“United city speaks and notes on events, issues” [Issue #574]

Over the past 8-plus years I have thought about Marynard “Mickey” Brittan, so it is so nice of Rudy Cole to mention his super-good deed to benefit not only himself but all Los Angeles area commuters by personally solving a most dangerous traffic control problem with his own money. The way that the American rich did back in the late 1800’s and the early 1900’s.

Yes, Mickey Brittan is a great guy who shows much consideration and thoughtfulness. I know from personal experience from first meeting him in the Spring of 1990 at the Will Rogers Historical State Park where he plays polo as a long time member of the Will Rogers Polo Club.

In September 1993 Mickey Brittan sponsored my first “Caviar & Class” cable television program studio taping session which featured a couple of his fellow polo club members. He is an avid polo player.

With Mickey’s initial boost and with then-Beverly Hills Mayor Maxwell Salter’s supportive encouragement at a Beverly Hills City Council meeting, “Caviar & Class” successfully took off over the air waves and in significant periodicals.

Because of Rudy Cole who opened the public door, now outside of polo circles I can openly call Maynard Brittan by his nickname “Mickey”. That is so cool. Thanks, Rudy.

District denied summary judgment in Christiansen case

The BHUSD was denied summary judgment against Strategic Concepts, LLC and Karen Christiansen, after the case was heard by the Los Angeles Superior Court, Monday October 4. The trial was postponed to December 7.

A motion for summary judgment means that even though the BHUSD is not disputing the facts of the case, they argue that Christiansen is not entitled to get recovery as a matter of law, said BHUSD Attorney Steve Madison.

“A summary judgment, in this case, would be a motion to dismiss the case based on the fact that even if everything that was said was true, it still isn’t sufficient as a matter of law to recover,” Madison said. “The summary judgment was denied because there are disputed issues of fact. [However, filing the motion] can be a helpful proceeding as far as identifying the issues.”

As reported by The Weekly in issue #516, the district severed all ties with Christiansen and Strategic Concepts in August of 2009 after contractual irregularities were found. Christiansen sued the district for wages she was allegedly owed. The BHUSD countersued for alleged damages caused by Christiansen’s construction throughout the district and on Measure K.

Adjudicated as a newspaper of general circulation for the County of Los Angeles. Case # BS065841 of the Los Angeles Superior Court, on November 30, 2000.

OUR DATA SPEAKS VOLUMES

Judge Luis Lavin. Lavin questioned:

- Whether Christiansen was a “de facto employee” at the time of the 2008 agreement challenged by the district;
- Whether a one-year statute of limitations applied to the 2006 agreement between Christiansen and the BHUSD;
- Whether a summary judgment could be granted without any alter ego allegations related to Strategic Concepts;
- Whether the contracts Christiansen had with the district required compliance with competitive bidding requirements;
- Whether summary judgment could be granted given the disagreement to be repaid by Christiansen, if any.

Madison said the trial was postponed and the judge is allowing them to do additional discovery on some of the issues identified in the denied summary judgment motion.

BHUSD Superintendent contract confirmed, Board Members squabble over on actions during closed session

The Board of Education approved Superintendent Dick Douglas one-year contract at the Board of Education meeting Monday, 4-0-1 with Board member Myra Lurie abstaining.

Lurie said she had to abstain from the vote not because of her feelings about Douglas but because of a incident that occurred during closed session.

“I’m going to have to abstain because unfortunately I was prevented from participating in [Monday’s] closed board meeting where this was discussed due to [Board of Education President Steven] Fenton’s outrageous and extremely disrespectful behavior towards me,” Lurie said at the Board meeting. “I was gaveled down when I was trying to speak. I was prevented from speaking to my colleagues, not about this particular issue but about another issue. So, I wanted to say for that reason, because I was unfortunately not able to have this discussion, I will have to abstain.”

Lurie walked out of closed session, after the incident, and did not return.

Fenton said he had to gavel Lurie down to keep the meeting on track.

“My jaw dropped when she said that she felt bullied by me,” Fenton said. “The fact of the matter is that she kept interrupting, pontificating and getting off track. It’s my job to control the meeting. When she got gaveled down, she stood up, looked me in the eye, used a four letter word, stormed out of the meeting and quit on us. She left all of her teammates high and dry. I don’t care how upset you are with a colleague, you don’t swear at them and quit on them.”

Lurie said she had received questions regarding whether or not the superintendent search would continue throughout the year. Due to the Brown Act, the discussion of what is next with the superintendent search was tabled until it could become an agenda item.

“I want to make sure we at some point in the near future explain to the public whether we are or are not having a formalized search,” Lurie said.

Board member Brian Goldberg said he did not believe Lurie’s reason was valid for abstaining.

“I think it’s important that whomever the president is has the opportunity to control a meeting if it gets out of hand,” Goldberg said.

