My name is Niklas, and I come from Germany. I have written this letter because I'm looking for a host family in Los Angeles. [For the past] five years, I have dreamed to attend a high school for 10-12 months, and I saved all the money I will need. Right now, I am writing an application to a reliable company, specialized in organizing a high school year. But there is a problem which could prevent my plan for the school year. It can be a

Kobor Denied Appeal to Change Wilshire/Robertson Project to Medical Use

A nearly eight-hour city council meeting Tuesday ended in 2-3 vote denying the appeal made by developers of the 8767 Wilshire Blvd. project to change the land use from general office to medical. Both Mayor Nancy Krasne and Vice Mayor Jimmy Delshad voted in favor of the appeal.

Ben Reznik, attorney for the developer, the Kobor Family Trust, brought a new offer to the table — and denied allegations of using a “bait and switch” tactic — in response to concerns about the elimination of the original plan’s 51 public parking spaces, a much-needed amenity to a parking-stricken area.

The Kobors, who claim they are unable to obtain bank financing without medical-use, would provide more than 60 public parking spaces and free validated parking for patrons. One hour of parking for $1 for all other visitors will be available for five years, after which it would be largely converted to market rates. Construction is under way, and the Kobors say the project will not be completed if a loan is not secured.

But the offer would not mitigate the negative impacts to traffic and residents in the area, Councilmember John Mirisch said. And the nearly 30 residents who approached the dais to speak to the council agreed.

“I don’t feel the new offer that’s on the table of limited free parking outweighs the negative impacts of the project that will be detrimental to the residents of the area,” Mirisch said. “I don’t think one resident here said that they’re going to enjoy their properties more if we approve medical. In fact, we’ve heard the exact opposite. So this isn’t just about parking.”

Mirisch said the decision can’t be based solely on the findings of a traffic engineer, who found there would be no significant impact on traffic according to informal CEQA standards, and suggested that it was up to the council to make their own determinations by using their best judgment. A study prepared by the applicant’s traffic engineer found that the proposed medical use would catapult the number of daily trips from 1,321 to 2,970.

Common sense, Mirisch said, needs to be factored in.

“By tripling the number of trips [generated from the portion of the project that would have been converted from office to medical], there would be significant adverse impacts,” Mirisch said. “We need to think long term. We need to consider the long-term effect of development on residents. We need to protect everything that makes our community unique. The residential quality of life is the defining characteristic of Beverly Hills.”

Krasne addressed rumors of a personal relationship with the Kobors and denied any affiliation.

“If anybody can prove to the contrary, that’s $50,000 to the best charity they can think of,” she said. “I have never seen them at my home for dinner, nor have I been to theirs.”

Krasne, an adamant parking proponent, was brought to tears as she explained her position.

“I thought about the community first,” Krasne said. “The entire community: residents, merchants, visitors, everyone. That would include the ability to have the first public-private parking structure, in an area where this city doesn’t even have the possibility of ever building a parking structure; that really meant something. I promised it from the day I first ran for office; it was a super priority for me. We desperately need a parking structure in the Robertson-Wilshire area and to get one for 30 minutes free and the next half hour for $1 is precedent setting. And I’m very emotional about it so I’m going to do something that’s really foolish and politically wrong and throw away a vote. I’m going to vote to approve this project.”

Krasne said she believes medical buildings belong in the Wilshire-Robertson area.

“Many of the other medical buildings that are placed on the corners of residential streets are placed incorrectly,” she said. “That was previously poor planning on the part of the city. This building is on commercial north to south and east to west boulevards. There is no residential on either street as the cars pass by. Streets like LaPeer, William, Doheny, Beverly Drive, Roxbury, Bedford, Camden, Maple, Rexford and more all have homes. Only Robertson and La Cienega don’t. The planning commission may have it right, but maybe too late.”

The request to change the project’s land use rose out of the current economic circumstances, which make medical-use offices more marketable than general office use. City National Bank refused to finance the project based on its original plans of a 75,116 square foot, four-story commercial building with four levels of parking. The bank agreed to renegotiate the loan if the developers incorporated space for medical use.

Amendments included 54,900 square feet of medical use, 4,696 square feet of general office area, 2,000 square feet of restaurant/sundry shop area, 1,116 square feet of pharmacy uses and 12,404 square feet of retail uses.

The amendment request can only be granted, per the Beverly Hills Municipal Code, if findings are affirmatively made in five areas: the proposed plan is consistent with the general plan; it will not adversely affect existing and anticipated development in the vicinity and will promote harmonious development of the area; the nature, configuration, location, density, height and manner of operation of the building will not significantly and adversely interfere with the use and enjoyment of residential properties in the vicinity; the proposed plan will not create any significantly adverse traffic or pedestrian impacts; and the proposed plan will not be detrimental to the public health, safety or general welfare.

