City employees to receive raises

The City Council approved the Fire Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) last December, setting into motion pay hikes across a four-year period for the employees represented by the Beverly Hills Firefighters' Association (BHFA).

Citing issues like the "sustainability of local government," Vice Mayor John Mirisch voted against the contract.

At Tuesday's meeting, the Council approved Memoranda of Understanding for the city's six non-safety employee associations with a 4-1 vote. Mirisch once again dissented.

"I think that salaries in general are a little bit too high compared to the private sector," Mirisch said. "As egregious as it might be, we're doing nothing to address the issue of unfunded liabilities and pensions."

The $6.9-million package was presented by the city's Human Resources department, with Assistant Director of Administrative Services/HR Shelley Ovrom in the audience.

The memoranda, which expired last September, have four-year life spans.

percent, three percent and three percent will be implemented from October 2016 to October 2018.

The Safety Support Association's 86 employees will gain a nearly identical set of increases, except for that the third one equals two-and-a-half percent, bringing the total to $1.18 million.

Safety Support Association employees include traffic control officers, detective specialists, parking enforcement dispatchers and fire inspectors.

The Management and Professional Employees' Association, comprised of 86 employees, including the deputy city clerk, principal planner and water resources manager, would receive pay increases of two percent, two-and-one-quarter percent, two-and-one-half percent and three percent.

The 31 employees covered by the Supervisors' Association will get pay hikes of two percent, two-and-a-half percent and three-and-one-quarter percent, as well as the retroactive increase of two percent applied in October 2015.

City clerk specialists and executive assistants are among the 13 classifications represented by the Confidential Employees' Association. The group's 24 members will earn increases of two percent, two-and-a-half percent and three percent. The retroactive hike of 2.625 percent covers a negotiated two-percent Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) and a .625-percent base salary adjustment.

Beverly Vista to add two "U-10" soccer fields

The Board of Education greenlit the bid process for the expansion of the Beverly Vista playfield at their meeting last week, a project that will add two U-10 soccer fields to the existing space.

"Soccer fields will now envelop almost three quarters of the [playground]," Superintendent Steve Kessler said.

In addition to BHUSD students, the expanded green space will benefit members of youth organizations like AYSO.

"The school playgrounds have an important role in our ability to put kids on fields," said AYSO Regional Commissioner Michael Karon.

The soccer organization has agreed to fund a significant portion of the $750,000 undertaking, but has not yet finalized the amount.

An abbreviation for "under 10," U-10 refers to the age group that can play on the field. The maximum field size for U-10 games is 80 by 40 yards.

"We haven't nailed down the exact dimensions, but there's a range," Karon said.

Under the Joint Powers Agreement (JPA), the city monitors access to district turf, allowing programs like AYSO to use the fields over the weekends, and occasionally during the weeks, in exchange for a fee.

Karon said the fee is relatively new and was implemented in the past "10 years or so."

Plans for the expanded playfield were submitted to the Division of the State Architecture (DSA) last week.

"We're limited in terms of our ability to accommodate all the kids who want to play organized sports, and so when there's an opportunity to create more space for the kids in the city, we want to undertake those opportunities," Karon said.

Tree cutting scandal focus of town hall meeting

Last November's controversial tree removal left two parcels on Civic Center Drive stripped of vegetation, angering many residents who questioned whether city staff had followed proper protocol.

At a town hall meeting held by the Beverly Hills North Homeowners Association January 27, former Mayor Robert K. Tanenbaum led a discussion

BHHS	Varsity	Boys'	Basketball	schedule

Date	Start Time	Opponent(s)	Place

Feb. 9	7:30 pm	Santa Monica High School	Away about the incident and potential next steps the city could take.

"A lot of people have called me about the episode that occurred on November 21 and 22," Tanenbaum said. "I told the City Council, when we were making an inquiry into the matter, that I would conduct an investigation and reveal the facts to them as we learned them after investigating the matter."

Tanenbaum believes Beverly Hills Land Company owner Lyn Konheim, who directed the tree removal, should grant the parcels to the city. The "George Konheim Family Plot" would function as a public park. The land is currently zoned for transportation use.

Assistant City Attorney Carol Lynch presented a summary of her own investigation earlier this year. But many residents, Tanenbaum included, objected to Lynch's coverage.

