"Happy Birthday Rudy"

Just wanted to send a note [as Sept. 30 was] Rudy Cole's birthday. We became great friends after I sold him his cell phone. We had a very unique relationship and I treasured our friendship. I saw him a few times a month until I moved back to Arizona five years ago, and then I just called on his birthday. I am so saddened to see of his death without speaking since last year. He was a great man.

Members of the public are invited to attend a dedication ceremony for Rudy Cole on Sunday, Oct. 6 at 2:45 p.m. at Greystone Mansion.

Councilmembers debate lobbyist disclosure forms

Lobbyists who appear before the Beverly Hills City Council will soon have to fill out a more "robust" form and enter an online database, according to direction given by the city council at a study session on Sept. 24.

"I think the bottom line for me is that the form we have now is embarrassing and in looking at 30 cities, we were on the low totem pole of what we're asking people to sign," said Vice Mayor Lili Bosse. "I'm hoping that we can all at least agree that what we're asking for now needs to be changed."

Revising the lobbyist disclosure form is a recommendation from the Mayor's Sunshine Task Force, created by Mayor John Mirisch earlier this year in an effort to promote transparency.

The task force had suggested that information from the revised form be available for public view in an internet database. Other distinctions from the city's current form is that the proposed revised form would require the lobbyist sign that the information is true under penalty of perjury and that he or she may be fined $500 for knowingly violating provisions.

Additionally, lobbyists would be required to disclose all lobbying activities in the City of Beverly Hills for the prior year, including outcomes.

The deadline for lobbyists to submit the form would be within 10 days of starting lobbying services for that year. The lobbyist would need to identify his or herself as a lobbyist and the name of his or her client during presentations or meetings.

Fred Fenster, a member of the Mayor's Sunshine Task Force, presented the revised form to the city council for review.

Fenster said the current form was missing information. Fenster looked at about 30 different websites to see how cities, counties and states dealt with lobbyist registration, he said.

"What we want to do is basically the following: identify them, identify their client, identify what the goal is of their lobbying activities so that anybody that is listening to them will know what efforts they are making to influence an outcome that is brought before the city council," said Fenster.

Councilmember Julian Gold said he agreed with the goals to identify lobbyists, their clients and their goals, but found the form as it had been proposed was "overly broad" and "unworkable."

Gold pointed out that the form proposed required a "detailed summary specifically describing each lobbying act in which your employer engaged."

"Well how do I get that and what if they don't want to tell me? And under penalty of perjury of not being accurate for that?" said Gold. "This is just overbroad and frankly unworkable."

The task force had proposed to "exempt all unpaid charitable organizations who advocate for the general benefit of the Beverly Hills citizenry."

Councilmember Willie Brien said he felt no one should be exempted.

"Exempting people, whoever it is, makes it very challenging," said Brien. "There are charitable organizations that are not for profit organizations that come before us and lobby for things that they want and I would want them and expect them to identify themselves as lobbying on behalf of somebody."

The council agreed not to exempt charitable organizations from disclosing lobbying activities. The council also agreed to clarify inconsistent definitions of "lobbyist," as well as defining pay or the level of remuneration that would classify someone as a lobbyist.

Councilmember Nancy Krasne proposed moving forward with the new form and database, but reviewing the process in six months.

City Attorney Larry Wiener said he would work with Fenster on finalizing a form with council direction. A revision in the form would also require a change in the Beverly Hills municipal code.

Other initiatives suggested by the task force, in addition to revising the current lobbyist disclosure form, include presenting pros and cons on staff reports, posting city councilmembers' contact information on the city website, providing independent analysis for all city contracts, and posting all official documentation in an easy to read format on the city website.

City Council may modify how it collects development fees

The Beverly Hills City Council discussed potentially modifying the way in which the city collects its fees related to development projects within the city at the study session on Sept. 24.

"In a number of cases, we've seen that we've had fees associated with projects that are first actually payable to the city once the project takes off," said Mayor John Mirisch, who requested the discussion. "I wanted to look at perhaps maybe having the fees payable once the agreements are made. That way the city has the public benefit up front as opposed to having to wait on the contingency of whether the project happens or doesn't happen for whatever reason."

Development agreements are contracts between a local jurisdiction and a developer or landowner. Sometimes, these agreements require payment of fees to the city.

The staff report showed two recent development agreements: the Robinson's May site at 9900 Wilshire Boulevard and the Beverly Hilton Hotel Suite as examples. The 9900 building has a public benefit contribution of $30 million and the Beverly Hilton has a public benefit contribution of $10.2 million.

All councilmembers agreed that fee collection should be looked at on a case by case basis.

"I don't think we need a particular policy that says well we're going to do it all this way or we're going to do it all a different way," said Councilmember Julian Gold. "But I think that to the extent that we can maximize the benefit to the community both in terms of the amount of money we collect and in terms of creating an incentive of getting things done quickly -- I think that's fine."

The council discussed that for larger development projects, arranging annual fees would serve as an incentive to build more quickly.

Traffic and Parking Commission to discuss parking modification on El Camino Drive

Sixty-two percent of single family homes on the 300 block of El Camino Drive have requested a modification of "Zone C" permits on both sides of the 300 block between Gregory Way and Olympic Boulevard. The Traffic and Parking Commission will discuss the request today.

The resident who initiated the petition requested a unique zone for the 300 block of El Camino Drive.

"The concern was misused permits from different sections of the C zone parking on the block," said Transportation Planner Martha Eros.

The block is currently a part of Zone C, which includes the 200 and 300 blocks of Linden Drive to Rodeo Drive. Zone C was established in 1979. Zone D, on the 200 block of South El Camino Drive, was also created at that time, according to Eros. Most of Zone C has a parking restriction of no parking 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday except by Permit C.

