Planning Commission OKs ancillary use for Pet Food Express, under conditions

Ancillary uses in commercial zones shaped the discussion at the June 23rd Planning Commission meeting, amid deliberation of a request by Pet Food Express for a "pet wellness center" that would require amendments to the municipal code.

An ancillary use is defined as a secondary use directly associated with and supporting a principally permitted retail or office use. Retail establishments with ancillary uses are becoming more common as businesses try to create in-store experiences for customers.

COMMERCE

"If the secondary use starts having unpredicted impacts beyond what the owner even hopes it would have, is there some way the city could step in?" Commissioner Craig Corman said.

The Commission backed the draft ordinance under the condition that they have the authority to prohibit the ancillary use if they determine it has "unforeseen material adverse impacts on the community."

Commission Chair Alan Robert Block advocated for, "Some type of provision that in the limited case that there was a problem, that we would have some control." Block said he did not want the "subservient" use to become the "dominant" one.

The draft ordinance implements a process through which an applicant can request to establish an ancillary use, as long as it takes up less than 20 percent of the building's floor area and does not require the addition of building space.

Commissioner Lori Greene Gordon pointed out that athletic retailer lulule-mon's Beverly Hills store hosts weekly yoga classes, which constitute as an ancillary use and may not comply with the current municipal code.

Located at the former Vendome site on Olympic Boulevard, Pet Food Express was represented at the meeting by Senior Construction Manager Carol Horn Davis.

according to Transparent California.

Public Information Manager Therese Kosterman said the city does not discuss personnel matters publicly due to the numerous issues involved in the employee-employer relationship.

Former Public Works Director George Chavez was named Assistant City Manager in January as part of a reorganization of senior management when new City Manager Mahdi Aluzri took over.

Assistant Director of Administrative Services/HR Shelley Ovrom did not return a call to the Weekly by press time.

BHUSD budget projected to hit negatives by 2018; salary formula to blame?

On Tuesday, the Board of Education approved the 2016-17 adopted budget, which projects a net decrease of $2.8 million in the fund balance.

Among the heftiest expenditures are certificated salaries, which will constitute $29.94 million of the 2016-17 budget, a .7% increase from the previous school year.

In recent months, certain Board members have indicated that the salary formula developed by former Board member Brian Goldberg is financially unstable.

"With new ongoing costs in Salary and Benefits, the General Fund Ending Balance continues to diminish," reads the report drafted by Superintendent Steve Kessler, Chief Administrative Officer La Tanya Kirk-Carter and Fiscal Services Director Angeli Villaflor. "By 2018-19, a contribution from the special reserve fund 17 is necessary to avoid a negative fund balance."

The formula for salary increases continues every year into the future but is suspended in years when BHUSD teachers are the highest paid in Los Angeles County.

Board supports bringing Ambassador Program to El Rodeo

At their meeting Tuesday, the Board of Education supported an El Rodeo security plan that entails implementing an Ambassador Program at the school for 38 weeks approximated at $48,000.

"I think that Block by Block might be a reasonable solution to what is a general desire for more security," said Board Vice President Mel Spitz. "I suspect that it's not going to satisfy those parents and other people on the site council who want an armed guard – that's what they always talk about, an armed guard."

Security program Block by Block, currently used by the cities of Beverly Hills, Santa Monica and West Hollywood, deploys ambassadors that provide "safety and hospitality ambassador services."

The school ambassador's duties include patrolling the areas around the school and checking to ensure all fences are properly locked and secured.

Earlier this year, the Board identified as a priority an initiative drafted by El Rodeo site council to tighten security at the K-8 school. The original project was estimated at $400,000 and involved hiring a School Resource Officer (SRO) and implementing a "security badge" system.

Student Services Director Chris Hertz did not support the council's recommendation that the district add 25 radios to the portable classrooms at El Rodeo.

El Rodeo Principal Kevin Allen was on summer vacation and could not be reached for comment.

Beverly High grad files lawsuit against Starbucks

Attorney Justin Farahi has filed a class action lawsuit against Starbucks for allegedly "stealing money from everyday Joes just trying to get a cup of Joe."

