"Beverly Hills City Council Election"

Voters receive guides and slate mailers listing which candidates to vote for, from organizations bearing legitimate sounding names like California Voter Guide, Senior Advocate, Citizens for Good Government, Democratic Voting Center Guide, Republican Voting Center Guide, Coalition for Senior Citizen Security, Council of Concerned Woman Voters—and so on. Voters reasonably assume that intelligent people within such organizations have scrutinized all of the candidates and have determined that the listed candidates are the ones who are worthy of our votes.

Little do voters realize that these voter guides and slate mailers are simply advertisements by candidates willing to pay to be "slated" together to attempt to win an election, and do not reflect informed endorsements by legitimate organizations.

Is such misleading advertising fair and ethical? And can we trust candidates who pay to be listed in such guides?

Campaign filings for candidate expenditures posted at our city's website demonstrate that three city council candidates spent thousands of dollars for listings in such misleading voter guides and slates: one spent over $12K; one spent about $5K, and one spent $3K.

Also, several of these voter guide organizations bearing different names originate from the very same address at 22410 Hawthorne Boulevard, Suite 5, Torrance, CA, 90505.

To top it off two Democrat city council candidates endorsed by the pro-over-development PAC-like Board of the West Hollywood/BeverlyHills Democratic Club, paid to be on a Republican voter guide slate, so Republican voters would assume that the Democrat city council candidates were Republicans.

It is indeed disappointing that a number of candidates feel they cannot win fair and square on their own merits, and have found it necessary to misrepresent themselves in one manner or another.

Planning Commission Sends Back Hillel Project

The Planning Commission sent back a proposed project involving the renovation and expansion of Harkham Hillel Hebrew Academy, located at 9120 Olympic Boulevard at their May 26 meeting.

Harkham Hillel Hebrew Academy is a private school for early childhood through eighth grade, with enrollment that ranges from 516 to 721 students. About 25% of students are from Beverly Hills with the remaining being from the City of Los Angeles, according to the applicant.

The campus is currently composed of two buildings, generally identified as the Oakhurst building and the Doheny building on the northern portion of the project site along Olympic Boulevard with a partially subterranean parking structure located on the southern portion of the project site and accessed through South Doheny Drive.

The project primarily focuses on the southern portion of the site where a new gym and classroom building was proposed adjacent to South Oakhurst Drive and an addition to the existing Doheny building is proposed along South Doheny Drive

The overall project includes 44 total classrooms and would have provided 45 parking spaces within the existing parking area.

At their April 26 meeting the Planning Commission meeting approved a motion to bring back a resolution for conditional approval. Direction was given to develop project-specific conditions that would minimize potential impacts to the neighboring residents. The scope of the project-specific conditions directed by the Commission, includes:

Capping enrollment at 650 students; limiting the use of the rooftop to the hours of 7:30 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. Monday-Friday and one weekend day per month (for the months of April, May, and June the outdoor game court may be used for one weekend day per month between the hours of 7:30 a.m. -8:00 p.m.); requiring sound absorbent and/ or turf material on the rooftop; prohibiting the use of amplified sound on the rooftop; prohibiting the use of stadium-style lighting on the rooftop; requiring a right-only turn restriction for vehicles exiting the drive aisle onto South Oakhurst Drive; requiring a dedicated staff transportation coordinator; requiring the applicant prepare a pick-up and dropoff plan that includes provisions for a minimum number of students in each vehicle; requiring a staggered pick-up and drop-off schedule; and limiting the types of outdoor activities within the outdoor play areas.

At the May 26 meeting many public comments expressed concerns regarding the existing vehicle queueing currently experienced on Olympic Boulevard, a portion of which may be attributable to the existing pick-up and drop-off configuration in front of the school on South Doheny Drive, which can only accommodate three vehicles at a time.