"We're only supposed to consider these five points and nothing else," Mirisch said. "In making these findings, we are not supposed to consider the economic situation of either the city or the applicant; in fact, the economic situation of the applicant is the entire reason for the appeal."

Through the push and pull of Tuesday's hearing — including a heated argument between Southwest Homeowners Association President Ken Goldman and the mayor — one of the overarching questions was whether the city should allow banks to determine its land-use policy.

"I had the opportunity of doing a public private parking partnership, the first ever in the entire history of the city, that provides free parking for anyone in the city," Krasne said. "There was no loss of any public parking spaces. One of my first promises was for parking. So even though my vote was a throw-away vote, last night, I had the first good night's sleep that I've had in three weeks because I had the privilege of getting to vote my conscience. And I would do it again."

Meshkaty's Lawyers Threaten the Weekly; Weekly Stands by its Story

Former Board of Education member Nooshin Meshkaty's lawyers have sent the Weekly a demand for retraction on its recent coverage involving the Beverly High grade-change scandal. (see below)

Josh Gross

"What's really going on here is a candidate who was defeated at the ballot box is using legal intimidation to try to justify her record and behavior," Beverly Hills Weekly Publisher Josh Gross said. "The Weekly stands behind its story and also the newsworthy nature of the incident involved."

In a related matter, the Beverly Hills Education Association is considering legal action against BHUSD over the same issue.

"BHEA will defend our member's right to issue a final grade free from coercion and undue pressure," BHEA President Chris Bushee said. "So we are exploring all of our legal options to best represent our member and the teaching profession."

Bushee said the California Teachers

Association was notified of the incident when it surfaced last November, and is assisting BHEA with the investigation. He added that a teacher may discuss information about a student either within the school community or anonymously without identifying the student.

"Confidentiality of student records can only be breached for personally identifiable information," Bushee said. "BHEA has not released personally identifiable information."

Jim Ewert, legal counsel for the California Newspaper Publishers Association, said pushing the invasion of privacy allegations and taking the matter to court may make more information public, including any documents or paperwork related to the grade-changing incident, as well as testimony from school officials.

"I don't think [the invasion of privacy claim] is going to stand up," Ewert said. "For court proceedings, you'll have the ability to subpoena. I'm not sure [Meshkaty] wants to go there because if she goes there, it might be far worse for her than if she just lets the issue drop. Because everything is discoverable. And if that's what she wants to do, then that's fine."

Ewert said if the matter is taken to court, public disclosure of all information pertaining to the case will not only be allowed, but protected.

If the case proceeds to trial, additional information may come to light, which will elaborate on the story.

"It's my personal opinion that Councilmember Barry Brucker may be financing Meshkaty's lawsuit, in whole or in part," Gross said. "The depositions will give us a chance to find that out once and for all."

No lawsuit has been filed as of press time.

"Barry Brucker failed in his attempt to put the Weekly out of business last year," Gross said. "But he won't give up until Beverly Hills is a one-newspaper town run by him and [Courier Publisher] Clif Smith."

Aardappel Death Ruled a Suicide, Coroner Says

The death of El Rodeo choral teacher Will Aardappel has been ruled a suicide due to suffocation from the use of a helium tank, according to Assistant Chief of Investigation Ed Winter from the Los Angeles County Coroner's Office.

Aardappel was found by his brother Tuesday, Dec. 15 at around 8 p.m., said Winter, about five days after El Rodeo Principal Pat Escalante was notified by the Sheriff's Department that Aardappel was being investigated for an alleged inappropriate relationship with a minor outside BHUSD.

DEMAND FOR CORRECTION/RETRACTION AND NOTICE OF INVASION OF PRIVACY

Dear Mr. Gross:

This office is litigation counsel for Camyar Meshkaty ("Mr. Meshkaty") and Nooshin Meshkaty ("Mrs. Meshkaty").

We write demanding that you immediately retract your false, libelous, defamatory, and extremely damaging statements regarding Mr. Meshkaty and Mrs. Meshkaty. We also place you on notice that you have committed the privacy torts of publication of private facts and intrusion.

The following articles contain false statements that damage the reputation and career of Mr. and Mrs. Meshkaty. The false statements are reflected in bold.

Meshkaty Pressured Administrator to Change Grade; Investigation Under Way, Union Says

A Board of Education member allegedly pressured a Beverly High administration to change her son's grade without the teacher's knowledge or consent, according to a Beverly Hills Education Association consensus newsletter released Wednesday. Although the newsletter does not name the Board member or the student, Weekly sources have confirmed current Board of Education President Nooshin Meshkaty pressured a high school administrator to change her son's 'D' grade in a chemistry course to an 'incomplete.' Meshkaty's son is a Beverly High senior.