In response to a resident initiated petition in 2004, the parking restrictions for the 300 block of South El Camino was modified to no parking anytime except by permit C between Gregory Way and the south property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and no parking 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday except by Permit C between the north property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and the east-west alleyway immediately north of Olympic Boulevard, according the city's staff report.

El Camino Drive resident Stuart Rosen said though he initially signed the petition, he has since changed his mind and no longer supports a modification.

"If we want to park on any of the streets between here and Spalding to park and go see a friend, our permit will not allow us to do that and that's a big, big problem," said Rosen, who also said that half a dozen residents on the block did not drive. "It's too limiting."

Residents of the 300 block have requested the city change permit designation only on the 300 block to address permit parking misuse. According to the report, staff conducted counts on the block at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. on Sept. 19. Of 25 vehicles recorded, 12 vehicles displayed Zone "C" permits assigned to the 300 block of South El Camino and two displayed C permits assigned within the C quadrant. Three disabled, five work/service trucks, and three vehicles without permits were also parked.

While the petitioners have requested a separate zone, staff has recommended the block be changed from Zone C and included into an existing Zone D, which only currently covers the 200 block of South El Camino Drive.

Staff has recommended that the parking restrictions be modified to no parking any-time except by permit D between Gregory Way and the south property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and no parking 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday, except by permit D between north property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and the alleyway immediately north of Olympic Boulevard.

The Traffic and Parking Commission will discuss a possible modification at its meeting today at 9:00 a.m.

Fire damages Wallace Ridge home

A 4,600 square foot house on the 1000 block of Wallace Ridge suffered significant damage due to a fire on Sept. 26 that took firefighters approximately two hours to put out.

“Essentially the rear half of the house has been destroyed,” said Beverly Hills Fire Chief Ralph Mundell. “It was in the attic, so the roof has collapsed in two different places and there’s significant damage in the rooms below due to both water damage and smoke and fire damage.”

The Beverly Hills Fire Department was notified of the fire at 9:01 p.m. via an alarm activation. The fire was upgraded to a structure fire after a neighbor called reporting he or she could see flames.

“We would send a single engine company on an alarm activation and on a structure fire, we’re going to send two engines from Beverly Hills, three engines in this particular case because its north of Sunset [Boulevard], a truck, and then we’re going to get another engine company from West Hollywood, which is L.A. County Fire and we’re going to send a rescue ambulance and a battalion chief [as a first alarm response],” said Mundell.

No other houses were affected by the fire. The assistant to the owner of the home was present at the time of the fire. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

“It’s not suspicious. We think that it may have been one of the devices in one of the rooms and we’ll have a full report on that within the week,” said Mundell.

Through the BHFD’s mutual aid agreement, the BHPD was assisted by the Los Angeles City, Los Angeles County, Culver City and Santa Monica Fire Departments.

One Los Angeles County firefighter suffered a minor hand injury. No civilians were injured.

Yaniv Sadka, to raise $1,700 last week for pediatric cancer research in an in-school fundraiser.

Sadka, a member of the school’s service learning class, founded the organization last summer, after meeting Benny, a child Sadka coached in lacrosse who was diagnosed with Lymphoma during the summer season.

“I was personally affected by a child who suffered from Lymphoma. I coached him at the West LA Lacrosse League in Cheviot Hills,” said Sadka. “Over the course of [this] summer, his health really deteriorated – we bonded a lot -- and he ended up passing away.”

In honor of September being Childhood Cancer Awareness Month, Teens Curing Cancer and Service Learning held a fundraiser in which Sadka shared his personal story, which was read to Beverly High students in their sixth period classes.

The class who raised the most money won a Diddy Riese cookie party.

“It grew to be more than just a competition about cookies, but a care about a cause. It was really special to see the school come together as a whole and raise $1,700,” said Sadka, who said they had set a goal of $1,000.

In the non-profit’s first year, Teens Curing Cancer raised $7,000 for pediatric cancer research. Teens Curing Cancer will donate all proceeds to a larger organization, which has not yet been chosen.

“One hundred percent of the money is donated to childhood cancer [research],” said Sadka, who said the organization is run by teen volunteers.

Maple Counseling Center may relocate outside of Beverly Hills

The Maple Counseling Center’s CEO Marcy Kaplan gave the Beverly Hills City Council an update on the center’s current lease agreement at the formal meeting on Sept. 24.

“The current building where we have been was sold several months ago and it is looking unlikely that we will be able to get a new long term lease here,” said Kaplan, in a phone interview. “Costs being what they are, it seems difficult that we’ll identify alternative space within the city that is affordable to us.”

Kaplan said the center, which needs a 10,000 square foot space, is looking at Beverly Hills-adjacent areas, but keeping all options open. Kaplan said services to the city, BHUSD, and Beverly Hills residents will not be affected.

“The Maple Counseling Center and the City of Beverly Hills have been ongoing partners since the center's inception back in 1972," said Kaplan during the meeting. "We're very grateful that you have always been there to support the center's important work."

The center provides counseling services to everyone regardless of their inability to pay.

The Maple Counseling Center recently received a $200,000 grant from Cedars-Sinai Medical Center for relocation costs or physical improvements, said Kaplan.

The grant awarded to the center was part of a $2 million grant awarded by Cedars-Sinai to health clinics and first-responder agencies throughout Los Angeles County. Other recipients include Saban Community Clinic, Venice Family Clinic, and Planned Parenthood Los Angeles.

Kaplan said she updated the council because the city has been very supportive of the center and was instrumental in the center's creation. Kaplan delivered a similar update at a Board of Education meeting in August.

The center's lease is up next April. Kaplan also asked the council to let her know of alternative space options within the city if they had suggestions.

