“New Art Piece Could Grace Beverly Canon Gardens” [Issue #931]

[Regarding Beverly Hills Weekly’s article] on two sculptures being offered to the City: one is a piece by Ira Reines...who was or is Ira Reines? What museums have his work and where has he shown? What important collectors have his work? Has anyone visited the Win Slavin Gallery? The value of $1.2 million is a pie in the sky. Check Christie’s and Sotheby’s... someone is looking for a tax advantage.

Ringo Starr should stick with music.

We should husband our efforts and try to secure the Lichtenstein that was next to the Wallis. This is a piece that did enhance our collection and the City. Why did we not try to raise the money before it left?

BHUSD Loses Metro Appeal

The Beverly Hills Unified School District has lost an appeal of the district court’s denial of its request to prevent Metro’s Purple Line extension from running under Beverly High.

The decision comes after the district originally challenged the proposed alignment several years ago, saying that the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) violated the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). The BHUSD asserted that Metro hadn’t conducted a proper environmental review of the project and could be putting students in danger.

After U.S. District Judge George Wu denied their request for a preliminary injunction, the District appealed the decision which was later dismissed by the Ninth Circuit.

“Here, the Grant Agreement and Design/Build Contract do not represent an irreversible and irretrievable commitment to the Constellation alignment,” read the panel’s memorandum.

The panel, which included Judges Kim Wardlaw and Harry Pregerson and U.S. District Judge Edward Chen, noted that under the district court’s supervision the District may return “if subsequent events warrant.”

“At this time, however, the school district’s challenge is premature.”

Lago Vista Appeal Date Set

At their August 8 meeting, the City Council decided to move the appeal hearing for 1260 Lago Vista Drive to October 3.

The Planning Commission denied a Hillside R-1 Permit to the property on May 11, which would have allowed the property owner from exporting not less than 2,498 cubic yards of earth material.

Just a week later, property owner attorney Benjamin Reznik filed an appeal of the Planning Commission’s decision. At that point the City Council set the appeal hearing for August 8, but staff prepared a written interpretation regarding the Municipal Code’s definition of “basement” and how to determine what portions of a single-family residence qualify and therefore exempt from counting toward the maximum allowed floor area. It was found that 1260 Lago Vista doesn’t comply and would require a re-design prior to the appeal hearing.

On July 27, Reznik filed an appeal of the basement interpretation. As the appeal is currently pending, City Council agreed to continue the hearing in October.

But at the August 8 meeting Reznik argued that the hearing should have occurred on August 8, when it was originally slated to take place. “That’s what this ordinance was about—regulating and controlling the export of 1,500 cubic yards. You can review that decision today from the Planning Commission,” said Reznik. “There’s no reason to delay that to October 3. It’s got nothing to do with ultimately how you define ‘basements.’”

Attorney Ronald Richards, also a resident on the block, said that the hearing shouldn’t occur at the August 8 meeting partly because the Council didn’t even have a data record before them.

“Not appellate court in America, by the way, proceeds on a record that is nonexistent. Everybody gets a record. There is no record for you to evaluate so it would be a complete violation of due process,” said Richards.

RETIRING RALPH NORTH REXFORD

Fire Chief Ralph Mundell retired from the City on June 23 after more than 31 years of service. City Council honored his achievements with a Certificate of Recognition at their August 8 Study Session. Ordinance.

The meeting is intended to “discuss possibilities for a counter-attack to defend against this City Council’s onslaught against our rights as apartment owners,” writes Davis in the letter. He said that one of the top priorities of the meeting could be to create a ballot initiative for the next election cycle.

Davis — who owns two apartment buildings in the City — met with Beverly Hills Property Owners Association President Bill Shaw, and the two agreed to get apartment owners “organized,” something they agreed was lacking as landlords are currently outnumbered by tenants.

“That’s the purpose of this meeting—to get organized, to get a mailing list, to get current emails,” said Davis. “Our feeling is that we need apartment owners to speak up and try to get laws which adhere to economic principle and don’t have any moral component to them.”

The meeting will take place at the Roxbury Park Recreation Building at 1:00 p.m.

Pressman Named Metropolitan Water District Board Member

Public Works Commissioner Barry Pressman will fill the position of Councilmember Robert Wunderlich on the Metropolitan Water District Board.

Along with three other candidates including Public Works Commission Chair Jeff Wolfe, Pressman was interviewed by the Metropolitan Water District Director Interview Panel, composed of Vice Mayor Julian Gold, Councilmember Robert Wunderlich, and Public Works Commission Vice Chair Jerrold Felsenthal on August 3.