"[The Assistant] City Attorney's alleged report was not a comprehensive fact-finding report and the conclusions were simply not addressing the factual wrongdoing that occurred," Tanenbaum said.

Tanenbaum believes the city should hire an expert in criminal investigation "or work with some people in the community who have had that kind of experience." He also called for an "advisory committee" comprised of residents.

On Tuesday, Mayor Julian Gold announced that each councilmember will be appointing two people to a committee that will include Vice Mayor John Mirisch and Gold.

Konheim's attorney George Mihlsten did not return calls from the Weekly.

View restoration proceeding sheds light on problems with ordinance

For the first time in nearly five years, the Planning Commission deliberated a view restoration proceeding at their meeting last week.

Branden Williams, who resides at 1023 Hillcrest Road, submitted the application.

"I did reach out to my neighbor several times to no avail," Williams said.

Adopted by the City Council in December 2011, the Trousdale View Restoration Ordinance is intended to encourage Trousdale residents to quickly resolve issues relating to the restoration of views that have been disrupted by foliage growth on neighboring properties. A public hearing is considered a last resort.

"It seems to me that there should be a way to resolve this with some city involvement sooner," former Mayor Linda Briskman said.

Williams said he first requested that his neighbor trim the view-obstructing trees in 2012, and even offered to pay for the process. The "foliage owner" resides at 1017 Hillcrest Road.

Homes in the hillside area are subject to a 14-foot height limit, while trees and vegetation can grow up to 15 feet.

Pending the Commission's "findings and decisions," a conclusion will not be reached until the committee's next regularly scheduled meeting in February.

Council supports creation of minimum wage increase ordinance

The City Council reopened the discussion on minimum wage requirements at Tuesday's meeting, after expressing lukewarm support for the initiative at a hearing late last year.

Completed by 70 businesses, an eightquestion survey conducted by the Chamber of Commerce in September 2014 painted a community that needs convincing.

"Many restaurants have expressed skepticism," said Chamber of Commerce Economic Development and Government Affairs Director Andy Sywak last November.

Following a request by the Council, the Chamber rebolstered their efforts and sought input from a larger slice of the business community.

Sywak presented the results of the third survey, which was completed by 170 respondents, earlier this week.

Sixty-one percent of respondents said the wage increase would "greatly impact" benefit their business's profitability. The city's parking operations contract could increase from $325,000 to $375,000 annually if the current minimum wage of $10 per hour climbs to $15.

A chart prepared by the City's Finance Department last year showed an increase to $15/hour would add $114,445 to the city budget across a five-year period.

The Council directed staff to return with a proposed ordinance to raise the minimum wage and to incorporate provisions addressing wage theft.

Earlier this year, the City of Santa Monica passed the first reading of a bill that will bring the minimum wage to $15 by 2020.

BHBA barristers present free legal clinic Feb. 6

The Beverly Hills Bar Association (BHBA) barristers will host their next free legal aid clinic on February 6 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Roxbury Park's Elm room. Volunteer attorneys will answer basic legal questions about consumer law, landlord-tenant law, small claims, business disputes and other legal issues.

The community-service program takes place the first Saturday of every month, excluding holiday weekends. Additional clinics are scheduled for March 5 and April 2.

Council defers decision on second portal

Metro has already secured the Ace Gallery site at 9340 Wilshire Boulevard as the future Wilshire/Rodeo station entrance, but at Tuesday's meeting, the City Council deliberated options for a second portal.

The Council deferred making a decision on the project, with Mayor Julian Gold saying it was "way too much money."

A working group that included city staff members reported on their assessment of the three locations. Construction expenses range from $24 to $33 million (see chart below). Real estate acquisition costs could bring the totals to $50 million, Gold pointed out.

"I don't think we should pay another dime for another portal," said Vice Mayor John Mirisch.

A station at the Montage Hotel site on North Beverly Dive offers the potential for locating the portal off the public rightof-way. The possibility of having a cityowned parking garage near the site was

Proposed portal location	Construction cost*
200 N. Beverly Drive (Montage Hotel)	$30 - $33 million
9401 Wilshire Boulevard (Ervin Cohen & Jessup building)	$24 - $27 million
9383 – 9399 Wilshire Boulevard (New Pacific – Canon Staging Area)	$25 - $28 million

Source: City Council Feb. 2 staff report *does not include real estate acquisition determined another benefit.