"In the event that we must relocate, our delivery of services to the residents of Beverly Hills and city employees will certainly not change," said Kaplan on Sept. 24. "We will continue to deliver our services to the Beverly Hills Unified School District as we have for the past 40 plus years. All programs to support the city's employees and city departments will continue to be provided as requested as they are now."

BHPD investigates suspicious package on Olympic and Robertson

The Beverly Hills Police Department closed the area surrounding the Shell Station on the North West corner of Olympic and Robertson for approximately two hours on Sept. 26 after receiving an initial report that a suspicious package had been left in the area.

"We contacted the L.A. County Sheriff's Department for assistance and the sheriff's bomb squad examined the device and determined that it was not an explosive device," said BHPD Lt. Lincoln Hoshino, who said the sheriff's department has expertise in bomb disposal.

The BHPD received an initial report at approximately 12:20 p.m. last Thursday that a male had walked onto the Shell Gas Station and left behind a small gas can covered by a trash can. Later, it was believed the can may have fallen off a truck.

The BHPD responded by clearing the neighboring businesses and a private school in the area. All lanes were closed in the immediate surrounding area. The area was cleared up and reopened at approximately 2:45 p.m.

The Wallis asks that current and former residents share images, stories, cards and other artifacts from the Beverly Hills Post Office, included in both the National and Local Registers of Historic Places.

The Wallis welcomes recollections of life-changing correspondence that arrived by post, memories of shipping or receiving holiday packages, photographs and celebrity encounters.

The "Post About the Post Office" campaign will collect significant moments that passed through the grand halls and showcase them in a future display at the hall and on-line.

The post office, known as the Beverly Hills Main Post Office, opened on April 28, 1934 and served Beverly Hills until its closure in 1999. The entrance to the post office will now serve as the Grand Hall, the lobby for the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts.

The Wallis will host its Opening Gala

Councilmembers are hesitant to allow volunteers in parking enforcement

The Beverly Hills City Council discussed the possibility of using volunteers to enforce the appropriate uses of disabled placards at the study session on Sept. 24.

"I think we have to patrol our own environment and I have faith that with good training [and] with the designation of somebody in some quasi-official capacity, we can get through this and actually not have violence around this and at the same time serve our residents well," said Councilmember Julian Gold, who requested the item be discussed.

Addressing disabled placard abuse has been set as a priority for the city council.

Director of Parking Operations Chad Lynn gave a brief presentation looking for city council direction.

The council directed staff to present more information. Some councilmembers had concerns about volunteer safety and potentially discriminatory practices against those who have medical conditions that allow them to use disabled placards, though they may not appear to be physically disabled.

Daniel Negari Founder of “.XYZ” and 2003 Beverly High Graduate

Tell us about the domain extension you own, “.xyz”?

A domain extension is a global top level domain (gTLD), so something similar to “.com.” “.Xyz” is a top level domain for every website everywhere. We end the alphabet with x-y-z, so we end the domain name the same way. “.Xyz” is my latest start up. I’ve been approved by ICANN [Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers] to run the registry. I am the youngest owner of a registry to date, and it’s just a really exciting time.

Why is this important?

There is currently 130 million “.com” and “.net” domain names registered, so if you want to register a “.com” domain name today, you’re probably going to be stuck with registering a three or four word [site] that might have dashes in it or numbers and might not accurately describe your product or service that you’re trying to advertise online. With the introduction of “.xyz”, it’s really providing a fresh start to the internet where people will be able to register the “.xyz” of their choice that will appropriately represent the product, service, blog or whatever you want to do online.

How did you get involved with purchasing domain extensions?

I’ve always been interested in domain name extensions. I first met somebody who made a deal with the King of West Samoa to run “.ws” and after I met him, I had the idea of starting my own domain extension. That was back in around 2006 and since then I’ve been following up with ICANN, which is the company that approves people to run new domain name registries. I was waiting for them to open up the program to allow for people to apply for new top level domains and when the opportunity came, I applied for three. I’ve currently secured two and I have one more pending. It’s kind of a life passion of mine where I always wanted to have a chance of changing the face of the internet. I wanted to have the opportunity to really give internet users around the world, regardless of when they came online, an opportunity to really secure an online identity that will easily represent them.

What is the process like?

ICANN was set up in 1998. Since then they’ve been trying to open up the new generic top level domain program. There were a lot of delays, mainly because VeriSign didn’t want other top level domains out there because they didn’t want competition for “.com” and “.net.” [The program] finally made its way through a couple of years ago. I worked hard on my application – it was a 300 page application or so. I didn’t sleep for three days right before the deadline and I got it out there. It was a very detailed application. You had to have certain technical requirements met in order to apply. There is a $185,000 application fee towards approving the application and there really was no timetable as to when you could or could not get approved. It has been a few years pending. Since, my applications have been approved and right now, I’m in queue to get a contract signed and do delegation testing, and ultimately, be able to add “.xyz” to the root zone files, which is the way the entire internet works. Sometime early next year, we should be able to see “.xyz” in the zone files. When that occurs, we will then be able to sell “.xyz” domains directly and through the popular registrars in the world, like godaddy, etc.

You have “.college” too?

Yes, “.college” is another top level domain name that I’ve secured. It’s really the first unrestricted education-oriented domain extension and I’m targeting educational institutions as well as companies who might be looking to create a training program on a “.college”. A company like McDonald’s might want to use “McDonalds.college” as the website to host their training programs and/or recruiting programs to recruit college students. High school students can have a chance to register their name “.college” as an online presence as they’re applying to colleges to differentiate themselves from the pack. “.Edu” is the other education-related domain extension. In order to get a “.edu,” you have to be an accredited post secondary institution by the United States Department of Commerce. Even if you have that, you’re only allowed to have one domain name. USC has “usc.edu” but USC has a lot of colleges. Many times, [the colleges] are forced to use sub-domains to represent those websites where now they can actually have their reflective “.college.” Now, maybe Boston College will register “boston.college”, so it’s really an exciting opportunity and just to have the foresight to be the person that brings that to the internet really is exciting.