“I want to be very clear from my perspective as one board member that no one was barred from participating in any of the meeting. This is not the first time the superintendent’s contract has come before us. If someone made a personal choice not to participate [in a discussion] that is their personal choice.”

Fenton said no one was prevented from discussing the agenda item during closed session.

“I’d like to be very clear that no one was prevented from making this decision in close session,” Fenton said. “I would also like to say, for what it’s worth, that a lot of people on the dais up here and in the audience have been gavelled down many times and I don’t remember anyone walking out.”

Overall, Fenton said he was most upset by the fact that Lurie walked out of the meeting and would not return.

“She can call me any four letter word she wants, I’m a big boy and I can handle it,” Fenton said. “But don’t ever quit on us.”

Wiener and firm to leave Vernon

After a year of working in Vernon, Beverly Hills City Attorney Larry Wiener will be leaving November 1. Wiener said he could not comment on the reasons for the abrupt change but that the firm he works for, Richards, Watson and Gershon, terminated their relationship with Vernon.

Larry Wiener

As reported in The Weekly, Issue #571, Wiener went to help the 91-person town after it was brought to light Vernon officials were paid more than $1 million a year, and that administrator Donal O’Callaghan had received consulting fees through his wife’s company.

Wiener said the firm accomplished a number of changes within Vernon.

“We eliminated the form of contract that was the source of some of the payments that have made headlines in the media,” Wiener said. “It had an uncommon two-tier structure of compensation. It allowed for certain employees to receive a salary and also to receive an hourly wage.”

They also modernized Vernon’s meeting and agenda procedures, by making the agendas more reader friendly, to help increase transparency.

In his time left in Vernon, Wiener said he is focusing on transitioning to the next city attorney. Vernon City Clerk Willard Yamaguchi will serve as interim city attorney.

Finance Committee meets to overlook BHUSD budgets

The BHUSD Finance Committee will be conducting their first meeting October 18 to look at evaluate and keep track of the district’s financial interests and operations.

The committee is made up of five Board of Education appointees: former Board of Education members Board President Steven Fenton’s appointee Mel Spitz (1971-1979), Board member Brian Goldberg’s appointee Herb Young (1971-1975) and Board member Myra Lurie’s appointee AJ Willmer (1991- 1997); and CPA’s Board member Lisa Korbatov’s appointee Damien Bean and Jake Manaster’s appointee Robert Sternsheim; Executive Director of Budget and Food Services Mary Anne McCabe and Assistant Superintendent of Business Services Alex Cherniss. Board appointees serve two-year terms.

“It’s crucial for this committee to examine our budget and to make recommendations to our board to ensure that our budget is fiscally sound,” Cherniss said. “The members of this committee have a wealth of knowledge of experience and we, as a district, need to tap into the talent, the experience and the knowledge of our community members.”

The Finance Committee, independent of the Board of Education, will advise the district on the best ways to approach spending and saving money.

“We’re going to examine revenues and expenditures,” Cherniss said. “We’re going to see what are projections are for our revenues and how we’re spending money. Are we spending money in the best way possible? Are there areas we can realize savings? Are there areas we can increase revenue? The budget is really a simple formula, we want to spend less than we earn. So we really want to work on decreasing spending and increasing revenue. It’s the intention of the committee to help [the district] with that.”

Board of Education President Steven Fenton said he believes the Finance Committee will be another vessel in which to share with the community how money is being spent and why.

“I think this is a fantastic opportunity for the school district not only because we’ll be able to get expertise from people outside of the school district but also this will continue our mission of showing transparency to our entire community,” Fenton said. “I don’t think you can ever be transparent enough and I believe the more that people know what we’re doing, the better.”

Financial Committee meetings are open to the public. The first meeting is Monday October 18 from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the board room at the district office. The rest of the committees schedule is TBA.

Despite labor dispute, 30 Years After Conference goes on as planned

30 Years After held their Second Biennial Civic Action Conference Sunday, October 10, at the Hyatt Regency Century Plaza, despite a request from the boycotting workers of the hotel to change venues.

The Conference was not moved because of contractual obligations said 30 Years After President Sam Yebri. 30 Years After and Unite Here 11 met on September 29 to discuss the unions plans and once Yebri learned they intended to picket, he tried to find a different hotel.

“Given the size of our conference, the requirement that we have a kosher kitchen and the fact that we’re a volunteer organization; it made it difficult to find an alternative,” Yebri said. “[At the Hyatt] there was a very high [$53,000] cancellation penalty for canceling or moving the conference with less than a week’s notice. We couldn’t risk the organization’s financial solvency to move it.”

Workers have been boycotting the Hyatt since September 15 due to a labor dispute over contract negotiations, Unite Here 11 Communications Coordinator Leigh Shelton said. Unite Here 11 is the southern California union for hotel, restaurant, airport, sports arena and convention centers employees.

"We launched a boycott because the workers have been struggling to get the company to see that they don't want to be locked in a recession for the next five years," Shelton said. "Their contract expired about nine months ago and so they've been working without a contract. We're in negotiations with the company."