Meshkaty allegedly told the recently hired teacher more than once that an 'A' or 'B' was the only acceptable grade for the student. According to the Consensus (bhea.org/news.htm), the student turned in homework assignments during the 2008-09 school year with different handwriting styles. The teacher brought the incident to the attention of high school administrators, who concluded that the different handwriting was caused by the variation of the student's fast and slow writing paces. The administration did not discipline the student. The student also brought a copy of the teacher's edition of the textbook to class. On a different occasion, the teacher notified the administration of yet another cheating incident involving the student. Administrators ultimately concluded that there was insufficient evidence to warrant discipline.

In the same school year, Meshkaty told the teacher she would protest the teacher's handling of her son's cheating incident to administrators, who further advocated on behalf of Meshkaty by asking the teacher in June 2009 to accept several missing assignments.

The teacher issued the final 'D' grade in that same month, and was recently alerted of the grade change after asking the student why he still had an 'incomplete' from the prior school year.

Last Friday, the high school administration told the teacher that someone had accessed the computer system to change the grade. The administration informed the teacher later that day that the grade would be changed back to a 'D.'

Mrs. Meshkaty never made the statement you have attributed to her. We note there is no source attributed for this statement. This false statement was reiterated in Issue 538. Further, Mrs. Meshkaty never pressured any administrator to change any grade.

Issue 538

Beverly High Grade-Change Scandal Continues

As first reported in the Weekly [Issue 529], Meshkaty reportedly told the recently-hired teacher more than once that an 'A' or 'B' was the only acceptable grade for her son.

Under the laws of California these false statements constitute defamation per se and are in violation of California Civil Code §45a and 46.

In addition, the privacy rights of Mr. Meshkaty are violated by information revealed both publications. You write about his confidential school records, including that there had been false accusations that he had cheated and about a low grade he was given. Consequently, the publication constitutes the torts of publication of private facts and intrusion. The information is obviously private. See, e.g., California Education Code §§ 49076, 56515; 20 U.S.C.A §1232g.

when oxygen intake is replaced with the gas using a mask, according to The American Journal of Forensic Medicine and Pathology.

This new information quells rumors surrounding the incident of an accidental death.

"I don't know of anything new other than what was reported in your paper, so I won't comment," Escalante said.

Not Liking LAUSD Not Grounds for Appeal, Former LACOE Board Member Says

Parents of the 203 opportunity permit students may be disappointed if they turn to the Los Angeles County Office of Education for an appeal to BHUSD's phase-out decision.

Using race, socioeconomics or the quality of education as reasons why out-of-district students should be allowed to attend Beverly Hills schools will not cut it, said former County Board of Education member Maria Casillas.

Maria Casillas

"It has to be a significant issue [such as] childcare or work," Casillas said. "Like if the parent works early in the morning [in Beverly Hills]."

Casillas, who last served on the board in 2007, said the Los Angeles Unified School District may also be reluctant to release opportunity permit students — who are mostly from white, upper-middle class families — because keeping them in their schools would help LAUSD, which is not a basic-aid district, and its schools.

The contributions out-of-district parents have made to BHUSD can be refocused onto LAUSD schools, and greatly improve the quality of education, Casillas said.

Casillas added that she sympathizes for students whose education will be disrupted in the phase out and for parents who want to protect their children, but it is important for students to attend integrated schools.

"That's what it's like in the real world," she said. "I don't see [the board] letting all 200 [students back into BHUSD]."

Criteria for granting appeals is weighed equally by the County Board of Education, said Casillas. Education continuity, for example, is not emphasized more than financial impacts to the district.

Casillas said the board will look at each case with the overarching question of whether there will be substantial harm to the students if they stay in their home district.

Celebration of New L.A. Charter School

New Los Angeles Charter School, a public middle school, opened its doors last fall, and will be celebrating the school's successful first year — with an Academic Performance Index score of 830 — Thursday, Feb. 25 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Clearwater Studios in Los Angeles.

Matt Albert

New L.A. was founded by Beverly High Class of 1990 graduate Matt Albert, who began developing plans for the school nearly four years ago, and is currently working on relocating the school to its permanent home on 5301 Washington Blvd.

"It's a small school, with a focused mission, great teachers and committed students and parents," said Albert, who served as both the school's principal and executive director last year due to funding issues. This year, he is the school's executive director.

New L.A. Charter School ranked sixth in highest test scores of the 107 middle schools in the Los Angeles Unified School District.

"I'm really proud," Albert said. "It takes a lot of work from a lot of different people, so it really was a community effort. There's no public middle school basically between Highland and Overland so the families in this neighborhood really deserve a good public option, and what we've done is create a small school, which I think is key."

Albert is asking for donations of $100 to attend the celebratory event, which will include food and drinks, to go toward the school's relocation costs.