You mentioned you had a domain extension pending. Which one is that?
“.now”

What would “.now” be used for?

“.Now” is for anything instant [and] direct response related. I actually am in a contention set with that one. My application has been approved. However, there were six applicants total that have all been approved and at this point, I’m going to an auction to compete [for “.now.”] For example, Amazon is one of the other people who applied for it. To give you an idea of this top level domain program, Google applied for 100 top level domains. Amazon applied for 79 top level domains. It’s a great opportunity because I’m now kind of mingling with some of the largest technology companies in the world. At 27 years old, I have an opportunity to compete with multi-billion dollar companies.

When did your interest in entrepreneurship begin?

I’ve been an entrepreneur my whole life. I can’t remember the day I wasn’t trying to do something to make money. It comes back to maybe when I was selling or trading basketball cards when I went to Hawthorne School. One of my first entrepreneurial moments was when I was trying to register domain names back at Hawthorne School when I was 12 in the computer lab. I started my first business where I was custom making computers for friends and family. At that time, I had a pager and printed up flyers. My whole life I’ve always loved business and being successful and helping people get things and it’s really a great honor to be as blessed as I have been and to have the success that I’ve had. In general, I try to stay out of the media. More recently, because of the new top level domain program, I’ve decided to use my name to help promote the cause and ultimately try to bring awareness to the top level domains that I’m going for, especially “.xyz” because ultimately I think I have a chance to go after “.com.”

It might be a long term plan of mine. It could be 30, 40 years from now to where I can get to a point where internet users will start to think of “.xyz” before “.com.” My goal is that in the next few years, people will think of “.com,” “.net,” and “.xyz” when it comes to the order in choice of registering the domain name of their product. Maybe as time goes on, they’ll think of “.com” [then] “.xyz.” Hopefully, one day people will just think of “.xyz.”

What else are you involved in?

I have an advertising agency. We are one of the larger advertisers on Google and Yahoo. We have a web development company where we build high-end web properties. I have a domain name company. I also have some real estate investment companies. I used to be a real estate broker, but I’ve since moved on. I actually gave that business to my mom who is now the owner of that company. I’m no longer involved in that but I am still involved in real estate investments, personally.

What do you expect for “.xyz” in the future?

Trademark holders will have an opportunity to register first through a sunrise phase. That should be sometime early next year in the first quarter and open registration should start sometime in the second or third quarter of next year. We’re currently working timelines with ICANN, so we don’t have exact dates yet. We do have projections. We’re planning on getting a million registrations our first year

What are your personal goals for the future?

I’m really looking to create competition, innovation and choice for internet users around the world. I really want to change the face of the internet. This is one step towards accomplishing that grander scheme. It’s really hard for a business to come online today and get a domain name that properly represents them. All of the domain extensions that have previously been available are specific for certain groups. There’s never been a generic extension that’s been intended to be for everyone around the world. “.Com” was actually meant for commercial institutions; “.net” was meant for networks; “.org” was meant for nonprofit organizations. When you look at where we are today, “.com” and “.net” are used for everyone.

Did you have any experiences at Beverly High influence your career?

I grew up in Beverly Hills. I went to Hawthorne from Kindergarten to eighth grade, then I went to Beverly High, and I subsequently went to USC. There have been lots of positives that have come from all portions of my education.

Do you live in Beverly Hills now?

I live in both Las Vegas and Beverly Hills. I have 25 people or so that work in our Beverly Hills office and we’re just getting our Vegas operation up and running and I hope to have 100 people there over the next few years for “.xyz.”

Honorees discuss how Beverly High influenced their lives

by Andrea Aldana

Athletics

DEREK GRAHAM Class of 1980 Football, Basketball, and Track

Derek Graham's athletic career at Beverly High set him up for success as a wide receiver at Princeton University.

As a wide receiver for the Beverly High football team, Graham was 1st Team All CIF 1st Team All Ocean League, 1st Team all Westside, and Beverly High Athlete of the Year.

Graham holds receiving records at Princeton University for most receiving years in a career, most receiving yards in a season, most receiving yards in a game, highest receiving yardage per reception in a game, and highest receiving yardage per reception in a career.

Graham, who was also a sprinter on the Beverly High Track Team, was All CIF, All League in the 330 yard hurdles, 220 yard dash and the 4 x 440 relay team, that set a Beverly High school record.

Graham went on to play football for all four years at Princeton University and also ran track his freshman year.

Coach Jack Riley was Graham's varsity football coach at Beverly High. In his earlier years at Beverly, he was coached by Ben Bushman. Graham's track coach was Chuck Kloes.

"We played Morningside my senior year and it was a very good team and I had 17 receptions and three touchdowns for [267] yards, so it was a lot of fun to play in a game and make such a big contribution and win the game," said Graham.

In his senior year at Beverly High, Graham was the No. 3 ranked receiver in the CIF with 68 receptions for 1,224 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Graham is currently living in West Torrance and working in the real estate business.

MIKE FRANKS Class of 1954 Tennis

Mike Franks was the first American to play singles and doubles with black players in South Africa and southern Rhodesia and was also the first American to play in Russia and Cyprus.

In 1951, as a freshman at Beverly High, Franks won the National Boys Doubles Championship, while playing the junior tournament circuit.

Jonny Lesch, a teammate on the Beverly High team, beat Franks at the finals of the National Junior Boys Championship in 1953.

"We had the two best high school boys in the country going to the same high school," said Franks.

During Franks' senior year, he won the Southern California Junior Singles Championship, was seeded No. 1 in the National Juniors, and was a member of the Junior Davis team.