Beginning in October, Pressman’s term will last five years. The Panel has recommended that Jeff Wolfe be appointed for the following five-year term.

“Because Jeff Wolfe is currently the chair of the Public Works Commission, the thought was that could serve first,” said Wunderlich. “But we also wanted to recognize the considerable expertise Jeff has on water issues and that is in part why we went for this succession.”

Councilmember John Mirisch noted that while he understands the Council wants to “lock in” the next two Board members, five years is a long time and perhaps Wolfe wouldn’t be interested in the position anymore. He instead proposed making Wolfe an alternate, to which Wunderlich responded that Metropolitan doesn’t allow for alternates.

A formal report and ordinance to change the term from four years to five years will be prepared for the next City Council meeting.

Board Debates Future of GATE Program

After much discussion and criticism, the Board of Education approved the 2017-2018 BHUSD Gifted and Talented Education (GATE) Program at their August 8 meeting.

The GATE Program serves students who have demonstrated academic abilities that go beyond the normal curricular expectations. It collaborates with parents and teachers to enrich participating students’ educational opportunities and experiences.

Specifically, GATE services include an instructional program that focuses on cluster grouping, curricular differentiation and elementary student monitoring; an enrichment program that provides after-school science and performing arts classes; working with teacher and parent advocates; and professional development that focuses on ongoing instructional professional development and emotional and social needs.

Coordinator Cherryne Luesang presented a GATE program proposal for the 2017-2018 school year, which ended with parent feedback about the program from a five-question survey. The feedback showed 86 responses to questions about time preference of classes, student satisfaction level, etc. The highlighted comments were largely positive.

But Board member Isabel Hacker noted that over 300 students participated in the program and 86 responses was a low turnout. She hypothesized that many of the survey feedback likely came from newcomers to the GATE program and criticized the presentation’s lack of transparency.

Hacker went on to state that she received 15 complaints from people who thought the GATE program was “lousy,” citing reasons like the lack of teacher training.

“I think there’s a lot of room for improvement,” said Hacker.

Board member Lisa Korbatov noted that she felt uncomfortable with a social justice class for students, particularly second through fourth graders. She said many of the topics were too large and could make those who disagree with the majority feel awkward and suppressed.

“It complicates and it muddies up the waters,” said Korbatov. “I just am not comfortable with little kids doing social justice.”

Ultimately, with confirmation that the coordinators would look into tweaking

RENT STABILIZATION PROGRAM
Facilitated Dialogue Session No. 6
August 13, 2017

During previous dialogue sessions, tenants and landlords provided input regarding newly adopted provisions to the City’s rent stabilization ordinance and selected representatives to participate in future sessions.

At the August 13 session, Professor Sukhsimranjit Singh will facilitate discussions between these representatives, focusing on ideas and recommendations identified in previous sessions. All tenants and landlords are encouraged to attend, however active dialogue will be limited to the representatives and Professor Singh.

Tree Lighting Program to Take Place in the Business District

The City Council has approved a decorative lighting program for the Beverly Hills business triangle area.

It will include the installation and maintenance of warm white light emitting LED lights on 414 designated City trees. Decorative lighting will be a part of the B.O.L.D initiative to enhance the street-level experience in Beverly Hills. The intent is to design an environment that encourages people to visit, shop and dine with local businesses.

Similar lights have previously been included in years past for the City’s holiday décor program. The installation plan, will be installed for the summer and be incorporated as part of the City’s year-end holiday décor.

The City contracts with Utopia Worldwide, Inc. for holiday décor lighting. The installation consists of white LED lights on 82 palm trees on Rodeo Drive, 14 palm trees on South Santa Monica Boulevard, and 16 small tree trunks at Beverly Canon Gardens.

But the proposed new installation of warm LED lights, Phase 2, will take place on the remaining streets in the business triangle: 47 palm trees on North Beverly Drive, 84 Ficus Trees on South Beverly Drive, 40 palm trees on Dayton Way, 66 palm trees on Brighton Way, and 65 palm trees on Canon Drive.

The project scope, which encompasses weekly service inspections, repairs, liability insurance and project management to maintain the condition and operation of the tree lighting system through December, will cost approximately $215,040, according to the staff report.

The proposal also allows for an additional $20,000 for maintenance and inspections.

It was initially presented to the Beverly Hills City Council Liaison/Rodeo Drive/Special Events/Holiday Program Committee at its July 19 meeting. City Council subsequently approved the project unanimously at their August 8 study session meeting.

