“AUMA requires City Council reevaluate marijuana regulations in the City” [Issue #901]

Since this past November more than 60 percent of Beverly Hills citizens voted in favor of legalization of marijuana, it behooves the candidates for Beverly Hills City Council to express their opinions.

Our new council will surely have much to say as they determine the future of marijuana in our city.

I for one am a proponent, having seen the great medical benefits especially to seniors.

Let the issue be part of the candidates' forum.

Mirisch votes against salary increase for BHPOA employees

Mayor John Mirisch voted against an estimated 15 percent salary increase for employees of the Beverly Hills Police Officer's Association, proposed in a memorandum at the City Council's formal meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 7.

Vice Mayor Nancy Krasne and Councilmembers Julian Gold and Kathy Reims voted in favor of the memorandum of understanding between the City and the BHPOA. Councilmember Lili Bosse did not attend the meeting.

Mirisch explained that he is concerned most about the impact on the City's pension liabilities.

“As much as I appreciate and support the work of our police department, but consistent with how I voted on all the other MOA's for the same reason, it's nothing that I can support,” Mirisch said. “I think that the number one issue facing us as a city, fiscally, is the issue of pension liability.”

The unfunded liabilities currently stand at over $300 million, according to Mirisch.

“To me this is the one element that I am

The Jewish Federation was able to raise over $1 million at Super Sunday on Feb. 12. A number of elected officials attended the event to assist the Federation in its fundraising efforts, which support the programming done throughout the year.

afraid for not just our city, but all cities, because it becomes like a snowball. It has that snowball effect.”

Prior to the approved salary increases, labor negotiator Peter Brown estimated that the City spends around $227,000 to $228,000 annually on the total compensation of each BHPOA employee.

“I actually would not be against increasing take-home pay to an even higher level if the bargaining units were amenable to slowly moving away from defined benefit pensions,” Mirisch said.

The last memorandum of understanding expired on Oct. 6, 2016. The new terms of agreement approved by the majority of the Council will be effective through Sept. 30, 2019.

Over the next three years, the memorandum of understanding will result in a net increase of $3,759,905, according to the staff report.

The BHPOA represents all sworn police employees of the City at the rank of police sergeant, police officer and pre-service police officer, who are recruits attending the police academy training to be a sworn police officer.

Reims did not disagree that the unfunded liabilities will be a deficit to the City in the future; however, she asserted that the solution needs to come from the state.

“We value our police, almost beyond anything, and we want to remain competitive with other police departments in other Cities so I am prepared to support this,” Reims said. “I absolutely think that [pension liabilities] need to be dealt with at the state level in a fair and equitable way, [but] this is the system that we have. If we have the opportunity to participate, in some effort, to look at a long-term solution to this problem, I think Beverly Hills should do so but not on the backs of our employees. I don’t think it would be fair.”

Later in the meeting, Mirisch also voted against the approval of the salary schedules reflecting the negotiated salary increases with the BHPOA.

The California Public Employee’s Retirement System (CalPERS) required the Council to approve a publically available salary schedule for all negotiated pay rate increases.

The City previously paid CalPERS on behalf of classic members belonging to the BHPOA eight percent of the normal member contribution. Classic employees were paying one percent of their normal member contribution.

Mirisch remained consistent with his vote and voted “no” on a resolution terminating the paying and reporting the value of employer and paid member contributions for the BHPOA.

All other Councilmembers in attendance of the meeting voted in favor of both the salary schedules and the resolution.

“Classic” member employees will begin paying their full nine percent member contribution.

Traffic & Parking Commission addresses issues emerging from North Santa Monica reconstruction

Construction on North Santa Monica Boulevard began one week late due to weather delays on Jan. 17, according to Project Manager Samer Elayyan.

The Traffic and Parking Commission received an update on the North Santa Monica Boulevard Reconstruction Project at its meeting on Feb. 2.

Forty metered parking spaces along South Santa Monica Boulevard were removed by the City the evening before construction began, according to the staff report.

Earlier in the meeting, City Council candidate Vera Markowitz spoke during public comment to point out that a lane leading up to the North Bedford Drive parking garage is now experiencing heavy traffic congestion because of the garage’s increased use.

“You took out the parking to create a lane,” Markowitz said. “People can’t park all along Santa Monica [Boulevard].

Those parking structures [like the one on North Bedford Drive] are utilized much more right now because there’s no parking on Santa Monica.”

Commissioner Jake Manaster seemed to disagree that the backup in a traffic lane between Bedford Drive and Roxbury Drive was related to the removal of parking along South Santa Monica Boulevard.

“That’s been going on forever,” Manaster said. “How does the removal of the meters beyond that location affect that? I’m just confused. We didn’t take out a lane.”

Chair David Seidel noted that gross number of parking has increased by adding the assisted parking on top of the Santa Monica 5, but that this addition of parking may need communicated to the public. He also noted that the Commission is tasked with finding ways to alleviate traffic issues that may arise throughout the reconstruction project.