"One of the main areas of focus for the school is to find a new site," Albert said. "The district does not provide charter schools with facilities. We've rented space in a church, but we're working on renovating a warehouse space that we're hoping will be open in September."

Albert has worked in education for the past 15 years. He has served as the director of admissions and recruitment at Hebrew Union College, taught graduate level courses on child and adolescent development, and has been published in academic journals. Albert spent nine years working at Milken Community High School as a teacher, dean of students, director of student life and, most recently, as assistant principal.

Members of the New L.A. Board of Directors include Board Chair Joseph Miller, Dr. Zoe Blumberg Corwin, Catherine

Your "reporting" of this young man is cruel and humiliating and has damaged his reputation. In addition to suffering emotionally, your tortuous conduct has affected him physically, including causing him to lose weight and suffer headaches. The damages are on-going because the publication is on the Internet. Mr. Meshkaty is currently applying for college admission and this information prejudices those applications and his ability to secure teacher recommendations.

The Beverly Hills Weekly's sources for much of the recent coverage concerning Mr. Meshkaty appears to be the teacher's union newsletter, The Consensus, and its author, union president Christopher Bushee, who is also a teacher at Beverly Hills High School. Mr. Bushee has blatantly and intentionally violated state and federal educational law by disclosing confidential pupil information concerning a student's grades and the details of the administrative procedures pertaining thereto. That is not an excuse for the Weekly to itself engage in tortious conduct.

The past issues of the Beverly Hills Weekly and The Consensus evidence a concerted effort to deprive Mr. Meshkaty his rights of privacy in his student records and to invade his privacy and that of his family, and to falsely accuse them of dishonest behavior and impugn their integrity in the community.

The conduct appears to be an orchestrated, intentional and unwavering effort to inflict emotional harm and distress among the Meshkaty family. For example, issues #521 and #524 of the Beverly Hills Weekly ran front-page articles alleging that the Meshkaty family did not actually live in Beverly Hills at the time that they enrolled their daughter at El Rodeo School in 1991, thus accusing them of having committed residency fraud. These allegations were patently false, and we are informed that the Beverly Hills Weekly was so informed by the owner of Monterey Plaza Apartments. Consequently, you intentionally damaged the reputations of the Meshkaty parents and their daughter.

Demand is made for a retraction and correction of the aforesaid false statements according to California Civil Code §48a. You must publish a retraction, a correction, and an apology in writing and in equivalent size and placement to the defamatory articles within the time set by law. You remain liable for the invasions of privacy notwithstanding any correction/retraction. Further publication of these defamatory statements and further invasions of privacy will certainly subject you to punitive damages.

Finally, we demand that you retain all memoranda, notes, and all other evidence pertaining to these matters as required by statutory and common law, including all emails, editorial vetting, notes, and source material relating to the foregoing, including all electronic files. Otherwise, you will also be liable for spoliation of evidence.

Award Show Benefits

And insider reports

By Rudy Cole

Every few years, the city embarks on some creative scheme to promote our “name” and most often that translates into hiring some new expert to advise us on how to increase visitors to our hotels, restaurants and stores.

Really knowledgeable veterans in this effort understand, as did a former marketing committee, including Fred Hayman, Richard Rosenzweig and Ali Kasikci, that as a brand, Beverly Hills is one of the best known cities in the world.

Their committee understood: Not name recognition alone, but what new, innovative reasons can we give people for making this a destination for pleasure and business, aside from Rodeo Drive, great hotels and restaurants, and hoping to spot Faith Hill at a beauty salon? The answer wasn't that complicated: Events, entertainment and a guide that makes moving around our village exciting. (When the Annenberg opens, that will be a major resource, as is the Paley Center.)

In the meantime, we do have a self-promoting tool that fills our restaurants and hotels every year and gives us incredible exposure all over the world.

They are called award shows.

One of the most important for our community is the Golden Globes, held annually at the Beverly Hilton. No other yearly activity comes close to the benefits this provides.

The hotels are booked, the restaurants turn away patrons and shoppers head for our retailers. Nearly 1,400 guests attend the awards/dinner in the International Ballroom. However, it is not the ceremony alone: every dining space in the hotel is filled to capacity for six event parties. Even the hotels ancillary services such as the Aqua Star Spa and Midway Platinum Car Rental attracts patrons.

The Beverly Hilton also is the venue for the Academy Award nominations press conference with more worldwide news coverage, and when the Grammys arrive, although held outside Beverly Hills, more parties. One of the best of these is the Clive Davis and the recording academy pre-Grammy bash at the hotel.

Yes, this brings big tax dollars to the city. So, a special nod to the Beverly Hilton and their highly professional staff for actually accomplishing what a small army of consultants is still trying to reinvent.