Councilmember John Mirisch also proposed the plan includes the southeast region of the City as well, including La Cienega and parts of East Wilshire, and parts of Robertson.

The lighting will be displayed and maintained throughout the year and staff will return to Council at a future date with a long-term program.

Leslie Paula and the Latin Soul Band to Perform Tonight at Concerts on Canon

Tonight, Leslie Paula and the Latin Soul Band will headline the tenth Concerts on Canon of the season.

Daughter of timbalero Mike Gutierrez, who played an integral role in California’s Afro-Cuban music circuit, Leslie Paula is an Anaheim native who has released several albums. Some of these include “Holidays in Rhythm” in 1998, “Te Quiero – I Want You” in 1999, and “Temas de mi Corazon” in 2000. In her own words, her style is “a mixture of Latin jazz and salsa” with “some of the lyrics in Spanish and some in English, so it appeals to wider audiences.”

Leslie Paula and the Latin Soul Band will play a range of Latin music from conga-line salsa to Spanish ballads, pop, rhythm, and blues, and jazz.

The event will take place at Beverly Canon Gardens located at 241 North Canon Drive, with two 45-minute sets—the first begins at 6:00 p.m., and the second begins at 7:15 p.m. Parking is available underneath Beverly Canon Gardens.

Next week, August 17, will feature Stephen Wise Temple at the same time and place.

NEW FACES IN THE BHUSD

BHEF President Cindy Trost

By Olivia Anderson

How did you first get involved with BHEF?

Well, I've known about BHEF since I moved into the district, which was five years ago. I've been a PTA volunteer for most of that time, but have had several parents through PTA that I've met that have served on the BHEF Board. An opportunity came last year, an opening came up on the Board and I was approached to see if I would be interested in serving. I was very excited [about] the opportunity and said yes. I joined the Board last year, and at the end of the year it was time for nominations. Although I was new to the Board, I had been in the district for a while and served on a number of other executive Board positions on PTA. I was asked if I was open to being nominated for president and I thought, "I would love to." It is an amazing organization [so] I accepted.

What is your professional background?

I have a background in marketing and promotions. I'm also an actress and I teach acting at Playhouse West in North Hollywood.

Many of the BHEF Board members are new this year. Why is that?

We have some new Board members, but we still have quite a few people that have been serving on the Board for a couple of years. Monique Gibbons, Grant Levy is joining us again, Jonathon Forester was on the Board. We have probably more returning Board members than new Board members. It's not as many new people as it appears, and most of the people have been in the district for a very long time and are educated volunteers and committed to our schools.

Tell us about your family.

My son is Hunter Trost. He is a senior at Beverly and he is very active in the video game club. He does a lot of volunteering here at the school. His interests are comics and anime and last year [he served] on Teen BHEF. Both of my kids have a volunteer spirit. My daughter Noelle [Trost] is a junior. She's on the Norman News, she's one of the anchors of KBEV and she's one of the producers.

BHEF funding has lagged the past few years in part due to the controversy of the Board. What will you do to address this?

We are starting, now that school's back again, [to get] out there and one of the most important thing this year is just to make sure that people are aware of BHEF. We have a separate ask envelope this year from PTA, and we're hoping to continue to get the message out to parents within the district and [to] support both PTA and BHEF. We have a wonderful relationship with PTA so we have a presence at the PTA meetings and talking to families. We are going to do a big push in November to continue to build awareness and make people aware of how BHEF serves our schools. We're going to be at all the Back to School events, starting this Sunday at the K-8 when they have their "Welcome Back" opportunities. We'll have members of BHEF on site to be able to answer any questions [from] new families about BHEF. We'll have a list of how we serve that school through BHEF funding. We do different things at the high school that we might do at the K-8 level, so we'll have a list of the different things we do at each of the schools. So, really, this is a year where we want to continue to build our relationships, build our message, let people know how BHEF provides for people and programs a little bit differently than how PTA is able to support the schools.

When we talked to outgoing BHEF President Monique Gibbons in issue #816, she said, "We at BHEF have to think the need is still out there: the state budget doesn't cover everything we need. Do we target our donations more? Do we ask for more targeted donations? Do we allocate our money better?" What do you think is the best way to address that need?