PTA Luncheon Held

The PTA held its annual luncheon on May 20 at Fogo de Chão

After conducting the public hearing the majority of the Commissioners believed that the conditions needed to be more detailed and stricter.

"I cannot support this. I cannot make the findings that the proposed plan would not create any significant adverse traffic impacts, traffic safety hazards, pedestrian-vehicle conflicts, or pedestrian safety hazards. I have noted my objections to the double row of drop off as a safety issue. I have also made other suggestions in terms

Re-Elect John Mirisch

Beverly Hills City Council | Vote June 7

John Mirisch recognizes that local government, when done right, is the best form of democracy. One-size-fits-all mandates from Sacramento politicians may be great for their corporate donors but they are not right for Beverly Hills.

More decisions – not fewer – should be made closer to home.

Beverly Hills is our Home, and Home is a sacred place.

"There are only 200 people in BH who seem to be everywhere and make their voices heard. John Mirisch represents the other 35,000 residents."

-- BH Planning Commissioner Peter Ostroff

They say "You can't fight City Hall."
Well, you shouldn't have to fight City Hall.
John is running for re-election because residents deserve proven leadership and an independent voice.

He would be honored to have your support on June 7th.

of optimal things I think would work better. I object to an enrollment cap of 650. I think that is too high and I would suggest that whoever does support this does bring it down to 600. At this point I agree that we would need more information to ensure that it is a safe and good project," Commissioner Myra Demeter said.

The Commission directed the applicant to come back with a revised traffic and parking plan and enrollment numbers. Rather than capping enrolment at 650 students, the Commission agreed that the number should be decreased to 600.

"I think we need more detail in the resolution. I also believe that there is an immediate need to address the parking issue and I don't want to wait until the project is completed. I think if the school is in good faith when they say they encourage carpooling and they encourage biking they should demonstrate that this time and implement immediately as a condition a detailed car pooling plan and a detailed staggered schedule plan. I visited the site earlier this week and I was sobered by the amount of traffic that backs up from Doheny all the way to between Palm and Maple. I was quite troubled by it and that is why I see an immediate need," Commissioner Gary Ross said.

The Commission will revisit the project at their June 23 meeting.

Board Weighs in on RFP Results

The Board of Education has received seven proposals for Bond Management Services for its ongoing construction program. The Board did not receive a proposal from Don Blake's Team Concept Development Services (TCDS), which has been fraught with controversy.

After the departure of the previous Bond Manager, Totem, the Board approved the contract for Blake in 2017 with no bidding process, upon the advice of BHUSD counsel Terry Tao.

"The [Board of Education] is very pleased that we received such a positive response to our RFP and we will now move quickly to the vetting process. We are committed to transparency and accountability and completing our program in a timely fashion," Board President Mary Wells said.

The firms that sent proposals were: Telacu Construction Management, Cumming, Fonder-Salari, Inc, CBRE Heery, Inc, Paragon Engineering & Management, Rachlin Partners, and Anser Advisory.

A five year contract for Bond Management Services between the BHUSD and Don Blake's Team Concept Development Services, Inc (TCDS) had been listed on the Board of Education agenda twice without approval, ultimately resulting in the Board issuing an RFP.

Voters passed Measure E in 2008, issuing $334 million, and Measure BH in 2018 for another $385 million in bonds. The bonds were intended to provide funding for the modernization of BHUSD facilities.

The construction program is currently behind schedule with some projects no longer expected to come to fruition. In Blake's Oct. 21, 2021 study session presentation he reported that the program is at a shortfall of $129 million. He later dropped that number down to a $69 million shortfall.

While closing El Rodeo School entirely for reconstruction in 2019 was supposed to expedite its completionand save money, the opposite actually proved to be true: the new campus is now not scheduled to open until late 2024, two years later than promised.

The Board will interview the applicants and intends to move quickly through the process to make a final decision.

Blake's contract expires on July 17, which is when the new bond manager will take over.