The 2003 Beverly High grad claims the coffeehouse chain has been stealing money from consumers by falsely advertising the volume of its beverages.

"[Starbucks is] advertising 16 ounces of coffee over ice-not 16 ounces of beverage including ice." Farahi "If said. you order a hot coffee, you're getting 16 ounces of if coffee:

you order an iced coffee, you're getting 10 ounces of coffee and what is equivalent to six ounces of ice."

According to Farahi, Starbucks has consolidated his case with suits in New York,

180 sign petition to "take down" Beverly High security fence

A Change.org petition started June 22 by Galaxia Miller to "take down the security fence at Beverly High" had been signed by 180 people as of Wednesday morning.

"I personally, as well as other students, feel that putting up a fence will decrease the quality of life at Beverly High and possibly make it a toxic environment, if it wasn't already," Miller wrote on the petition page.

On June 16, the Board of Education unanimously approved plans for an interim fence that will run the full length of Moreno Drive, all the way down to the Swim Gym. The enclosure, estimated to cost $225,000, will remain in place until modernization work at Beverly High is complete.

Superintendent Steve Kessler announced in an email Monday that construction at the high school is officially underway.

"To ensure the safety of our students and staff a temporary construction fence is currently being installed on the front lawn area as well as on Heath Avenue," Kessler wrote. "This is the temporary construction fencing that is part of the demolition and abatement work. This fencing will be in place through the entire modernization process of buildings B1/B2/B3. These include the classrooms in the math patio, both floors of the main building and the KL Peters auditorium."

A permanent fence will replace the temporary one after modernization work is completed in summer 2018. The Board of Education is expected to vote on the design of the permanent enclosure, estimated to cost around $2 million, at a future study session.

Read about the petition on change.org/p/bhusd-take-down-the-fence-at-bhhs. Miller was unable to be reached for comment.

Lawn Bowling Green appears on Rec & Parks agenda

An item on Tuesday's Recreation & Parks Commission meeting agenda pertained to proceedings for inclusion onto the Local Register of Historic Properties for the Lawn Bowling Green Roxbury Memorial Park.

h e Commission firmly opposed the initiative in May.

"It's one of the most ludicrous ideas heard a long time-we're going to designate a square of grass," said Commissioner Howard Rosoff. "I watched the video: [Cultural Heritage] Commissioner [Noah] Furie made the point that there had been a clubhouse there, which perhaps architecturally would be worthy of some merit or recognition, but that's long since gone."

The stretch of green dates back to 1929. Though once the site of a community clubhouse that boasted famous members like Walt Disney, the Lawn Bowling Green has since been vacated.

Designation would limit the city's ability to add a skate park or a second dog park, Commissioner Simone Friedman pointed

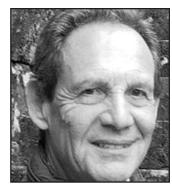

"I, too, have great concerns and I'm completely in agreement with the other two commissioners," said Vice Chair Susan Gersh.

Conversely, the Cultural Heritage Commission voted unanimously May 18 to recommend the space for possible landmark designation, pending a historical analvsis by consultant Jan Ostashay.

"We're always looking at architecture and always looking these at things that can

really see, but I think it's also important for us to look at some of the cultural heritage, and we're lucky enough that this is a civic property," Furie said in May.

But the Recreation & Parks Commission remained steadfast in its opposition.

"We're going to commemorate a square of grass, which makes absolutely no sense to me," Rosoff said.

who make an impact on society. They will carry on in the tradition of alumni such as the great Billie Jean King," referring to the legendary tennis star.

Gross has a family tie to Cal State LA. His mother Betty received an undergraduate degree from the university and he would accompany her to the campus.

Gross was Syracuse University's athletic director from 2005 to 2015 when he resigned following an NCAA investigation that revealed rules violations by university's men's basketball team.

Gross then became a Syracuse University vice president and special assistant to the chancellor and an adjunct professor in the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics.

Mayor John Mirisch on attending the 84th Annual U.S. Conference of Mayors

"I think the common

theme was that cities

are where things get

done"

-Mayor John Mirisch

By Mina Riazi

You recently attended the 84th Annual U.S. Conference of Mayors in Indianapolis. How was this meeting different from others you've attended?