Although 30 Years After decided to go ahead their conference as planned, Shelton said the boycott would continue.

"What that means is that there [was] picketing outside of the Hyatt during their event," Shelton said. "Obviously, we're displeased that they didn't make the decision to stand in support of the workers who make that place thrive and run."

Although Yebri said he worried that picketing outside of the hotel would overshadow the conference, he found not only did it not detract from the conference but taught attendees a valuable lesson about politics. Sponsors continued to support the conference and while the democratic elected officials schedule to speak did not attend, they did send taped statements to be played to the conference.

"I think it added a valuable dimension to the conference where the Persian-Jewish community learned about the struggles of another community looking for a voice and for their own rights and interests," Yebri said.

More than 1,300 members of the Los Angeles Jewish, Iranian - Jewish and political communities came together to enhance the Iranian-Jewish participation in American political, civic and Jewish life.

"I would say as a community the Persian-Jewish community is maturing in a way that we can be proud of," Yebri said. "The fact that mutli-generations were at our conference, students and young professionals attended with their parents and grandparents because they wanted to learn about issues affecting the United States, Israel and Iran and how they can make an impact shows that this idea of being involved civically has finally gained traction."

An organization set up 30 years after the Islamic revolution drove a majority of Jews from Iran, 30 Years After works to educate and unite the Iranian-American-Jewish Community on important political and promote the communities civic involvement.

The conference included plenary sessions on Israel and Iran; breakout sessions on policy issues facing Los Angeles and California, sessions on the Iranian-Jewish community, workshops on activism, political action and philanthropy; an organizational fair; and a keynote gala dinner.

Speakers included Beverly Hills Mayor Jimmy Delshad and Gubernatorial Candidate Meg Whitman. A variety of topics were discussed including challenges the Los Angeles Persian-Jewish community faces in California to issues about Iran's nuclear weapons program.

"Every speaker challenged us to leave our comfort zones as local residents or members of the community to find a cause [we] cared about and show leadership," Yebri said. "Whether it's our local neighborhoods, local schools or if it's Iran's nuclear program or if it's the future of Israel, that's a constant theme. I think it was exciting for me to be in

City brands new fragrances with Beverly Hills logo

Dan Walsh

Chamber of Commerce CEO Dan Walsh said that while the City has trademarked the Beverly Hills shield, they were allowing Walsh and a licensing company called Bradford Licensing Associates to find a product that will envelope the Beverly Hills brand.

With the help of a company called JT Brands, the city decided to make branded fragrances.

"For almost 100 years, the city has worked very hard to create, refine and sharpen its image as it relates to a luxury center for hospitality, shopping, dining, spas and so forth," Walsh said. "We've got a great brand and a recognizable image that's known around the world. What is Beverly Hills well known for? It's known for luxury, shopping and beauty and stylishness so a fragrance seemed quite ideal."

The city council worked with city staff and the Chamber of Commerce to make the fragrance a reality. The "pre-launch" party, as Walsh called it, was a local celebration of the launch of the Beverly Hills branded fragrance among the current and former city leadership as well as the existing city council and city staff who worked on the project.

Walsh said the City was responsible for making sure the brand is protected and positioned to be elevated. Everything else falls to JT Brands to take care of.

"We are not responsible for manufacturing, operations, distribution, packaging; none of that falls to the Chamber nor to the City," Walsh said. "The nice part about that is our costs are kept very low and the opportunity really occurs on sales through the earning of royalties."

Approximately 35 percent of money earned from royalties goes to pay Bradford Licensing. The rest is divided between the city and the chamber.

The Beverly Hills Fragrance will be officially launched in online by late 2010 and in stores January 2011. "Must Have," "Rodeo Dr." and "Ironic" will be sold in the United Kingdom, France, Dubai and the United States at department stores for $120 said JT Brands Beauty Industry Executive Geoffrey Thompson.

City prepares to drop, cover and hold during state-wide earthquake drill

The City of Beverly Hills is participating in the Great California Shakeout Drill on October 21 at 10:21 a.m. During the drill, all city staff will stop what they are doing and react as if an earthquake has occurred, responding by dropping to the ground, taking cover and holding on. All customers visiting city buildings will be directed to do the same.

"I think it's very important for all of us to regularly revisit our personal and business emergency preparedness plans," City Manager Jeff Kolin said. "We do live in an area of the state that has a number of earthquake faults and a history of earthquakes and

MTA insults council

Notes on other happenings

By Rudy Cole

All kinds of interesting items to report this week: A $900,000 deficit in the school's food program, the MTA delivers an insult to our city council, school's take aggressive stand on bullying and the city launches its own fragrance – and how can I resist the temptation to say it smells?