Board member Gabriel Halimi said although he is in favor of permits, he has some questions and concerns. Halimi said that as a former permit recipient himself, he resented that he had to start school a few days later than everyone else because the District had to see whether or not there was room for him.

"I started behind. I was really anxious and uncomfortable with whether Hawthrone and later the high school was going to have room for me and accept me. I don't think that's fair for the students and the family. So we have to decide if we let even one kid in for next year, are we making a firm

Board Vice President Noah Margo suggested that there be a cap on enrollment. He also questioned if the permits would deter people from moving into the City.

Board member Rachelle Marcus has also been in favor of permits but said that although she thought there would be more interest in the middle school, she said those kids could eventually trickle up to the middle school and high school.

"I'm in favor of it and would like to see the financial impacts, but I am not disturbed by what I've been hearing so far," Marcus said.

The Board will continue this discussion at a future study session.

PLANNING COMMISSION EXPECTED TO CONDITIONALLY APPROVE CHEVAL BLANC

"I believe that in moving this project

forward we are good of Beverly Hills. We will be bringing to this City a beautiful

artifact"

-Vice Chair Thomas Hudnut

By Danielle Berjikian

The Planning Commission unanimously approved a motion to bring back a resolution that recommends to the City Council to conditionally approve the Cheval Blanc project, a proposed luxury hotel with restaurants, a private club, and street-level retail uses with North Rodeo Drive, at their May 26 meeting.

The project site is located at 456 and 468 advancing the greater North Rodeo Drive.

The Planning Commission held public hearings regarding the Cheval Blanc Project on Feb. 10 and 24. Public comments were received and the Commission provided comments and direction at the two hearings. At the conclusion of the Feb. 24 meeting, the Commission continued the Project hearing to March 24. The City received a request from the Applicant to continue the hearing to a date uncertain so that they could have more time to study options to address the issues raised at the hearings.

The commission had many concerns regarding the operation of the motor court and whether the number of vehicles would result in excessive delays for vehicles exiting the motor court, par> ticularly during the evening peak period. The concerns were: whether the resultant delays could cause vehicle back-ups within on-site circulation and potentially spilling onto South Santa Monica Boulevard; and whether the amount of traffic exiting the motor court during busy afternoon traffic on South Santa Monica Boulevard would negatively affect roadway operation.

The main goal of the project changes was to reduce the number of vehicles exiting the motor court during the p.m. peak hour by the equivalent of providing a down ramp to subterranean parking within the motor court.

To reduce the number of vehicles using the motor court the Applicant revised the Project to remove retail customer trips from the motor court and reduce restaurant customer trips using the Project's motor court. This results in 148 vehicles exiting in the p.m.peak hour, which is a 37% reduction from the previous version of the Project.

Many comments made at the Feb. 24 meeting were devoted to the operation of the relocated alley. Three Rodeo Drive merchants submitted a joint correspondence to the Planning Commission requesting that the Commission and the Council consider reversing the direction of travel on the alley to resolve their concerns regarding the effect on their businesses. The commission recommended the Applicant and the group of Rodeo Drive merchants with alley concerns should engage in good faith negotiations to resolve the outstanding issues.

"We only ask that the concerns about the reconfiguration and operations of the public alley be addressed to everyone's satisfaction, not just the applicant," Hermès Managing director Samantha Peterson said.

The commission did not feel it was appropriate to address the concerns regarding the alley because they believed that should be handled by the Transportation Division. The issues regarding the alley will be reviewed by the Traffic and Parking Commission. However, it is ultimately up to the City Council to formally approve the reversal of the alley.

"It's not every day that we are going to approve a nine-story building. But it's not every day that we have a proposal like this that offers so many benefits to the community. And it's not that we are overlooking the fact that it's a tall building, which it is in our context. But the benefits in my view outweigh whatever perceived detriments there may be from that or the fact that it's a larger building. But I think this offers a great deal," Commissioner Peter Ostroff said.