At UCLA, Franks majored in physical education. While studying at UCLA, Franks won the Southern California Intercollegiate Singles Championship. As a senior at UCLA, Franks won the Southern California Men's Singles Championship.

Franks went on to compete at Wimbledon three times.

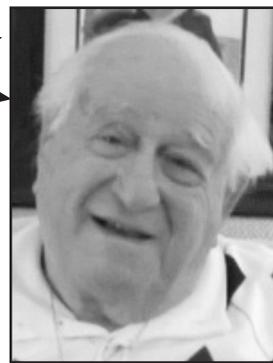

After his tennis career ended in 1961, Franks became a stock broker. He played Wimbledon again in 1964 as a weekend player.

Franks organized many pro celebrity tennis tournaments for 28 years beginning in 1974.

Franks said Carol Ackerman, his girlfriend at Beverly Vista, told him about Herbie Flam, who Franks called "the greatest tennis player to ever go Beverly High." Ackerman's father was the tennis coach at UCLA and that's how Franks began playing Tennis.

Franks said Flam was the first player Franks had ever heard of and they later played together on the Davis Cup team.

IRVING KAHN Class of 1940 Baseball

Irving Kahn remembers being sent to bat during softball in grammar school to win the game.

"I used to hit the balls over the fence so it would take them a whole lot of time to get the ball," said Kahn. "That's how I got started."

Kahn moved to Beverly Hills in 1937 and still lives a block and a half away from where he grew up on South Bedford Drive.

Kahn was known as "Lucky" by his Beverly High teammates. Kahn said he was named Lucky one day after getting a hit. In 1940, as a senior left fielder, Kahn was awarded "Best Player" and a recipient of the Blanket Award.

At 17, Kahn was asked the sign with the Hollywood Stars, a minor league team.

"I was asked to go and try out for them. They wanted to put [me] in the California C league," said Kahn. "They played in the summer and I had to get permission from my father [who] said, 'you're not playing in the summer. It's too hot.'"

The team played in New Mexico and Arizona.

Kahn enlisted in the Navy in December of 1941 and served in the Philippines and Okinawa, receiving a star for his service.

Arts

ALAN NIEROB Class of 1975

Alan Nierob, executive vice president of Rogers & Cowan's Entertainment Division, has represented big names in entertainment including Denzel Washington, Hugh Jackman, and Giorgio Armani.

"[Beverly High] has been a wonderful influence. I went to Beverly and a lot of the people that I work with today, I actually know from high school," said Nierob. "It's funny. A lot of my working colleagues in the industry are people I see outside of the industry because of sports in Beverly Hills, or youth leagues."

In his last year at UCLA, Nierob, a communication studies major, interned at Rogers & Cowan.

He was hired as an assistant in 1979 and stayed with the company eventually being promoted to his current position as executive vice president in the entertainment division.

Nierob is a frequent guest lecturer at UCLA and delivered the Commencement Address to the 2010 Communication Studies graduating class.

Though not being honored for athletics, Nierob was a varsity athlete at Beverly High and played on the Norman baseball, basketball and football teams.

Nierob is a founding member and an executive board member of the Beverly Hills Basketball League.

Nierob said he grew up with the Paysinger family. Beverly High Principal Carter Paysinger was a year ahead of Nierob and they played football together.

"It's easy to work with people that you know growing up because when you want coaches from the high school to give a clinic to the little league, they'll do it," said Nierob. "And a lot of these kids have fed into the programs at the high school."

SAM SIMON Class of 1973

Sam Simon, co-creator of The Simpsons, and television writer, producer and director of Taxi, Cheers, The Tracey Ullman Show and The Drew Carey Show, is a recipient of eleven Emmys and a Peabody award.

Alumni Association Hall of Fame Inductees

LIZ CLAMAN

Class of 1981

Liz Claman, Fox Business Network anchor, credits her career in journalism to her time at Beverly High.

“The Beverly High journalism department of which I was a very interested and exposed member – I was co-editor-in-chief of the Watchtower Yearbook Staff – laid the most solid foundation for a future in journalism of the highest levels in my opinion,” said Claman.

Claman said legendary journalism teacher Gil Chesterton is the reason she is where she is today.

“He truly lit the fire that became this blaze for me of being an international journalist,” said Claman. “I couldn’t be more grateful to Beverly Hills High School.”

Claman mentioned fellow students at Beverly High that she had worked with who later became successful. When she was editor of the yearbook, Eric Coleman was the editor of Highlights. Claman called Coleman “a major player” at Bloomberg International.

Claman also mentioned Chris Lloyd, creator of Modern Family, who was Highlights editor when she was a freshman at Beverly High and Mayor John Mirisch, a former editor of Highlights. Orly Lowe, Claman’s co-editor of Watchtower, became the book editor of the Los Angeles Times.

“Anyone who was touched by Gil Chesteron and the journalism program at Beverly High became successful in whatever field they reached for,” Claman said.

After graduating from U.C. Berkeley, Claman was hired as a news and production assistant for KCBS-TV. She then worked for ABC in Columbus, Ohio, and later, Cleveland. She then became an anchor and reporter for NBC TV in Boston. She was recruited by CNBC in 1998 where she worked for nine years before leaving to help start Fox Business Network.

“That’s another thing Beverly High taught me,” said Claman. “Take chances in life. I could have stayed quite comfortably at CNBC, but I wanted an opportunity to help build something that had really smart people behind it and that was Fox Business.”

Claman now lives in Edgewater, New Jersey.

JOSH BERGER

Class of 1984

Josh Berger, President and Managing Director at Warner Bros. Entertainment UK, Ireland and Spain, was introduced to production as a student at Beverly High.

“I guess I really had my first semi-professional experiences when I was a student there, particularly in the performing arts department and the TV station, and I developed a real interest in production and the creative process,” said Berger. “I was very lucky to be at Beverly where they had the wherewithal to allow an interest like that to grow.”

