA Guidelines (hereafter the "Guidelines"), and that the project is exempt from CEQA pursuant to the Class 5 Categorical Exemption (Section 15305 of the Guidelines) which exempts minor alterations in land use limitations from CEQA's requirements. The Class 5 exemption is applicable because the ordinance would not result in any changes in land use, density, or building height. Further, any approval of a Development Plan Review for rooftop uses is subject to discretionary review and analysis on a case-by-case basis by the Planning Commission.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Subsection A of Section 10-3-3107 (Rooftop Uses) of Article 31 of Chapter 3 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code is amended to read as follows with all other portions of Section 10-3-3107 remaining in effect without amendment:

"10-3-3107: ROOFTOP USES:

A. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary contained in this title, the planning commission may permit, pursuant to the development plan review procedure contained in this article and subject to the restrictions set forth in this subsection, development in the C-3, C-R, C-3A, and C-3B zones to exceed height, story and density limitations otherwise applicable to the development in order to permit the establishment of rooftop (i) gymnasiums, (ii) lunchrooms and structures or uses ancillary to such lunchrooms, and (iii) unenclosed architectural features that are not otherwise excluded from the definition of "height of building" in section 10-3-100 of this chapter, provided that as to any such rooftop structures or uses:

1. The planning commission makes the findings set forth in section 10-3-3104 of this chapter regarding the rooftop use.

2. The additional height above the maximum height limit otherwise applicable to the development will not exceed fifteen feet (15'). Furthermore, in no event shall the distance between the floor and ceiling of the gymnasium or lunchroom and structures or uses ancillary to such lunchroom exceed fifteen feet (15').

3. The total floor area of the development shall not exceed the maximum allowable floor area otherwise applicable to the development by more than three thousand five hundred (3,500) square feet or fifty percent (50%) of the total area of the story immediately below the rooftop use, whichever is less.

4. No food service, other than vending machines, shall be provided in connection with the rooftop use.

5. The subject structure provides not less than the minimum number of parking spaces required by this section as of the date when building permits for the structure were issued. In addition, two (2) parking spaces shall be provided for any rooftop gymnasium.

6. Unless authorized by the Planning Commission as part of the Development Plan Review, only persons who work in the building or are registered hotel guests will be permitted to use the rooftop facilities.

7. No admittance or use fees shall be charged for the use of the rooftop facilities.

8. The additional structure permitted pursuant to this article shall be set back from the property line or from the required setback line immediately adjacent thereto, whichever is the more restrictive, so that a forty five degree (45°) angle to such line is not intersected.

9. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection A8 of this section, unenclosed architectural features approved pursuant to this section may intersect a forty five degree (45°) angle to the vertical plane of the nearest outside wall if the Planning Commission finds that such features are architecturally compatible with the building and will not adversely impact the building's scale and massing. In addition, any other additional structure approved pursuant to this section may intersect a forty five degree (45°) angle to the vertical plane of the nearest outside wall provided that the exterior wall of the additional structure permitted is constructed in the same plane as the exterior wall of the floor below and the additional structure will not exceed the applicable maximum allowable height otherwise permitted by more than forty five inches (45").

10. Notwithstanding the provisions in the definition of "height of building" in section 10-3-100 of this chapter permitting certain elements to be located above maximum height limits, only those elements required by law to project above the roof deck shall be permitted to exceed the fifteen foot (15') height limit of the structure enclosing the rooftop use permitted hereby.

Section 2. The City Council hereby approves this Ordinance and authorizes the Mayor to execute the Ordinance on behalf of the City.

Section 3. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City within fifteen (15) days after its passage in accordance with Section 36933 of the Government Code, shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and shall cause this Ordinance and his certification, together with proof of publication, to be entered in the Book of Ordinances of the Council of this City."

Section 4. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall go into effect and be in full force and effect at 12:01 a.m. on the thirty-first (31st) day after its passage.

Don't sell your life insurance policy until you know the rules!

ALAN
AGENCY

Most people over the age of 70, who want to sell their old insurance policies for more than their cash surrender value, are not getting the most money from their assets.

AVOID RISKS OF INSURANCE FINANCING STRATEGIES

Others, who expect to create “something from nothing”, participate in insurance financing plans without having full knowledge of the chances they are taking. You can avoid these risks by becoming informed of established procedures and you won't make costly mistakes.

Alan Kaye Insurance Agency is a leader in the field of insurance and estate planning with over 40 years of experience. We work with most of the major life insurance companies and have access to their resources to be able to provide the latest in planning strategies.

THREE ESSENTIAL RULES THAT CAN PREVENT YOU FROM MAKING COSTLY DECISIONS

- Provide full and accurate descriptions of all offers relating to the sale of your policy.
- Acquire at least five offers from unrelated insurance purchasing companies.
- Complete background checks on potential purchasers to make sure they are financially and commercially acceptable firms to do business with.

ARE YOU COMPLETING A LIFE INSURANCE SETTLEMENT OR JUST SETTLING?

What kind of insurance professional is helping you sell your old life insurance policy? Are you dealing with a life settlement specialist? Are you represented by a licensed professional with E&O Insurance that covers life settlements? Has your agent explained the risks involved in financing your life insurance?

Call us today to find out what your insurance is really worth and we will help you decide whether to sell, surrender, keep or replace your old insurance policy.