But first, some very personal observations and recommendations on the election:

There is a very local interest in one contest that is not exactly making big news, but a highly regarded Beverly Hills resident, Mark K. Ameli is in a runoff for Superior Court Judge, Office number 35. Both he and his opponent received the same "qualified" rating from the Los Angeles County Bar Association.

Why am I recommending Ameli? Of the two, he is the candidate with hands on experience in a broad spectrum of legal experience. He has been an arbitrator and mediator as well as trial lawyer. The other candidate holds an appointive job as court referee which does not compare with Ameli's real world experience. It also should matter to us that he and his family have deep roots in our community, have been involved in civic affairs and this would mean the court would have its first member of the Persian community on the court – an incredible lack of cultural balance.

However, mostly Mark is recommended because of his experience, judicial temperament and fairness. He will be an outstanding jurist.

Last week, we made recommendations for governor, (Jerry Brown), United States Senator (Barbara Boxer) and Attorney General (Steve Cooley.) Now, some of the other races and ballot measures:

For Lt. Governor, take your pick: Gavin Newson, Democrat, San Francisco Mayor who almost ran for governor, has been all over the place on issues from support for same sex marriage to opposing off shore oil drilling. His Republican opponent, Abel Maldonado a former member of the legislature, was appointed to the office by the governor. He did have the courage to depart the Republican minority opposition to the state budget, angering his more right wing colleagues. Frankly, the best we could hope for is that whoever we pick for governor has a long, healthy life. Neither is ready for prime time but both could grow with the responsibility which includes serving on many key state commissions.

Secretary of State: Very easy choice: Democrat Debra Bowen is well known in Beverly Hills and the Westside. Innovative, loaded with personal integrity, she has made impressive improvements in the diverse services her office performs.

Treasurer: Democrat Bill Lockyer. Loads of experience in state government, from assembly to two excellent terms as Attorney General. Seeking a second term, he deserves reelection.

Insurance Commissioner: The special interests, now free to donate directly on partisan elections, have launched a massive spending campaign for Republican Mike Villines, although the effort is sometimes so subtle you have a hard time knowing what office he is seeking. His Democratic challenger is Dave Jones, a bright prospect for future higher office. He will be a much tougher enforcer of insurance rules and regulation and assure consumer protection.

Supt. of Public Instruction. Tom Torlakson, Democrat, has strong backing from education groups, veteran state legislator and former teacher, he understand the crisis facing our schools.

State Propositions:

The move to legalize the use of marijuana by proposition has too many risks to support. Yes, to remove criminalization could eliminate much of the problems of enforcement and drug trafficking, and illegal growing. But making it more available to young people is a health and emotional impact problem that has more questions than easy answers. Equally important, do we want pot stores in our own village? Probably not, and this law may make it difficult to contain retailing by zoning regulations. Of course, even if this should pass, the substance would still face federal bans. Too many questions, too few good answers. No on 19.

Redistricting reform always seems to make some ballot appearance, this time the move is to take it away from the legislature and turn it over to a 14 member commission. Drawing of congressional lines under present rules has been important to the Westside and Beverly Hills: It has given us the talents and integrity of Cong. Henry Waxman. We need to keep this chore in the legislature and trust the elective, democratic process. No on Prop. 20.

Whenever you see enormous sums being spent on a ballot measure that sounds too good to be true, be ready for a no vote. Prop. 23 is a rip off by oil companies that even Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger opposes, as does every responsible environmental group in the state. No on Prop 23.

More recommendations next week.

MTA DELIVERS INSULT TO CITY COUNCIL

Despite efforts of our city council to take a moderating, patient posture on the route alternatives of the proposed subway-to-sea, the Metropolitan Transit Authority staff delivered a report this week that at least one councilmember, Barry Brucker, called a "slap in the face."

At their last meeting, the council asked the MTA to give them additional time to respond to the Draft Environmental Impact Report, which was supposedly granted. Despite this agreement, the staff report was released before city responses could even be considered.

At the same time, and much to the dismay of many fighting the subway route under Beverly Hills High School and Good Shepherd School, the council only said it preferred the Santa Monica and Wilshire Boulevard route – a position that some leaders of the anti-Constellation plan found inadequate. However, the whole council was clear on the school tunneling possibility.

But what was most insulting and incredible for both the council and community leaders to believe is that there was no mention in the staff report of the schools, only that the tunneling would go under some homes in Beverly Hills! However, no final route has yet been recommended by staff and the final decision will be made by the MTA board.

Side issue: Sometime back, Mayor Jimmy Delshad appointed a four member former mayor's committee to lobby for federal funding for the subway. Included were Allan Alexander and Mark Egerman, the co-chairs of the earlier subway citizen committee; Steve Webb who created the committee when he was mayor and Linda Briskman, one of our more talented legislative advocates with strong ties to congressional leaders.

Called a "mayor's committee" it has become somewhat, and really unnecessarily, involved in the problem instead of the solution. Clearly, few people have expended as much energy and study on the subway's importance than Allan Alexander. His grasp of the myriad impacts from traffic to environmental to future growth and planning, had helped create a climate of support for the subway throughout Beverly Hills. Briskman, as we said, is an expert student on how government really works, and Egerman brings his legal talents and organizational skills to the table.