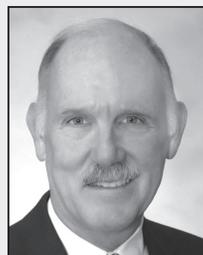

Berger was also student government president of his class all four years. Berger was also the centerfielder for the Norman baseball team and later played for the Harvard University baseball team.

Berger, who is now a British citizen, lives in London. Berger has lived in Europe for the last 24 years.

Berger said he was interested in living in Europe after attending Harvard University in Massachusetts. Berger had worked for Lorimar Telepictures, which was bought by Warner Brothers, who then offered him a job.

As President & Managing Director of Warner Bros. Entertainment UK, Ireland & Spain, Berger is responsible for all of Warner Bros.’ business activities in the three territories.

Last year he oversaw the launch of Warner Bros. Studios Leavesden, located 15 miles north of London where all the Harry Potter films were shot. The Warner Bros. Studio Tour London - The Making of Harry Potter, a walking tour that leads visitors around the Leavesden studios, also launched last year.

McCarthy Lifetime Achievement Award

DICK DOUGLAS

Dick Douglas began his coaching career at Torrance High School and was a Los Angeles County Beach Lifeguard before beginning his coaching career in the BHUSD in 1966.

“Working in Beverly Hills has just made an indelible mark on me, I grew as a professional and established really lifelong relationships with people that I worked with as well as a lot of the students and their parents,” said Douglas, who coached water polo until 1987 when he became an assistant principal at El Rodeo School.

Walt Puffer, then-coach of the Beverly High swim and water polo team, had been recently appointed to an administrative position. Puffer, who was a lifeguard with Douglas, told him to apply for the opening on the coaching staff.

“A wonderful combination of teaching Advanced Placement History and coaching swim and water polo was something I really treasured and it was tough to leave that when I became an administrator in the district,” said Douglas.

Douglas said his two most important influences in the district were Ron Crawford and Chuck Kloes. Douglas said Crawford, a three-time Olympian, showed him so much about water polo “that it can’t even be measured.”

Douglas said Kloes’ mentoring in the classroom raised the level of his own teaching.

“At the same time, I had the chance to meet and work with some young people and their parents and became very, very close to them and we’re still in contact [with many of them] today,” said Douglas.

Douglas also later became principal at Hawthorne School and returned to BHUSD in 2010 for approximately a year as superintendent.

John Ingle Lifetime Achievement Award

JONATHAN PRINCE

Class of 1976

T.V. Director/Producer Jonathan Prince was very involved in the performing arts department at Beverly High.

Prince sang in the choir, the Minnesingers and Madrigals Singers. As an actor, under the direction of mentor and late Drama teacher, John Ingle, Prince acted in countless Beverly High productions.

Prince created the Emmy-winning, NBC Series, American Dreams, and also co-wrote and produced 18 Again and was a writer/producer on the TV series Blossom.

Mayor John Mirisch said it was a question of both training and costs.

Councilmember Willie Brien said he was interested in reviewing how the process worked, what the police chief thought about the program, and if placards would be confiscated if found to be misused. Brien said he was not against the idea but was interested in understanding it better.

Vice Mayor Lili Bosse had concerns about legal issues and the city’s liability.

Bosse said that other communities who have tried the program have found it to be contentious.

Lynn said that the city had found that only three percent of placards had been misused during enforcement “stings”.

The item was originally placed on the August 20 study session. According to the staff report, pursuant to the California Vehicle code and the City’s municipal code, the city may use volunteer staff in the enforcement of disabled parking violations, if the City authorizes individuals with the authority to do so.

If the council chooses to move in this direction, staff has recommended that the City provide training to volunteers, including how to deal with hostile situations, and relating to laws and associated operations. Staff also recommends volunteers wear a distinct uniform so individuals can be identified as an authority of the City, and not be the same as sworn Police Officers, or other uniformed enforcement of parking regulations.

Staff estimates that implementation of a program would take 12 to 18 months.

According to the report, staff estimates about $30,000 in overtime funding that was approved already for increased enforcement of disabled placard misuse could be redirected to support the suggested program.

Staff is expected to return to city council with additional information.

City Council to review regulations on sale of electronic cigarettes

The City Council will discuss whether to regulate the sale and consumption of e-cigarettes in the city at the study session today at 2:30 p.m.

The item was proposed for discussion by Councilmember Julian Gold.

E-cigarettes are battery powered devices that provide inhaled doses of nicotine in a variety of flavors.

According to the staff report, other cities such as Temple City, Duarte and Seal Beach have imposed moratoriums or regulations on the sale of e-cigarettes. As an example, Seal Beach imposed a 45-day moratorium halting e-cigarette shops. Temple City requires the sale of e-cigarettes to be located at least 1,000 feet away from schools and parks.

The staff report presents the council with a variety of options including imposing a moratorium on future business licenses related to the sale of e-cigarettes, reviewing the Fresh Air Dining Ordinance --passed in Beverly Hills in 2008 banning smoking in outdoor dining areas – to include e-cigarettes, or amending an ordinance regulating tobacco retailers to include e-cigarettes.

BHHS Football Team Routed by San Marino

Normans to play at South Pasadena Friday night.

By Steven Herbert

When asked to explain why Beverly High lost to San Marino, 68-6, in a non-league football game Friday night at Nickoll Field, Norman coach Charlie Stansbury said, "They're good."

"They have a solid group of seniors that execute at a high level," Stansbury said.

Beverly Hills (0-4) was again hurt by turnovers. It lost the ball on a mishandled center snap on its first possession. Its second possession ended when a pass deflected off a would-be receiver for an interception.

Injuries forced the Normans to have two new starters on the offensive line and have a third player play a different position, Stansbury said.