“As we move into this project, things like this are going to pop up that we either did or didn’t anticipate,” Seidel said. “As we see them, we are going to try to address them as near real-time as we can.”

The first phase of construction is on the north curb of North Santa Monica Boulevard. It is estimated to last 50 calendar days, according to Elayyan. During the majority of this phase, all four lanes are expected to be open; however, it is estimated that by May there will be a two-week period where only two lanes will be opened for west-bound traffic. East bound traffic will be detoured to Wilshire Boulevard.

Originally, the construction was going to be divided into two segments: the west segment between Wilshire Boulevard and Alpine Drive and the east segment between Alpine Drive and Doheny Drive. However, residents and local business owners expressed concerns about accessing the business triangle during the renovation, so it was decided the west segment would be broken up into two parts.

The project is now scheduled into three segments which include segment one, Wilshire Boulevard to east of Rodeo Drive; segment two, east of Rodeo Drive to Alpine Drive; segment three, Alpine Drive to Doheny Drive.

For future project updates join the mailing list found at www.beverlyhills.org/future.

Ninth Circuit rejects BHUSD's emergency request to suspend Purple Line construction

Law360, a LexisNexis publication, reported that the Ninth Circuit denied BHUSD's emergency requests to prevent Metro from awarding a $1.4 billion design-build contract for a subway extension project.

The district had asked the appeals court to grant injunctions to prevent Metro and the Federal Transit Administration from receiving or disbursing any federal funds toward the challenged subway route while it appeals U.S. District Judge George H. Wu's denial of injunctions in two parallel lawsuits against the agencies.

Wu previously denied the district's bid to prevent Metro from approving a design-build contract for Section 2 of the Westside Subway Extension.

A two-judge panel denied the requests in a pair of brief orders at the end of January.

The school district's request for a temporary injunction argued that if Metro is allowed to commit federal grant money for the project on Thursday as planned, it would lock itself into the challenged route alignment that goes under a school, even though it's supposed to be reviewing alternatives under the National Environmental Protection Act.

Metro argued they could lose federal funding assistance and the entire project could suffer delays, ultimately costing the taxpayers more money.

"We're pleased with the ruling, which allowed us to issue the construction contract for Section 2 and continue moving forward on building the Purple Line Extension as quickly as we can to Westwood and the Veteran's Administration Medical Center," Metro's Senior Public Communications Officer Kim Upton told the Weekly. "We're excited about the Purple Line because we know it will help relieve traffic and benefit all of Los Angeles, particularly the communities along the line, including Beverly Hills."

Kasowitz Benson Torres & Friedman partner Jennifer Recine, listed as one of the attorneys representing BHUSD, did not return the Weekly's call in time for comment.

The dispute over the $2.4 billion second phase of Los Angeles' long-planned West Side subway extension dates back to November 2012, when the school district sued the FTA. The district then sued the Los Angeles Transportation Agency in November 2016.

In the case against the FTA, Judge Wu ruled in August that the agency failed to properly consider the environmental effects of tunneling under Beverly Hills High School before approving the expansion plan, and ordered a supplemental environmental impact statement.

However, the judge denied the school district's request to invalidate the entire environmental review for Phase 2, which the FTA said could have caused delays and cost taxpayers up to $100 million.

Phase 2 of the subway extension will extend the current Purple Line nine miles from the existing terminus near the Wilshire-Western traffic intersection to the West Los Angeles Veterans Affairs Hospital.

False Security Alarm program update shows increase in false alarms

Statistics listed in the Feb. 7 City Council staff report do not reveal a clear answer as to whether or not the City's False Security Alarm Reduction program has been successful in decreasing the number of false alarm calls made to the Beverly Hills Police Department.

Staff provided a six-month progress report on the implementation of the revised false alarm ordinance and corresponding fee schedule as an information-only item in the agenda.

The number of false alarms received from May 1, 2015 to Nov. 30, 2015 was compared to the number of false alarm calls received from May 1, 2016 to Nov. 30, 2016.

According to the staff report, there was a 7.83 percent increase in the total number of false alarms. Twelve locations had 10 or more false alarms, which contributed to the increase.

The number of locations with four or less false alarms went from 1,044 to 996, decreasing it by 4.5 percent.

The Council adopted a False Security Alarm Reduction program in April of 2009. The goal of the program was to modify security alarm user behavior and divert public safety resources to legitimate activities, which would help maintain BHPD response times. False alarm fees collected as a result of the program would help offset the costs associated with responding to false alarms.

On May 17, 2016 the Council approved an ordinance that removed the previous stipulation requiring an alarm company to make two attempts to contact the alarm subscriber by telephone to verify the legitimacy of the alarm. The amended ordinance removed that requirement and placed the responsibility of determining alarm verification on the alarm company and property owner.