Side note: Soon, we hope to again have a float in the Rose Parade. The theme picked will be important as will the sense of community involvement this provides. We gave Councilmember John Mirisch credit for bringing back this fine tool for promoting our name: it has been decades since we participated. He has the support of the whole council, including Barry Brucker. (We neglected to list him last week; my mistake.)

Speaking of editorial mistakes, the late Washington syndicated gossip columnist, Drew Pearson, who managed to anger both major parties and even some hardly even on the ballot, once had a “scoop” on some highly inflammatory news about President Harry Truman.

Pearson began the story with, “I predict this will be denied by the White House.” When it was, he wrote: “As predicted here last week, President Truman denied my story.”

Although I had no denials from Eli Broad about abandoning Beverly Hills as a possible venue for his proposed museum and foundation headquarters, which I reported last week, we did learn from inside sources that the estimated city costs of bringing his project to Beverly Hills would be in excess of fifty million dollars! (Emphasis added)

We would, I am sure, welcome a world-class art museum to our community, but at the moment, we are struggling to find the funds needed to improve our decaying park systems and especially ways of financing urgently needed improvements of the community center at Roxbury Park.

The prestigious Weissman modern art collection, which we once hoped would find a home at Greystone, was not completed, at least in part because Fred Weissman was offended by a comment in a March Schwartz Courier editorial: “I never like art when the paint is not yet dry.”

Still, great to see the ever cheerful March at city events and at his corner table at Spago's. Wife Linda manages to always surround him with other beautiful women. Now I doubt if Josette is ready for that chore.

Used to think March was too politically conservative, but compared to the recent editorials in the paper he sold, he comes off like a rustic liberal. Or did you miss the one about Obama being a “Socialist?” Incidentally, where are the angry letters to that paper for using political labels? We had many for our use of “ultra conservative” and the only explanation is that probably nobody reads that other paper. I do; it's my inspiration.

Councilmember Dr. Willie Brien popped a good question at Tuesday's council study session: What can the city do to regulate tour buses? This has vexed the city for years. Do they really bring shoppers? Are they too intrusive in residential areas? Do they cause major traffic problems everywhere?

With council approval, the issue was sent to the Parking and Traffic Commission for study. First, restaurants and retailers will testify that these buses seldom bring any business to the city. The one exception is probably Crustacean, a stop for one of the operators. But they are a hazard to traffic, they are often noisy and pollutant irritants in residential, mostly in the north and they cry for regulation.

Previous efforts to control them have run into problems because they are mostly regulated by the state and/or county. However, we have a very able and supportive assemblyman to ask for help: Mike Feuer. When the commission brings this back to the council, we might want to have a council meeting with Feuer. Not a ban, but some city rules make great sense.

Recently we inexplicably lost an important household tool. The little bar that holds toilet paper in place. I had no idea if this even had a name and less hope of finding a replacement.

Wrong. Pioneer Hardware's able staff knew exactly what I meant and quickly guided me to a shelf that contained not just one brand, but several options.

With some 55,000 inventory items, this one of a kind Beverly Hills store on North Crescent is fun to visit. Now, I discovered they can also send a repair person to fix your computer, and they have a host of “handy people” to save you from every crisis, including a faucet leak.

Do you know of an unusual service store? Drop me an e-mail, and we'll let our readers know.

And speaking of “leaks,” the water and not the news kind, the city has been flooded, pun very much intended, with distress calls about water bills. Apparently, they are not all that easy to understand.

Whether your water bill has escalated because of a leak or the other billing items are confusing, there is a city telephone number that can bring prompt relief: 310.285.2436. We tried, and a very courteous and competent city staffer provided instant information.

New City Manager Jeff Kolin made his first official appearance at Tuesday's afternoon and evening council meetings, and was welcomed by Mayor Nancy Krasne and her council colleagues.

Kolin jumped right in on a host of issues and seems to have come prepared.

The transition reminds me of what then mayor Mark Egerman said when he introduced another new city manager:

“We say good bye to the world's best city manger, Mark Scott, and now welcome the next manager who will now become the world's best.” He was referring to Rod Wood who left last week.

Wood was truly outstanding, and will be missed. First impressions: Kolin seems to be a good fit. Just some minor challenges such as how to keep services at the high levels we demand while revenues continue their uncertainty mode.

Somewhere under the radar is a proposed hotel expansion just beginning the planning process.

The project, and it is very ambitious, would create a five or six floor hotel inside a residential (condo) development on what is now the Beverly Terrace Motel at Doheny and Santa Monica Boulevards, just inside city boundaries.

The Beverly Terrace, which once provided an extra long bed for guest Kareem Abdul Jabbar, and has an excellent restaurant, will now aim for five-star status with 90 rooms and a sixty-seat new restaurant. The proponents have acquired considerable adjacent property. There is certain to be a name change too.