But the drawbacks of that location seem to outweigh its advantages. The plan has not received backing from Montage ownership, and the project would require retrofitting the Montage Hotel and parking structure, a costly endeavor.

Another option presented to the Council was having the second portal at 9401 Wilshire Boulevard, the site of the Ervin Cohen & Jessup building.

Though the most cost efficient of the three, the project would negatively impact neighboring businesses. The undertaking could also require pricey seismic upgrades to the existing structure.

The last option considered by the Council was the New Pacific Canon Staging Area on 9383 – 9399 Wilshire Boulevard, which has no underground structure impacts. However, it is the furthest east and would require a 10-foot tunnel.

"Bring it back when you have some options," Gold said.

Wallis education programs promote anti-bullying, raise awareness about autism

The Miracle Project, a performing arts nonprofit for all abilities and disabilities, is partnering with the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts to present two education programs: the Intimidation Game and the Miracle Project Live!

Launched earlier this year, the collaboration offers fully inclusive performing arts workshops that culminate in public performances at the Wallis in May.

"The Wallis is dedicated to including and celebrating people of all abilities and disabilities on our stages, in our classrooms and in our audiences," said Director of Education Mark Slavkin in a statement.

The Intimidation Game brings together 14 young adults with and without autism and other disabilities to perform an original anti-bullying musical. The program members meet every Tuesday from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm at the Wallis to workshop, stage and rehearse the performance. Ten students were selected to participate in the first session of the Miracle Project Live! The eight-week session began January 19 and continues through March 14. A second session of the Miracle Project Live! starts March 29 and continues through May 17. For audition information regarding the second session and the benefit performance email ryan@ themiracleproject.org.

coverstory A CIVIL CITY

Newly appointed Human Relations Commission Chair Karen Popovich Levyn on the importance of civility

By Mina Riazi

You formerly served on the Recreation & Parks Commission. Compare and contrast the two experiences.

I was chair of the Recreation & Parks Commission from 2001 to 2002. The correlation between the Human Relations Commission and the Recreation & Parks Commission is that they both listen to the concerns of the community. The Recreation & Parks Commission concentrates more on the recreational and cultural programs and events throughout the city, while the Human Relation Commission's main emphasis is to promote positive human relations in all aspects of the Beverly Hills community. The big emphasis is the highlighted word "civility." I have enjoyed my past commission and I'm now enjoying this new commission; it gives me an opportunity to create positive change within the city.

What sparked your interest in local politics?

[It was] really based on my family and community commitment. My son Adam's education was the real reason the move to Beverly Hills occurred 30 years ago. Upon arrival, I became involved in the Beverly Hills community. I've done that through education, firstly, by serving on many boards, including the Beverly Hills Education Foundation. So it kind of started through that. This past December my son Adam and his wife Heidi had their first daughter, Larkin Eleanor Levyn. Larkin is my first grandchild, so I thought that this is a time to get involved again because the importance of the future of Beverly Hills is now in the forefront for me.

Tell us about some of the Beverly Hills campaigns you managed, such as former Mayor Jimmy Delshad and former Board member Myra Demeter's.

I've kind of been an active public relations advisor. I developed an interest for that and I felt I could help in that arena, so I decided to go forth with it and I've been very successful with Beverly Hills city campaigns and school election campaigns. I really have a strong affection for the city and school elections, so I thought it would be great to be an active participant. I try to promote the very best of the best for our city and that has been the inspiration to be involved in these campaigns. I was an active participant in the campaigns for Myra Demeter, [former Board member] John Millan and Jimmy Delshad. In an interview with the Weekly in issue #801, former Commission Chair Ori Blumenfeld said, "I think it's going to take educating the residents, as well as the business owners and the employees, to teach them that aggressive panhandling needs to stop." In the past year, how has the Commission tackled this issue?