Beverly Hills trailed 40-0 at the end of the first quarter, 54-0 at halftime and 68-0 entering the fourth quarter. Eli Sachs caught a one-yard pass from Zack Bialobos for the lone Norman touchdown.

The Titans (3-1) moved three spots up to fifth in the Southern Section Mid-Valley Division poll released Monday.

What's Next?

The Normans are scheduled to play at South Pasadena Friday night in their final nonleague game. The opening kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

The Tigers (2-2) utilize the run-oriented wing-T formation offense.

The high school football website Calpreps.com projects a 31-7 South Pasadena victory.

The Normans lost to the Tigers, 37-25 last season.

The Panthers were ranked first in the Southern Section Division 1 poll released Monday.

Beverly Hills 12, Palisades 6

Bocchi was a 6-2, 6-0, 6-1 winner and Gorbacheva was a 6-1, 6-0 winner and won her third set by forfeit in an intersectional match at Beverly Hills Sept. 10.

Katarina Stefanovic was a 6-0 winner in the first round at No. 2 singles and won her third-round match by forfeit.

The Binman-Frank doubles team won its second-round match 6-0 and its third-round

Stefanovic was a 6-4 winner in the second round at No. 2 singles for the Normans.

Binman teamed with Yevgine Zatikian for a 6-1 victory at No. 1 singles in the first round.

The Mustangs were ranked fifth in the Southern Section Division 1 poll released Monday.

Girls' Volleyball

Pasadena Poly def. Beverly Hills, 25-23, 21-25, 25-16, 17-25, 16-14

Norman middle blocker Alex Sams and setters Evan Bennett and Elsa Woods drew praise from coach Von Wright for their play in a nonleague match at the Swim-Gym Sept. 24.

"We studied them a lot and it's like we just forgot to do our homework," Wright said after his team fell to 1-6. "We forgot to implement the things we studied."

Wright said his team needed improvement in passing and defense.

Girls' Golf

Beverly High won't field a girls' golf team this year because of a lack of players, coach Jason Newman said.

Six players would have been needed to field a team, Newman said.

The Normans would have had "one player who was definitely varsity caliber" in Lydia Choi. Olivia Reh binder "played some varsity last year but is also a lacrosse player, so hadn't worked on her game much," Newman said.

Three players tried out who "couldn't effectively play golf," Newman said.

"I don't think the people who tried out realized it really takes two weeks of preparation to make a team," Newman said. "You have to be somewhat driven to put in the time to make yourself a golfer."

Newman attributed the low number of students trying to make the team to "less people" being "interested in playing golf right now."

At its peak, there were 11-12 girls in the program and Beverly Hills was able to field both varsity and junior varsity teams, Newman said.

Newman said he is "hopeful" enough players will try out to field a team next year.

There are also fewer boys wanting to play for their team, said Newman, who also coaches the boys' team.

Choi will play on the boys' team under Southern Section rules allowing girls to play on a boys' team if the school does not field a girls' team, Newman said.

Case No. CV 12-05738-R (PJWx)

[HONORABLE MANUEL L. REAL COURTROOM 8]

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA FALLEN STAR, LLC, Plaintiff, v. STAR NEWS BUILDING, LP, a California limited partnership; STAR NEWS BUILDING LLC, a California limited liability Company; MICHAEL KAMEN, an individual; GERSON I. FOX, an individual; and ALL OTHERS, KNOWN OR UNKNOWN CLAIMING ANY LEGAL OR EQUITABLE RIGHT, TITLE, ESTATE, LIEN OR INTEREST IN OR TO THE PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE COMPLAINT ADVERSE TO PLAINTIFF'S TITLE, OR ANY CLOUD ON PLAINTIFF'S TITLE THERETO; and DOES 1 through 100, Inclusive, Defendants.

Plaintiff/Judgment Creditor Fallen Star, LLC's ("Judgment Creditor") Motion For Order Charging Judgment Debtor Gerson I. Fox's ("Judgment Debtor"), individually and as trustee of the Gerson and Gertrude Fox Family Trust dated July 27, 2006 (the "Revocable Trust"), Additional Partnership And Membership Interests To Satisfy Judgment And For Foreclosure Sale ("Motion") came on regularly for hearing on September 16, 2013, before the Honorable Manuel L. Real, Judge Presiding, in Department 8 of the above-entitled court, with appearances by Ronald Richards on behalf of Judgment Creditor and Jeff Coyner behalf of Judgment Debtor. The Court having considered all papers and evidence filed in support of and in opposition to the Motion, all matters subject to judicial notice, having received argument of counsel, and good cause appearing, finds as follows:

Judgment Creditor complied with and satisfied the requirements of United States District Court, Central District of California, Local Rule 7-3 prior to filing the Motion. Judgment Debtor did not oppose the Motion on the merits. United States District Court, Central District of California, Local Rule 7-12.

Pursuant to California Corporations Code, sections 16504 and 17302, a plaintiff may request the Court to enter a charging order against a judgment debtor's personal property interest in a partnership or limited liability company. This Motion is proper as it is brought pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 69(a)(1) and the relevant California Code of Civil Procedure, section 708.310. Here, Judgment Creditor has requested the Court make two separate orders. First, a charging order levying execution of the money judgment in the amount of $15,160,540.35 1, of which the amount of $12,660,540.35 remains unsatisfied, against Judgment Debtor's additional partnership and limited liability company interests. Second, an order permitting Judgment Creditor to foreclose upon those interests.

Where, as here, a valid judgment remains unsatisfied, the Court may issue a charging order on a defendant's various corporate, partnership, and limited liability interests. Notably, the issuance of a charging order is not dependent upon approval by other partners or members of the respective businesses. Hellman v. Anderson, 233 Cal. App.3d 840 (1991).