The project is expected to move forward to the City Council for final approval.

"I believe that in moving this project forward we are advancing the greater good of Beverly Hills. We will be bringing to this City a beautiful artifact. I do not think people are going to be obsessed with the height of the hotel. The massing of it is such that it will not appear to be grand. What it will appear to be is beautifully articulated, wonderfully rendered work of art that will be a feature of the northeast end of the business triangle for a long time. I believe that the financial benefits that will contribute to the City and the types of the people who will find their way back to Beverly Hills as a result of this hotel being here will more than justify the time and effort that so many people have put into it over the years," Vice Chair Thomas Hudnut said.

as national and international companies, enabling audiences to experience a broad range of dance styles throughout The Wallis season. Dance @ The Wallis is among 1,125 projects across America approved to jointly receive more than $26.6 million in support during a second round of Grants for Arts Projects funding in fiscal year 2022.

"The National Endowment for the Arts is proud to support arts and cultural organizations throughout the nation with these grants, including The Wallis, providing opportunities for all of us to live artful lives. The arts contribute to our individual well-being, the well-being of our communities, and to our local economies. The arts are also crucial to helping us make sense of our circumstances from different perspectives as we emerge from the pandemic and plan for a shared new normal informed by our examined experience," NEA Chair Maria Rosario Jackson, said.

This is the fifth time Dance @ The Wallis has received an NEA grant.

"The Wallis is honored to receive this grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. Consistent NEA support over the past five years has helped enable The Wallis to establish itself as an indispensable home for dance in Los Angeles. In particular, The Wallis is dedicated to ensuring that Los Angeles-based dance companies have a local, state-of-the-art space in which to present their craft. The breadth of the stage in our 500-seat Bram Goldsmith Theater allows dancers to do their best work while also connecting with audiences in an intimate space. The NEA's consistent investment in The Wallis cannot be underestimated, especially while we're all recovering from the global pandemic. To continue nurturing dance - in its myriad styles – in Los Angeles at the highest level, it's critical we remain in a position to support local artists consistently from year to year. The grant also underscores The Wallis' longstanding commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and access to curating our programming and numerous education programs tied to it, which serve thousands of students and adults annually," Rachel Fine, The Wallis' Executive Director and CEO said.

Theatre 40 to Present "The Metromaniacs"

Theatre 40 will be presenting "The Metromaniacs" on July 21-Aug. 21. Thursdays through Saturdays at 8:00 p.m., Sunday matinees at 2:00 p.m.

Metromaniacs aren't people who are crazy about subways. They are people who are nuts about poetry, i.e. verse composed in meter. David Ives' play "The Metromaniacs" is an English language adaptation of a French farce from 1738, "La Metromaie", and it is set in Paris in that year, a moment when there was a particular craze for poetry. Ives' play is performed in English, in rhyming couplets.

Would-be poet Damis has fallen in love with the works of a mysterious Breton poetess, not knowing that she is really Francalou, a middle-aged gentleman. Meanwhile, Damis's non-literary friend Dorante has fallen in love with Francalou's daughter, Lucille, who mistakes her new suitor for her favorite poet—Damis. Add to the chaos some scheming servants, pseudonyms, and disguises, and there is much to untangle before love plots are resolved and a happy ending found. With his sparkling wit and brilliant sense of comedic timing, David Ives brings a new shine to this lost

PERSONAL INJURY LAWYERS

Uber

Uber & Lyft Accident Experts

[&]quot;I was in an accident while in an Uber and looked everywhere for an Uber accident attorney. A lot of the companies I called couldn't help with that kind of thing. I was at the end of my rope when I found Compass Law Group but not only were they able to represent me but they are so good at what they do. These lawyers did not stop until I got the result I deserved and for that I'm forever grateful!"

quests that Larry J. Dressler be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 5, 2022 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 44 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a con tingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) tingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250.