At the end of the day, we need support from our business community in terms of business sponsorship. They're able to make larger donations, generally, than some individuals can, but we also still need family participation because we can't do it with one or the other. It's going to be a combined effort from the community at large, so I do think that donations [are] helpful. But building a general fund means that we're able to allocate money to all of the schools in a fair way, so to me, frankly, they're all very important. I think Monique is right that each one needs to have funding sources and it's up to us and the executive board to take advantage of the people that we have working on our Board and get them out there, talking to the business leaders, talking to the people who are interested in namings and making sure that we are [talking to] people. If they don't know they can do namings but that's something that's important to them, perhaps with money that's been left in an estate or a way to honor a family member, [if they don't know] they have the opportunity, then they might not think to donate, particularly if they don't currently have a student attending one of our schools. [We want] to make everyone aware of what the different opportunities are and how to participate.

What advice did Monique give you?

Monique has been tremendously supportive. She is still a member of our Board, and I know that if I have any questions along the way, she's right there for me. She's been lovely in giving me an opportunity to have my own ideas and to think about some new things I may want to do. We have a retreat coming up at the end of the month at which point we'll be visiting with our entire Board for the first time this year and getting together. She's made it abundantly clear that she's there if I have any questions or need a little advice. And not just Monique, but the past presidents have reached out to me, so we have a wonderful community of people in Beverly Hills that have said, "I might not be on the Board now, but I previously served and if you need anything please let me know." I'm very fortunate.

What are your goals for this upcoming year for BHEF?

At lot of [those] are going to be outlined and defined at our retreat so I would rather wait until I get together with the entire Board before I make any public announcements about what our specific plans are, but know that we have our initial campaign underway right now with our donation envelopes that are going home to students as school starts. The high school mailers already went out. We're going to have a presence at the new parent and ninth grade social for the Beverly Hills High School that is on August 29 and we will be there. And then after our retreat we're going to have more input from our Board on some very specific plans—[maybe] to have a campaign in November.

"[Businesses are] able to make larger donations, generally, than some individuals can, but we also still need family participation because we can't do it with one or the other. It's going to be a combined effort from the community at large"

Assistant Superintendent Dustin Seemann

What made you decide to become a teacher?

My older brother was diagnosed with Epilepsy very young. Just watching his struggles in the educational [system] from kindergarten all the way up until high school, and just the lack of options they were providing to him in our educational system at the time was very frustrating to my family and as a younger brother, trying to help and support him—that's kind of the drive that put me in education. Since then, I've just really stood as an advocate for that underdog in the educational system, always looking for students [that are] academically struggling [or] emotionally struggling, just ensuring a safe space for them so that they can be the best them, and that they open up as many opportunities as they can for themselves.

What did you teach when you first started?

I was an athlete growing up, so I went in and graduated with a Kinesiology undergrad. I entered into the teaching profession as a physical education, health and drivers education teacher. I taught that for numerous years while also going back to school, realizing that I really liked teaching, but also wanted to make a greater impact with students. I went back and got my school counseling degree from DePaul University. I became a school counselor for many years and I was also teaching graduate level school counselors at DePaul. I was teaching college and career readiness standards and I was also supervising interns. That's when I realized that I really liked supervision and the leadership opportunities. So that's when I went back to school again and got my educational leadership degree through DePaul again in 2012. That's what puts me here today.

You previously worked as the Director of Professional Learning and Student Services at Township High School in Arlington Heights, Illinois. What did that entail?

I had the opportunity to be a district director [in] District 214. I was a school counselor at Prospect High School [and] my superintendent encouraged me to move into central office and realign their curriculum not only in student services, but with some of their programs in math, around the SAT—how are we supporting students in growth, and also to increase our college readiness. One of the things I worked on over the last couple of years with District 214 was trying to earn early college credit for students while they were in high school.

That position was kind of a hybrid position created for myself. Because I had a background in teaching and a background in student services, my superintendent asked if I would [work on] both sides in order to get them to play nice in the sandbox, in order to get them to communicate and work in a streamlined fashion. A lot of times, what happens in student services directly impacts teaching and learning, and teaching and learning impacts student services. So, what I did in that position was I led all professional development for all certified staff—all teachers, administration, new staff orientation. I created opportunities to really dig deep into data and look at how data drives our curriculum. But also, I still had to work with student services and help them create learning programs to reach all students and not just targeted students. Obviously, technology was a huge component in our district. Innovative technology was under my realm as well, so just making sure students were using technology in an authentic way, but in an efficient and effective 21st century way, that they were using the technology that was being provided to them.

Tell us about your experience as a school counselor.