Other land use issues returning for another try will be a revised condo project next to Saks and the perennial Lexus expansion plan at Elm and Wilshire.

It is a fine feel-good experience to recognize special achievements at council meetings, but just maybe they could be scheduled more efficiently.

Tuesday, the city honored some wonderful young student athletes, in fact many teams and many players. However, it was on a night when other important issues were on the agenda. As a result, many church leaders were kept waiting until almost 2 a.m. for a hearing on their parking problems.

Either start the meetings earlier or schedule for meetings with light agendas.

Tuesday's long wait was not fair, even for councilmembers. Still, fun to see the kids in their uniforms and learn about their team efforts.

Rudy Cole served for eight years as a member and chair of the city's Recreation & Parks Commission. He was also President of the Greystone Foundation and served on three other city committees. Rudy can be reached at: Rudy@bhweekly.com.

BHHS Boys' Soccer Team Ends Scoring Drought

Norman girls' soccer team routs Inglewood.

By Steven Herbert

Parsa Peykar scored in each half as Beverly High ended a 469-minute scoreless streak over six games with a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles Milken Saturday night in a non-league boys' soccer game at Nickoll Field.

Peykar opened the scoring in the 20th minute off Jonas Brock's assist. The Wildcats tied the score in the 52nd minute, but the Normans (7-8-4) took the lead for good two minutes later when Nick Marmureanu headed in a corner kick from Mariano Gonzalez for his first goal of the season.

Peykar scored his fourth goal of the season in the 72nd minute. Brock scored on a penalty kick five minutes later for his third goal.

Beverly Hills led in shots 19-4. Norman goalkeeper Matt Davidov made three saves.

"We played very, very well," Normans coach Steve Rappaport said. "The thing that was the key for us is all that pressure we've been feeling because we haven't been able to finish, we finally scored one and it just gave us the confidence to put the ball in the back of the net."

Gonzales "probably" played his best game of the season, "controlling the flow of the game in the midfield, something we've been struggling with," Rappaport said.

Brock, the team's sweeper, and defender Willy Woods "both had really, really good games," said Rappaport, who also praised the play of forward Josh Newman, defender Shaya Noorian, Peykar and defender Spencer Weissberg.

"We've really been playing very well, but we've been in a terrible streak," Rappaport said.

Beverly Hills 0, Culver City 0

The Normans "missed three absolute balls we should have scored" Jan. 27 in an Ocean League game at Culver City, Rappaport said.

"We were wide open in front of the net and we have to just push the ball in and we couldn't do it," Rappaport said.

Beverly Hills led in shots 22-7. Davidov made seven saves for his fourth shutout of the season.

Brock, defender Caio Carvalho, Noorian and Woods drew praise from Rappaport.

Inglewood 1, Beverly Hills 0

The Normans allowed a goal in the 12th minute of an Ocean League game Friday at Inglewood and were shut out for the fourth consecutive game, despite leading in shots, 9-5.

"It was a microcosm of five games in a row — controlling the game, dominating it, and not taking advantage of our opportunities," Rappaport said.

Davidov made three saves and Brock one.

What's Next?

The Normans are scheduled to play host to Santa Monica Friday at 6 p.m. at Nickoll Field and play at Morningside Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in Ocean League games.

Girls' Soccer

Beverly Hills 1, Santa Monica 1

The injury-depleted Normans took a 1-0 lead in the 60th minute as freshman midfielder Kaela Reisfelt scored off Solange Levy's corner kick for her first goal, but freshman midfielder Lindsay Levesque scored for the Vikings 14 minutes later in an Ocean League game at Nickoll Field Jan. 20.

Beverly Hills freshman forward Ashley Aviram "was inches away from scoring in overtime when her point blank shot hit the post and went wide," Normans coach Ryan Franks said.

Beverly Hills led in shots, 11-7. Norman goalkeeper Ida Trevino made six saves.

Aviram, Levy and Reisfelt drew praise for their play from Franks.

The game marked the first time in five years Beverly Hills was able to avoid losing to Santa Monica, Franks said.

Beverly Hills starting defenders Nicole Star, Melody Termehchi and Mashar Zargar were all unable to play because of injuries, Franks said.

Beverly Hills 1, Culver City 1

Aviram scored in the 15th minute off Reisfelt's assist on what Franks called "a beautiful shot to the near post," but the Centaurs tied the score on a 73rd-minute free kick Jan. 27 in an Ocean League game at Nickoll Field.

Beverly Hills led in shots 11-8. Trevino made seven saves, including stopping a penalty kick in the 34th minute.

"It was a very exciting game," Franks said. "Culver City played kick and run with their speed against our possession game. [It was a] very interesting clash of styles."