The Beverly Hills Ambassador "pilot" Program is a one-year program and we have a service company called Block By Block to enhance the quality of life that the city is really known for. There are 12 ambassadors and they work in the Golden Triangle. They have been very visible in helping connect individuals with their social needs and reaching out the homeless with the help from the homeless outreach team. I think the residents are very receptive to them. There is a phone number that you can call if you have any feedback. It has been a great program and we're hoping that our commission will see this through as a program that is permanent in Beverly Hills. We also just had our last count from the Beverly Hills homeless, so you should stay tuned because I think we're going to have very good results to come. One of our major goals this year is to have the word "pilot" removed and the ambassador program [become a] program within the city.

I went to the mayor's commission meting and he brought up that the mayors of the various cities got together and that President [Barack Obama] mentioned that veteran homelessness is a priority, so I think it will be brought to the Commission's attention as well. We do have some wonderful programs, including the homeless outreach team, that help individuals connect to their social needs. We will probably be looking into this more deeply now that it seems to have caught the nation's attention as a whole. My dad, by the way, is a veteran, and he's 96, so I have a personal interest in this as well.

How do you respond to people who question the Human Relations Commission's relevance?

I think our civility statement really says it all—it emphasizes diversity, and if you look at the news today, everybody is really bringing up the importance of diversity in a community. I think the Human Relations Commission is at the forefront of all this. The commission was started to support and respect responsible actions and to be very civil to each other. I think it's very relevant. In fact, we have an Embrace Civility Award that we give out every year and we have a statement on the ballot—a positive civil behavior statement—that's noted on the election ballot and we're looking at that this year to see if it should be modified or changed or if it's still ok, because you can see in elections [that] it's very important to be civil in giving your own opinion. So I think our commission is becoming very relevant now.

Tell us about your family.

I have a son, Adam Levyn, and a daughter, Stacy, who [both] attended El Rodeo and Beverly High. When I bought my home, I was very far from El Rodeo, so we had to carpool, but it was wonderful that we lived two blocks from the high school and they were able to walk. My daughter went to the University of Southern California and my son went to Princeton and then worked in New York in finance and then went to Stanford where he met his wife Heidi. He was gone for about 10 years and then he returned [to Beverly Hills]. My daughter is here as well—she works for a company in Century City in marketing-so I'm very fortunate to have my family about. Her husband Ricardo is an attorney. And now with my new granddaughter-who's very close, too- I'm looking forward to her time in the public schools.

Tell us about your job as a specialized academic instructor at El Rincon Elementary in Culver City.

I received a master's degree in education from USC. At the time, I received a credential for general elementary and early childhood and then I decided to specialize in the early student, so I went on to get those credentials. I then taught for 11 years in Orange County and I wrote a federal grant to show the need to educate early in the preschool years of a special needs student and to have them mainstreamed into general education when they were five years old. I did that for 11 years and was very successful. In fact, today that really is the idea—to have special needs students in the least restricted environment and mainstreamed into general education in their area of strength. I took a little break because I had my children, but I did substitute in Beverly Hills. I then decided to go back. I had a job at a middle school in Culver City, so that was quite a change, but I enjoyed it. Later on I moved to the elementary level, so I've come full circle, because now I do the preschool and kindergarten-age students—it's a combination classroom. It's been a career that's been very positive for me and I enjoy education youth.

What's your top priority as Human Relations Commission Chair?

It's very difficult to pick one top priority because our agenda is so full this year. We're going to continue with the tenant/ landlord public forum and we're restructuring the program to meet the needs of the community; we're going to be meeting with our liaison about this. My next [priority] is the 2016-2017 Community Assistance Grant Funding. It's another one of our commission's charges and it will be our second year [doing] the project, so we have modified the structure to be more receptive to the community. I'm hoping that in April we'll make funding recommendations to the Council. The other one is the pilot ambassador program, which will hopefully become a permanent program within our city. I feel it serves a great need for our community and we hope to have the program continued on a permanent basis this year. The one that really is surfacing that I would like to bring forward more is the embrace civility. This year I hope it will be expanded to different aspects of our daily life and it will [help] enhance our Human Relations Commission meetings by having the civility statement read at the beginning of each meeting and perhaps at the beginning of all commission meetings. In addition, I would like to recommend that it be permanently posted on the wall of the commission for all to view. It's a quick reminder of the importance of promoting positive human interaction. I'm looking forward to a productive year.

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale.