In the student services realm, especially in the state of Illinois, we focused on the three pillars: academic support, social and emotional learning, and post secondary planning. I also coached. I coached girls volleyball, boys volleyball, basketball; it was definitely being in the trenches. It gave me a really well-rounded view of how schools work. I got to talk to students in each and every one of the programs. It gave me a really good sounding board; not only did I hear from the teachers, but I got to hear directly from the students. I got a realistic view of what was happening in the classroom: things that could change, things that were successful. So, that's part of why it helped me grow as a leader—because I've started to realize things that could change, but also things that were really good that could become great. Using student feedback, using parent feedback, using community feedback, and using all those data points to help drive our decisions—that's how I got into the leadership.

As the Assistant Superintendent, what are you currently working on?

Some of the things we're currently working on are just really looking at the Beverly Hills Unified School District professional development plan. Granted, I've only been here for a couple weeks but really digging in deep and meeting with some of our staff members, our teachers, our administration, you get a better understanding of where they are at so I can meet them where they are at in their professional growth. But also meeting with community members to see what opportunities are available in the community to help support our students, but also our staff and professional development. Other things we're looking at? Our test results will be coming out pretty soon. Looking at areas of growth, but also areas of success and help modeling that success in other academic areas. Finding areas that are really successful and ensuring that we're cross-curricular but also cross-school and cross-district collaborating. [It's about] trying to get everybody to talk and to share resources and really become that one system.

Tell us about your family.

My family is from Tampa, Florida. I don't have ties outside of my fraternity brothers and my friends and my coworkers. So, my husband and I always had plans of moving. My husband is Dutch, he's from the Netherlands. So, for him, too, a move wasn't far-fetched. He would like to uproot me and move me to Europe. I really liked where I was, but we were always open to looking at other opportunities. One of the things that drew me to Beverly Hills was the current mission and vision the district sits under was preparing students to be college and career ready. That's one of my passions, not only just seeing the struggles my older brother went through just to fight for post secondary options, but through working with student athletes. I was a varsity coach for many years [and watched] dreams being crushed but also dreams being created in athletics. But then as a school counselor, being the system for them to navigate letters of recommendation to college visits to narrowing down their selections—that's really what drew me to apply to this system. I knew my personal beliefs and values really aligned with the mission and vision in which the board stood behind.

A year from now, what do you hope to have accomplished as Assistant Superintendent?

What I hope to accomplish a year from now is to ensure that all stakeholders have some sort of voice within that professional growth and professional development model. So school counselors have professional development plans, art teachers have a professional development plan, that we're not just clumping them in because we don't have the time to work with [them]. I'm a work horse, so you'll kind of get to see that over time. I was a P.E. teacher and I was sick of being shoved into professional development that wasn't realistic for me or didn't benefit my students, so I want to make sure that in a year's time, we have a system created where all the stakeholders feel they have a voice. Then we have benchmarks that have been created through the system that we can continually improve on so that we're not just guessing each and every year, that there's a growth plan in place that works three to five to six to seven years out. And that we have checks and balances in the system so that someone in the community can say, "Where are you in this process?" We can demonstrate and show and highlight. Another push of mine is just ensuring transparency with the utilization of social media. I have the innovative technology background in just really ensuring that our community knows what's happening within our classrooms and that what teachers are doing is highlighting the success of the students so that not only parents know, but parents can brag to the community about their own students.

"I was a P.E. teacher and I was sick of being shoved into professional development that wasn't realistic for me or didn't benefit my students, so I want to make sure that in a year's time, we have a system created where all the stakeholders feel they have a voice"

"Not only did I hear from the teachers, but I got to hear directly from the students. I got a realistic view of what was happening in the classroom: things that could change, things that were successful"

We are attempting to collect a debt and any information we obtain will be used for that purpose. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-730-2727 or visit this Internet Web site www.service-linkASAP.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2017-04023. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. ANGUSTIA, A MARRIED WOMAN, AS HER SOLE AND SEPARATE PROPERTY, AS JOINT TENANTS Recorded: 4/11/2007 as Instrument No. 20070868744 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of LOS ANGELES County, California; Date of Sale: 8/24/2017 at 10:00 AM Place of Sale: Behind the fountain located in Civic Center Plaza, located at 400 Civic Center Plaza, Pomona CA 91766 Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $1,674,543.40 The purported property address is: 256 N DOHENY DR, BEVERLY HILLS, CA 90211 Assessor's Parcel No.: 4335-024-018

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-14-651779-HL . Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. QUALITY MAY BE CONSIDERED A DEBT COLLECTOR ATTEMPTING TO COLLECT A DEBT AND ANY INFORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE.