Beverly Hills 5, Inglewood 1

Levy had three goals and an assist, increasing her team-leading totals to 10 goals and five assists, Friday in an Ocean League game at Nickoll Field.

Taylor Fields and Reisfelt also scored for the Normans (7-5-3, 3-0-2 in league play).

Trevino made five saves.

"The Normans clicked on all cylinders, picking apart the Inglewood defense," Franks said.

What's Next?

The Normans are scheduled to play Santa Monica Friday at 3 p.m. at John Adams Middle School and play at Morningside Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the makeup of a Jan. 22 game that was postponed because of rain and play host to Morningside Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at Nickoll Field, their final regular-season home game, in Ocean League games.

Girls' Water Polo

Beverly Hills 8, Torrance 7

Alli Friedman scored the only goal in overtime as the Normans overcame a 5-1 deficit to win an Ocean League game at the Swim-Gym Jan. 19.

Mallory Smith scored for Beverly Hills with 2:54 left in regulation to tie the score, forcing the two three-minute overtime periods.

After the first overtime ended scoreless, Friedman scored her fourth goal of the game with 2:30 left in the second overtime.

The Normans scored four consecutive goals, three in the final 2:49 of the first half, to tie the score, 5-5. Smith scored twice in a 1:15 span to cut the deficit to 5-3 1:34 before halftime. Young In Lee scored with 38 seconds left in the half.

Friedman scored with 3:51 left in the third quarter to tie the score, but Kristie Wand scored for the Tartars 16 seconds later and again with 40 seconds left in the quarter.

Friedman scored with 5:39 left in the fourth quarter to pull Beverly Hills within one, 7-6.

Friedman opened the scoring 1:42 into the game, but Torrance scored the next five goals to lead 5-1 with 3:05 left in the first half.

Beverly Hills goaltender Lorraine Oill made five saves and Agnes Rapala made four.

Carolyn Yashari Becher, another Beverly Hills graduate, served as the school's founding board chair, but went on maternity leave last July.

There are currently 150 students enrolled in the school, with class sizes of 25 students maximum. Next year, there will be roughly 280 students in the school. Enrollment will be capped at 300 in the new facility.

"We just want to keep improving and do well," Albert said. "We're not test-score focused. We're focused on student-centered learning and projects and engaging our students in the actual material. We believe test scores will follow, which our first year did show."

STREET SMARTS

The Weekly's interview with Traffic and Parking Commission Chair Ira Friedman

By Kimberly Cheng

You grew up in Phoenix. Tell us about that.

I'm originally from Brooklyn [but] I moved to Phoenix when I was 10 years old. I finished grade school and high school there, and went to Arizona State University. And then after I got out of college, I moved to Los Angeles in 1967 and got a job with General Motors, where I worked for seven years. I was with Virgin Air, which was owned by them at the time, in the credit department and then became the credit manager at 23 years old. During that time, I went to law school at night. I started law school with a wife and one child, and I finished with the same wife and two children. And in 1980, I moved to Beverly Hills.

What brought you to Beverly Hills?

The schools. Both my sons are graduates of Beverly Vista and the high school.

Tell us about your two sons.

One of them has worked for me for ten years, David, and the other one is Jason. Both of them are married, and they each have a son, so we have two grandsons. Jason is with a business that raises money for charities that outsource the fundraising activities. Both of them were in sports at Beverly High. Jason played baseball and soccer. In fact, he went to Hungary one summer playing soccer, and David was a water polo player and a swimmer. David went to Loyola for law school, and he went to the University of Michigan for undergraduate. Jason went to Brandeis. Neither of them lives in Beverly Hills, although Jason is on the board of the Beverly Hills Little League, and he's a coach.

You practice law with your wife and one of your sons. Tell us about that.

In August I'll be married 42 years. My wife [Abby] is my best friend as well as my partner. She complements me in things I think she's better at than I am. She went back to school when our kids were in high school to become a lawyer. And now our son has been practicing [law] for about 10 years. It's great. I love seeing them all the time. [Abby] was a teacher [in] her first life. She was a primary-grade teacher, and she also worked at Hawthorne School in the library at one time. And she decided to go to law school.

Tell us about the Traffic and Parking Commission.

One of the best things is the staff, who is incredible, that we work with. The whole staff. I don't want to leave out a name. Everybody from the city that we work with is fantastic. And then the other thing, and I don't know who's first or second, is the fellow commissioners. One of the things, if you ever go to our meeting, is everybody really gets along well with each other, and we all enjoy each other's company, which make the process a lot easier to handle during the meeting. Nobody has an agenda, as far as being in favor or against certain things. I think everybody is intellectually honest, as far as their positions. And if you ask me how somebody voted two months ago on an issue, I couldn't remember because nobody just votes one way on everything. Like I said, they're really great people that we're with, and the city people are really great. That even includes our police representatives, [like] Lt. Mark Rosen, [who is a] great guy.