So why is this talented and dedicated committee now part of the problem? It seems that a series of emails between former mayor Steve Webb and Councilmember, and also former mayor, Nancy Krasne have become somewhat public.

In one of the messages, Webb said opponents of the subway were making a tactical error by fighting tunneling under homes instead of focusing entirely on the school(s.)

That is very similar to what some elected officials in Los Angeles told me earlier and what Webb argued in his email: How can we justify tunneling under a hundred or more homes in Western Los Angeles and not under the few houses Beverly Hills?

The answer should be very simple: If there is an alternative to tunneling under homes, a more feasible route, than a subway through residential must be avoided whether in Beverly Hills or Westwood. But we have a viable choice that is both practical and safer. This is not giving Beverly Hills any special treatment, it is rational and fair and should apply to all residential zones.

What Southwest Beverly Hills Homeowner

Association president, and the leader of the effort to protect our schools, Ken Goldman has said is that the mayor's committee should take a hiatus until the MTA rules on our appeals.

Side issue: Although opponents wanted an even stronger statement from our city council, the MTA was told by Mayor Jimmy Delshad, with concurrence of all four of his colleagues, that the city favors the Wilshire/Santa Monica route. An official letter was sent to the MTA earlier this week.

This is an effort that has to continue, but if we stay united, organized and focused, we might just yet protect our city and save a responsible subway project. If not, future generations will wonder where we were when this debacle came to our village.

QUICK TAKES:

Congratulations to the school board for uniting and facing up to two challenges, and another reason to support The Maple Counseling Center.

This week, the board reinforced their concerns about bullying and harassment on our campuses. Certainly triggered by national publicity about student suicides, the board adopted a very strong, get tough intervention and prevention program.

Our schools depend on TMCC for counseling help for victims, but I have another thought, and parents should give this some this some consideration: If your own child engages in harassment or bullying, you too should use TMCC. Talk to your kids, explain the harm bullying does and how the consequences could lead to harsh discipline, and if you need professional help, seek it. And you, dear reader, can support our pioneer agency and have a great evening by attending their annual ball, this year with a Halloween theme. Call 310.271.9999 for more information.

Congrats also to Horace Mann principal Steve Kessler for a vigorous site program and his personal leadership on this issue, and his report to the board.

Speaking of the school board, Vice President Lisa Korbatov appears to be taking the lead in trying to fix a very dysfunctional school problem: food services. Apparently, we have "sick outs" of school employees, vending machines are not properly stocked and the whole program is running a yearly deficit of $900,000.00!

Great to see the board working together on both of these challenges.

City has launched its own fragrance, but the announcement was made without a press release to community newspapers, only outside media.

Not a good odor start.

Bulletin: Planning Commissioner Craig Corman will not be a candidate for city council in the March 2011 election. Although there could still be some surprise contenders, as of now this will certainly help incumbent Nancy Krasne and Planning Commissioner Lili Bosse, who seems to be a consensus candidate. Mayor Jimmy Delshad is not expected to run, but could still surprise voters. Corman, a lawyer, had developed some very strong backing before opting not to run. However, although unlikely, Corman could change his mind.

Rudy Cole served for eight years as a member and chair of the city's Recreation & Parks Commission. He was also President of the Greystone Foundation and served on three other city committees. Rudy can be reached at: Rudy@bhweekly.com.

BHHS Football Team Routed by Alemany

Allowing the third most-points since 1990 and suffering just the second shutout since 1992 resulted in one-sided losses in Beverly High football history Friday night.

The Normans concluded nonleague play with a 53-0 loss to Mission Hills Alemany at Nickoll Field, dropping out of the Southern Section Western Division poll. They had been ranked 10th.

Alemany (6-0) moved up one spot to fourth in the Pac-5 Division poll released Monday.

Beverly Hills (3-2) is scheduled to play host to Hawthorne (1-4) Friday at 7 p.m. at Nickoll Field in the Ocean League opener for both teams. The Normans defeated the Cougars, 35-13, last season.

First annual community movie night to be held at Horace Mann

Horace Mann will be holding its First Annual Outdoor Movie Night on the Horace

Mann soccer field October 15, with activities beginning at 5 p.m. and the movie starting at sundown.

The movie, "How To Train Your Dragon," will be displayed on a giant 32-foot inflatable outdoor screen. The Beverly Hills Fire Department will be cooking hotdogs and hamburgers that will be for sale during the event. Popcorn and soda will be for sale, in addition to the participation of local businesses such as Toppings Yogurt. Toppings Yogurt will donate a portion of its sales to the Horace Mann P.T.A.

Horace Mann PTA President Howard Goldstein said the PTA organized the movie night as a way for the community to come together for something fun given what the whole district has gone through in the last year in regards to permits.