In this case, Judgment Creditor has adequately demonstrated that the judgment remains unsatisfied and, therefore, the Court believes a charging order is appropriate with respect to each of the partnership and limited liability company interests listed by Judgment Creditor in the Declaration of Ronald Richards filed in support of the Motion.

A second issue the Court must decide is whether foreclosure on Judgment Debtor's now-charged interests is appropriate. Subsequent to issuing a charging order, the Court may, at any time, order a foreclosure on the interests. (Cal. Corp. Code, §§ 16504, 17302; see also Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d at 848-50.) There appears to be some split of authority in the California courts as to whether prior approval of the other partners/members of the partnership or limited liability company is required before the Court may order a foreclosure. Compare Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d 840 with Crocker National Bank v. Perroton, 208 Cal.App.3d 1 (1989). After reviewing the cases and relevant statutes, the Court believes the better approach is that taken by the appellate court in Hellman. Under Hellman, no prior approval or consent of the other partners or members is necessary before ordering foreclosure on a charging order.

Moreover, here no objection has been filed or made by the partnerships, other partners or other members to entry of a charging order or entry of a foreclosure order.

To provide recourse to those other partners or members in cases where there are objections to the sale of a judgment debtor's interest, though no objections were made here, courts are instructed to consider whether the sale will unduly interfere with the business of the partnership or limited liability company. Of course, in order to consider whether the business of the partnership or limited liability company will be unduly interfered with, the Court must be presented with evidence on the issue. The burden of producing such evidence lies with the judgment debtor and other partnership partners or limited liability company members. Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d at 652-53. Defendant has not presented any evidence to satisfy his burden on this issue.

For the foregoing reasons, Judgment Creditor's Motion is granted.

IT IS ORDERED:

(c) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall serve written notice of public sale by personal delivery, federal express ground, or registered or certified mail at their last known addresses, on the Judgment Debtor, on each of the charged partnerships and limited liability companies, via their general partner, manager, or agent for service of process or trustee, and other persons who the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee has reasonable cause to believe, after diligent inquiry, have a substantial interest in the sale property.

(d) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall attempt to sell all of the charged property as a single lot in order to avoid unnecessary expense and resources.

(e) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee may postpone the sale from time to time by continuing the required posting or publication of notice until the date to which the sale is postponed, and appending, at the foot of each such notice, the following: "The above sale is postponed until the _____ day of _____, 2013, at _____ o'clock _____M., _____, Judgment Creditor, by _____, Attorney for the Judgment Creditor, dated _____."

(f) All bidders at the auction shall register, in writing, in advance of the auction on a registration sheet. No undisclosed buyer's agents are allowed, and no undisclosed principals shall be recognized as bidders or successful bidders. All bidders shall be required to show cashier's checks made payable to the Law Offices of Ronald Richards & Associates, A.P.C., Attorney Client Trust Account before the bidding starts. They shall be allowed to bid up to the amount they have disclosed to the auctioneer which shall be noted on a registration sheet. No credit bidding other than the judgment creditor shall be allowed.

(h) Any successful bidder must present evidence of cash, cashier's check written out to the Law Offices of Ronald Richards & Associates, A.P.C., Attorney Client Trust Account or a wire to the same trust account in advance of the bidding which shall be refunded if the bidder who wired funds in advance is not the winning bidder. Failure to comply with this provision shall nullify the winning bid, and the bidding shall not conclude.

(i) The winning bidder at the sale, other than Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee on a credit bid, shall be required to pay 100% of the funds due on the purchase price on the same day and at the conclusion of the auction.

(j) Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall be permitted to credit bid at the foreclosure sale for the charged property up to the amount of the Judgment.

(k) If the terms of the sale are not complied with by the successful bidder, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall proceed to sell the charged property again on the same day if there is sufficient time. If there is insufficient time, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall schedule and notice a subsequent sale of the charged property as provided for herein.

(l) If the charged property is sold pursuant hereto and the successful bidder complies with the terms of the sale, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall execute and deliver all documents necessary to transfer to the successful bidder, without warranty, all the rights, titles, interests, and claims of the Judgment Debtor in the charged property. In addition to any other documents necessary to effect said transfer, such documentary transfer of ownership shall take the form similar to the document attached hereto as Exhibit "A."

(m) Upon completion of the foreclosure sale, the Judgment Creditor shall report to the Court the outcome of the sale and if any credits are due on the Judgment.

(n) If the successful bidder dies before execution and delivery of the documents needed to transfer ownership, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall execute and deliver them to the successful bidder's estate. Such delivery to the estate shall have the same effect as if accomplished during the lifetime of the purchaser.

(o) The purchaser of the charged property shall be deemed to be an innocent purchaser without notice if the purchaser would have been considered an innocent purchaser without notice had the sale been made voluntarily and in person by the Judgment Debtor.

(p) A successful bidder at the foreclosure sale who fails to comply with the terms of the sale shall forfeit to the Judgment Creditor the cash deposit or, at the election of the Judgment Creditor, shall be liable to the Judgment Creditor, on a subsequent sale of the charged property, for all net losses incurred by the Judgment Creditor as a result of such failure.

(q) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee may conduct the foreclosure sale pursuant to the provisions of California Commercial Code, sections 9612 to 9617, as a secured creditor of the Judgment Debtor's charged partnership and membership interests in the above referenced entities in paragraph 1(a) through 1(i).

(r) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee, is hereby ordered to complete the transfer document in a form similar to that attached hereto as Exhibit "A" upon the completion of the foreclosure sale, and execute the transfer document and note the sales price and any credit to the Judgment Debtor after the costs of the sale are deducted. Upon receipt by the purchaser at the time of the foreclosure sale of the transfer document, this Court hereby orders the title of any interests transferred without impairment, further order of the Court, or any additional consent by any party including the entity in which the Judgment Debtor's interest was foreclosed upon.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