How did you get involved with the Traffic and Parking Commission?

I went through Team Beverly Hills, which I thought was a fantastic opportunity to learn a little something about every part of the city government, and I just thought that would be an appropriate thing for me. Some of the commissions I eliminated because I don't have any expertise in them. I'm not an architect; I'm not a builder or a contractor, so I didn't think planning would be the thing. I just gravitated to being interested in it. It's something I see everyday here in my office in Beverly Hills. I've always been in Beverly Hills or in a short area of where I am now, and I see the traffic everyday.

I was president of one of the little leagues where my kids were playing. I've had my office here. I've been involved with the Beverly Hills Bar Association. I feel I've lived here a long time, so I should give something back to the city.

What are some things the commission is working on?

Our January meeting is more like a working meeting. What we do is come up with what we want to do for the year, projects, and we rank them five, four, three, two, one. Obviously the one with the most points is the one we want to address first, so each person will go through the list and indicate which one they give priority.

The first one is the parking inventory, to find out how much parking is available within the city, both public and private.

The second [that received the] most votes was consolidation and restructuring of permit zones. There are so many different zones throughout the city.

The next one is disabled parking, both legislation and regional problems. There are people who should not be using the sticker that are [using it]. They are [getting away with it] to some extent, but the police department has a grant so they can spend officer time enforcing it, where they ask the person if they are the permit holder or if they're driving someone with a permit. They try to enforce it as much as they can.

The next item is technology, then tour-bus staging in residential areas. Certain aspects of the tour-bus operation fall under state law and vehicle code, and we can't do anything about it. But one of the things we can do is one of the bigger operators is going to headphones for the people instead of the speakers. The city is the one that's working with them. That's going to help because for the people in the residential areas, it's a big issue.

Then there's the city-initiated zones in multi-families, over-night parking prohibitions, guidelines for one-day permits, exemptions, paparazzi, and then the subway. Now, that's the batting order. It depends how far we get down into the list, but those are the anticipated projects for this year. Staff will keep track of where we are on this each month. Obviously, if we complete one, it gets scratched off the list.

What challenges does the commission face in order to address all the priorities?

The constant pull of there's not enough parking. You have to balance the goals and needs of the residents and the businesses and sometimes it's not easy.

Who do you work with regularly while on the commission?

There are various sub committees that are set up for certain things. A number of the ad hoc committees are only for one purpose. I've worked with everybody at one time or another and from that standpoint I can't say one is better to work with than the other. They're all great.

Can you name a few?

Well, everybody on the commission. We're down one because Ken Goldman had to resign because he moved out of the city. We've had interviews, and the city council will announce who they're appointing. But right now we're down to the six.

What are typical concerns residents bring before the commission?

A lot of times people will ask for a permit parking zone, and then when staff does a survey about parking sometimes it turns out that the parking is not as big a problem as some of the residents thought. They will go out and do a survey for 12 hours, and it will show by hour how many cars occupied spaces in the street.

What are your goals this year?

To get through that list of projects and to make sure that when people appear before us, we treat them with dignity and respect and give them a fair chance to state their position.

I really enjoy living here. I enjoy working here. I'll probably be here until they carry me out.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by SAMMY SPEAKS, L.P. in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that BURT BOYAR be appointed as Special Administrator with general powers to administer the estate of the decedent.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code Section 1250. What you don't know about your life insurance policy could cost you a fortune!

At age 80, Norman's life insurance policy had a $5 million death benefit with a yearly payment of $66,000. Unfortunately, he didn't know that if he lived another ten years, his payment would increase to $400,000 annually!

Until her consultation with Alan Kaye, Joyce didn't know that unless she continued making payments, her $1 million policy would be cancelled on her 87th birthday.

Do you know:

- Whether your policy will be cancelled if you stop making payments?
- If it's guaranteed to stay in effect for your lifetime at your current payment?
- If your policy can stay in effect beyond age ninety or even one hundred?
- If your cash value is sufficient to buy 50% more coverage than you have now?
- If you can you sell your policy for more than its cash surrender value, even if it's term insurance?

Let's face it! Most people don't have a clue!

Alan Kaye has over thirty years of experience helping individuals and businesses create an insurance plan that will best satisfy their needs. As president of his own company and vice president of Barry Kaye Associates, Alan is an authority on wealth creation and preservation.

He has helped thousands of people determine if their policies and plans really work, meet their goals and help implement creative solutions to their estate planning problems.

Don't wait until you lose your health, your life insurance and your options! If you are over 70 years old and have at least $250,000 of life insurance, ask for your complimentary consultation and policy appraisal, either on the phone or in person.