"[The permit issue] unfortunately tore families from the school site," Goldstein said. "When that happens you have a situation that kids are friends and they don't necessarily understand why their friend can't be back at the school next year. That affected the district and the city at large. We really try to create a sense of community at Horace Mann, we wanted to bring the community in and from the PTA standpoint we also wanted to get cooperation and a sense of belonging for the businesses that surround the school."

The movie night was completely underwritten by Coldwell Banker Realtor and Class of 1981 Beverly High grad Michael Libow. Libow, who often donates to the BHUSD, was approached by Horace Mann parent Isabelle Hacker to donate to the event.

"I love to give back to the school system but she specifically asked me to help out with movie night," Libow said. "There were options of school directory advertisement and sponsorship, so I chose to do both. My schooling background is in Beverly Hills and I do business in the city, so I feel it's important to give back to the community in any fashion."

BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE MTA

With the Metro Board's subway route decision coming soon, who are the 13 people who will decide Beverly Hills' fate?

By Marla Schevker

With the public comment section closing on October 18, the Metro Board will be making their subway decision on the locally preferred alternative (LPA) for the Westside extension on October 28.

Seven of the 13 board members will have to agree on which route is best and which will ultimately be built.

The LPA is the route recommended by the Metro staff to the board after doing research and compiling public opinion. This is the route that staff has deemed the best choice for all parties involved.

Metro staff has been gathering information for the draft Environmental Impact Statement/Environmental Impact Report (EIS/EIR) since 2007. Having the Metro staff's suggestion on what the LPA should be, the draft EIS/EIR will be the determining factor in supplying the Metro board the information needed to make the decision.

Metro Senior Communications Representative Dave Sotero said the staff can make recommendations but overall the Metro Board has the final word.

"The thing to remember is what comes out of this process is a recommendation," Sotero said. "The staff makes a recommendation and the board considers the recommendation. The board has the legislative authority to make a decision on what the LPA turns out to be."

Metro Staff decided they would be recommending to the board to continue the evaluation of the Santa Monica Boulevard route and the Lasky route into the final environmental study.

"That means we won't be making a decision at this point whether one is better than the other, but we're going to recommend that both be carried forward for further review," Sotero said. "We will continue to study both of those station locations in that area in addition to incorporating the public's feedback into the environmental feedback."

Staff also decided that they would recommend a station to be placed east of La Cienega because it is closer to the commercial properties in that area and was preferred by Beverly Hills.

The 13-member Metro board brings together representatives from all over LA County. The board decides the specifics of each Metro project, including what type of rail it will be and what path the rail will take. Most decisions are made by a majority vote, however some decisions are required by the State of California to have a two-thirds approval.

The process of creating a draft EIS/EIR begins with an alternatives analysis. The Metro staff looks at every possible outcome for a project

"As you go on, you narrow down the options based on further research," Sotero said. "You eliminate them as you go along so at the end of the project, you have a project that has been evaluated that the agency would recommend as the project to be built and that goes before the metro board."

After the alternatives analysis, the results go to the Metro board for consideration and they gave suggestions on where to proceed with draft EIS/EIR. From there Metro staff will conduct public scoping, in which they give the public and various agencies the opportunity to help shape what the Metro staff studies.

In every project, public comments and input shape the draft EIS/EIR. While public comment may or may not have any bearing on the board's decision, it is included in the final documents.

For the Westside extension project specifically, the Metro staff is on its sixth round of public hearings since 2009.

"They help the project team narrow down options and come up with at the end of the process a one-project recommendation that will be built and that's called the locally preferred alternative," Sotero said.

The Metro board meets on the last Thursday of the month at Metro headquarters downtown. It is an open meeting and the public is welcome to discuss anything or speak to the board on any topic of their choice.

The Metro board consists of the five LA County Supervisors, the Mayor of Los Angeles, his three appointees and four city councilmembers. The county is divided into four sections: the San Fernando Valley, The San Gabriel Valley, the Southeastern portion and the South bay and Westside cities together. Each councilmember is appointed by the cities in their region that are a part of League of California cities and then confirmed by the whole county. County Supervisors and the Mayor of Los Angeles are required to serve on the Metro board and Councilmembers serve four year terms. The position of Board Chair rotates between the three main groups.

• Metro Chair Don Knabe - has been serving on the Metro board since 1996. He also serves as chair of the Southern California Regional Rail Authority (Metrolink) and the Alameda Corridor Transportation Authority (ACTA), where similarly to the Metro board he votes about decisions related to transportation projects. Knabe, a Republican, was elected to the Cerritos City Council in 1980 and served as a councilmember for eight years, including two terms as mayor. He holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Graceland University in Lamoni, Iowa. Knabe and wife Julie have two sons and three grandchildren. Knabe's son Matt is a partner of local political consultant Harvey Englander, who ironically is spearheading an initiative to bring two-hour free parking to Beverly Hills parking lots. Knabe represents the fourth district, which geographically stretches from Marina del Rey to the Palos Verdes Peninsula to Long Beach, including Catalina Island and San Clemente Island.