The issues are specifically different, there are some common themes—local control and that sort of thing-but it's always a good chance to hear what the experiences are of other cities and maybe to get some ideas from them.

Who were some of the mayors you met?

I ran into or spoke with or saw [New York City Mayor] Bill de Blasio, Mayor

[Marty] Walsh from Boston and Mayor [Eric] Garcetti from Los Angeles, [as well as mayors from smaller cities, [like] Findlay, Ohio [Mayor Lydia Mihalik] or middle-sized cities, such as Alexandria, Virginia [Mayor Allison Silberberg]. It really ran the gamut—it was mayors from most of the country. We face some common challenges, [but] I think the common theme was that cities are where things get done. This is something the federal government should consider [when] making policy, is that we actually in cities get things done-sometimes in stark contrast to the federal government. We discussed everything from infrastructure to water-anything you can imagine. There were a number of resolutions passed, including a resolution we sponsored which passed unanimously to integrate autonomous vehicle technology into public transportation. It's a resolution to encourage the integration of autonomous vehicle technology into public transportation, which mirrors the program we are trying to develop

What were the highlights?

Hilary Clinton talked, Gary Johnson

spoke, but I think the highlight — aside from getting our resolution passed, which is really going to advance the cause of the democratization of public transportation through autonomous vehicles—was getting a chance to meet the Dalai Lama. He was on a panel along with Lady Gaga and Philip Anschutz, so that was definitely, for me, the personal highlight of it. Another highlight was obviously getting the award on behalf of our city and not just resting on our laurels, but advancing the cause of public transportation and getting a resolution passed.

Tell us about the City Livability Award Beverly Hills received.

We got a prestigious award for our Ambassador Program. A lot of mayors came up to me afterwards and complimented us on that and said they were going to try and get information because they felt a similar program could work in their respective city.

U.S. Conference of Mayors CEO and Executive Director Tom Cochran, City of Baltimore Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake, Corporate Director of the Public Sector at Waste Management and City Livability Award sponsor Susan Molten, Mayor John Mirisch and Oklahoma City Mayor Mitt Cornett.

OW SUPPORT FOR NEW BOND, POLL SHOWS

Survey indicates community has "trust issues"

By Mina Riazi

A survey conducted by Godbe Research in May to assess potential voter support for a new BHUSD bond measure depicts a public that needs convincing.

"Given the survey findings and the softness in the final support, it's clear that this measure faces an uphill battle," said Godbe Research President Bryan Godbe at a Board of Education study session Tuesday.

Data was collected from May 4 to May 17 via online and phone interviews, the latter lasting 20 minutes. Among the questions 301 likely November 2016 voters were asked was whether they have a "favorable or unfavorable opinion of the doing to provide a quality education students." Roughly 57 percent responded "very" or "somewhat" favorable, a onepercent drop from 2014 poll results.

Informed support for the bond stands at 51.2 percent. When asked by Board member Lisa Korbatov whether the number is normal, Godbe responded that the majority of their clients surpass the 55-percent mark.

"There's clearly some indication from the survey that there are potential challenges for passing a bond measure," said Charles Heath, Partner at campaign consulting firm TBWB Strategies

Roughly 33 percent of participants responded either "somewhat unfavorable" or "very unfavorable" when asked their opinion of the job the "district is doing to effectively manage and spend taxpayer dollars and public funds."

"We learned from the poll that there are some concerns in the community > about management and management of past bond dollars," Heath said.

When respondents were read arguments against the bond, 37.1 percent said they "much were likely" more to vote against it based on the statement: "The district wasted the money from the 2008 Measure E campaign."

Factoring in a margin of error of 5.59 percent, the starting point for support could dip as low as 46 percent.

"There are some trust issues, there are some concerns about management," Heath said. "Usually we see a lot more stability in terms of overall support."

In order to be placed on the November 8th ballot, the bond measure needs backing from four Board members.

If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Marvin Karp be appointed as personal representative to adminis-ter the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent

Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an inter-ested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 29, 2016 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 9 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contin-

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the Califor-nia Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250.