• First Vice Chair Los Angeles Mayor Antonio R. Villaraigosa - has served on the Metro Board since 2005. He is currently serving his second term as mayor. Villaraigosa created the 30/10 plan, in which dozens of Measure R transit projects that would take 30 years to complete will be finished in 10 years. He was also a major proponent in getting Measure R on the ballot. Villaraigosa, a Democrat, currently oversees the Partnership for LA Schools, which is a turnaround project serving approximately 20,000 students across 21 schools in the LAUSD. After breaking his arm in a biking accident on Venice Boulevard in July in a hit and run accident, Villaraigosa has become proponent of bicycle safety laws and is a supporter of the "three-foot" rule, where a car must be at least three feet away from a bicyclist.

• Second Vice Chair Michael D. Antonovich - has served as the Fifth District County Supervisor since 1980. Antonovich serves on the Metro Board and the South Coast Air Quality Management District. Antonovich taught government and history for the LAUSD in 1966 and was elected to the Los Angeles Community College Board of Trustees in 1969. Antonovich sponsors the annual Summer Beach Bus Service to Santa Monica during the summer months for his district and the post-Rose Parade shuttle program during the Rose Bowl. Antonovich, a Republican, lives in Glendale with his wife, son and daughter. The Fifth District includes the San Gabriel Valley, Pomona, San Fernando, and Antelope Valley.

• San Gabriel representative Duarte City Councilmember John Fasana - has been on the Metro board since its inception in 1993. Fasana was elected to the Duarte City Council in 1987 and was reelected in 1991. He is currently a member of the Executive Management and Audit Committee and the Construction Committee. Fasana currently chairs the San Gabriel Valley Council of Governments Transportation committee and serves as Duarte's representative to the Foothill Transit Board. Fasana graduated from Whittier college and has worked for Southern California Edison for 25 years.

• Southeast representative Lakewood City Councilmember Diane DuBois - was elected to the Metro Board in 2009. Elected in 2005, she is the fourth woman to serve in the Lakewood City Council's history. DuBois is a member of the construction and operations committee. DuBois served as a Lakewood Planning Commissioner and served seven terms as commission chair. She was also a board member and volunteer for Lakewood Meals on Wheels, a Board Member of the Greater Long Beach Girl Scout Council a board member of Lakewood Regional Medical Center, a volunteer at Lindstrom and Williams elementary schools, the Pan American Association scholarship chair, a member and past president of Soroptimist International of Lakewood/Long Beach, and a volunteer at Pathways Volunteer Hospice.

• Mayor appointee Los Angeles Councilmember José Huizar - has served on the Metro Board since 2009. He serves on the Southern California Association of Governments' Transportation committee and is the chair of the L.A. County Education Coordinating Council. Huizar also serves as chair for the audits and Governmental Efficiency Committee and is Vice-Chair on the planning and Land Use Management Committee. Before being elected to the City Council in 2005, Huziar served as LAUSD School Board Member from 2001 to 2005 and served two terms as school board president. Huizar represents Council District 14, which includes Boyle Heights, Brooklyn Heights, Eagle Rock, El Sereno, Monterey Hills and the rest of Northeast LA.

• Mayor appointee Richard Katz - has served on the Metro Board since 2005. He is the owner of a public policy and government relations firm based in Los Angeles, Richard Katz Consulting (RKC). In 2008, Katz was appointed by Villaraigosa to the California High Speed Rail authority. Katz, a Democrat, has also served as Senior Advisor on Energy and Water Issues to California Governor Gray Davis and served for six years on the State Water Resources Control Board. Elected to the California State Assembly in 1980, Katz served for 16 years and spent 10 years as chair of the Assembly Transportation Committee in a San Fernando Valley-based District. Katz was narrowly defeated in a state senate race in 1998 against Richard Alarcon, who is now facing accusations that he does not reside in his San Fernando Valley-based council district.

• County Supervisor Mark Ridley-Thomas - has served on the Metro Board since December, 2008. He is the first African American man to serve on the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors. Before becoming a County Supervisor, Ridley-Thomas served as an L.A. City Councilmember for almost 12 years and as a representative of the 26th District for two terms in the California State Senate. Ridley-Thomas founded the Empowerment Congress, the Los Angeles' successful experiment in neighborhood-based civic engagement and is considered the founder of the Neighborhood Council Movement. He is a graduate of Manual Arts High School, in Los Angeles, earned his BA in Social Relations and a Masters in Religious Studies from Immaculate Heart College and got his Ph.D. in Social Ethics and Policy Analysis from USC. Ridley-Thomas is married to Avis, the director of the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office Dispute Resolution Center. His district includes Carson, Compton, Culver City and Gardena.

• County Supervisor Gloria Molina - has served on the Metro Board since 1993. Molina was the first Latina in history to be elected to the California State Legislature, the Los Angeles City Council and the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. In April 2008, Molina, a Democrat, introduced legislation to the Board of Supervisors which would severely increase penalties on food vendors in unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County, including East L.A. and Molina voted for Los Angeles to boycott Arizona after the immigration laws were passed in 2010. Molina serves the first district, which represents all of North Eastern LA including Eagle Rock, Boyle Heights and Montebello.

• San Fernando Valley representative Glendale Mayor Ara Najarian - has served on the Metro Board since 2006. He is currently Mayor of Glendale and has been a lawyer in private practice for the last 20 years. Najarian got his Bachelors from Occidental College and earned a J.D. from USC. Molina served as a member of the Glendale Community College Board of Trustees from 2003 to 2005 and is a member of the Glendale Bar association. Najarian represents the North County and San Fernando Valley, which includes the cities of Burbank, Glendale, Lancaster and Palmdale.

• South Bay and Westside representative Santa Monica City Councilmember Pam O'Connor - has served on the Metro Board since 2001. She has served on the Santa Monica City Council since 1994 and her current council term ends in November 2010. O'Connor also represents the city of Santa Monica on the Exposition Light Rail Construction Authority Board, which is dedicated to the construction of a Light Rail to Santa Monica. O'Connor has worked on historic building projects throughout southern California including the Los Angeles City Hall Seismic Rehabilitation and UCLA's Powell Library. O'Connor has Masters degrees in Planning and in Technology Management from Eastern Michigan University and a B.S. in Communications from Southern Illinois University. O'Connor is an avid user of Santa Monica's public transit system, the Big Blue Bus.

• Mayor Appointee Rita Robinson - has been on the Metro board since 2009. While she is currently the general manager for the Los Angeles Department of Transportation, it was announced last month she will be leaving the city position, to become one of five deputy chief executive officers in Los Angeles County, in November. Robinson will be allowed to stay on the board until the end of the year, at which point Villaraigosa will appoint someone else. For 33 years, Robinson served the Los Angeles in a variety of positions including the Office of the City Administrative Officer, Department of Recreation and Parks and the Community Development Department. Robinson is a resident of Inglewood and is a 1975 graduate of Scripps College in Claremont.

• County Supervisor Zev Yaroslavsky - has been on the Metro Board since 1994. He was the driving force behind the Orange Line bus way across the San Fernando Valley and led the effort to modernize the HollywoodBowlAmphitheater. Yaroslavsky served on the Los Angeles Council from 1975 - 1994. Since 1991, Yaroslavsky has been associated with the National Democratic Institute for International Affairs (NDI), a non-governmental organization headquartered in Washington, D.C., that promotes the development of democratic institutions in burgeoning democracies. Yaroslavsky is a graduate of Fairfax High school and received his BA and MA from UCLA. Yaroslavsky represents the third district, which covers all of West Los Angeles County, including Beverly Hills.

Each member of the Metro Board has a transportation deputy who assists them in making decisions. Karen Heit works with Dubois to represent southeast LA. Southeast LA has the distinction of being the only quadrant of the county that does not have any of the City of LA in it, making their regional focus a little different from the majority.

"Our first priority is what is good for gateway cities and then the county as a whole," Heit said. "We read through [the Metro documents] and look for issues that might impact our areas. In South East LA County, we're about as far away from the subway as we can get but there might be county wide issues. We're also concerned about what's good for West LA."

Although Heit and Dubois discuss the issues that come before the Metro Board, ultimately it is Dubois who makes the final decision.

"She reads every report, which is kind of unheard of for a board member, then we talk about it and decide on a yes or no vote," Heit said. "She's the one that gets up there and has to vote, I give her my best opinion and we talk about it then she does what she wants. It's a huge responsibility. You're literally spending billions of dollars and you go by what you believe to be the best choice. She takes it seriously because it's tax money."

San Gabriel Valley representative Fasana said because the Metro board meets only once a month and the metro staff works every day, oftentimes the board will take staff's recommendation.

"We meet through committees and we meet once a month as an entire board," Fasana said. "The staff of Metro has a day to day responsibility to run Metro and I say that on at least 90 percent of issues the staff recommends, there isn't really substantial disagreement among the board."

Because he represents the San Gabriel Valley, Fasana said it influences every decision he makes.

"I look at the entire range of programs we have and try to figure out if we have a reasonable chance of funding [and implementing] that plan," Fasana said. "I look at the data from the metro staff about various ridership, these are all factors I tried to consider. I get input from the committees I serve on and Metro as well. In San Gabriel Valley I get input from the council government so those are sort of ways that a decision is reached from my standpoint."

The Metro Board will be making decisions on the LPA on October 28 at 9:30 a.m. Staff will then have a year to create the final Environmental Review and at that point the board will make the remainder of the decisions about the project.