City staff anticipated that it would likely increase the number of false alarm calls that the police Department received. Consequently, staff requested that the Council approve a resolution that amended the false alarm fees for police response time to be free in order to lessen the burden on the residents and businesses.

Council decided that the first three responses would be at no cost, $210 that can be waived within a 60 days after completion of an Alarm User Awareness class for the fourth response, $261 for the fifth response, and $366 for the sixth response.

When staff compared data from May 1 to Nov. 30 in 2015 and 2016 to see the financial impact from the reduction in fees, they found there was a $193,000 loss in revenue.

Police Department staff will be working with the locations that have a high number of false alarms by making contact with location owners and educating them in order to prevent further false alarms, according to the staff report.

BHHS wins girls' soccer playoff game

Norman boys' basketball team defeats Culver City

By Steven Herbert

Senior defender Montana Logan scored in the second half and Maytal Sarafian made eight saves as Beverly High defeated Santa Fe, 1-0, in a Southern Section Division 5 wild card girls' soccer playoff game Tuesday at Nickoll Field.

Kayla Shadgoo and Sarah Smith were credited with assists on Logan's second goal of the season and first since Dec. 9.

The shutout was the 15th of the season for Sarafian and third in her last three games.

The victory advances the Normans (15-5-4) into a first-round game at River Valley League champion La Sierra (11-7-2) today at 3 p.m.

The winner will advance to a second-round game Tuesday against the Western Christian-Hemet winner.

If Western Christian wins, Beverly Hills would be the home team under the Southern Section rule giving the next playoff game to the team with the fewest home games from the first round on.

The site of a game between the Normans and Hemet would be decided by a coin toss.

Beverly Hills was ranked ninth in the final Division 5 poll released Tuesday, one spot behind Western Christian.

Beverly Hills 1, Culver City 0

Vivian Geilem scored in the second half off Smith's assist and Sarafian made seven saves for the shutout as the Normans completed the regular season with the victory in an Ocean League game at Nickoll Field last Thursday.

Beverly Hills 1, Lawndale 0

Sophomore midfielder Dani Elitzur scored her team-leading 18th goal of the season in the second half and Sarafian made five saves for the shutout in an Ocean League game at Nickoll Field Feb. 7.

Boys' Basketball

Beverly Hills 48, Culver City 42

The Normans concluded the regular season by outscoring the Centaurs, 14-8, over the final eight minutes after the score was tied, 34-34, entering the fourth quarter in an Ocean League game at Culver City last Thursday.

Ron Artest III led Beverly Hills with 20 points and 10 rebounds. His younger brother Jeron Artest added 13 points, Daniel Zahabian seven, Kevin Cho and Jason Meraban three each and Chandler Sooferan two for the Normans (16-10, 8-2 in league play).

Beverly Hills led 21-17 at halftime and 10-4 at the end of the first quarter.

Jeron Artest made two 3-point baskets and Cho and Meraban one each.

What's Next?

The Normans were scheduled to play host to Etiwanda in Southern Section Division 1-AA first-round playoff game Wednesday at the Swim-Gym that began after the Beverly Hills Weekly's deadline.

Etiwanda, the third-place team in the Baseline League, was ranked first in the final Division 1-AA poll released Monday, which did not include teams that were selected to play in the Open Division.

If Beverly Hills won, it would face the winner of the Hart-Village Christian game in a second-round game Friday at 7 p.m.

Girls' Basketball

Beverly High (17-9) is scheduled to play at Avalon (12-11) in Southern Section Division 4-A first-round playoff game today at 5 p.m.

The Lancers finished third in the five-team San Joaquin League.

If Beverly Hills wins, it would play at Big Bear (20-3) Saturday in a second-round game at 7 p.m. The Cross Valley League champion Bears were among seven teams receiving first-round byes in 25-team field.

MAKING THE CUT

All options on the table as Board considers how to cut $5 million from budget

By Madelyn Pariser

BHUSD administrators outlined several options to cut back deficit spending during the Board of Education study session last Friday, Feb. 9.

In December, Chief Administrative Officer La Tanya Kirk-Carter announced that the district is $4.6 million in the red. At that time, the Board unanimously voted in favor of reducing expenditures by approximately $5 million for the 2017-18 fiscal year and sustaining the reduction for the following three years.

Kirk-Carter, along with Chief Academic Officer Jennifer Tedford and Chief Human Resources Administrator Yolanda Mendoza, were tasked with presenting on the various causes of the projected deficit spending and making recommendations for long-term financial sustainability.

Tedford explained that the financial analysis was based off of data from areas such as enrollment trends and district class size.

There has been an overall decline in enrollment over the last six years, according to Tedford.

The district operates on a basic aid model, meaning local property taxes meet or exceed its revenue limit. A basic aid district keeps the money from local property taxes and still receives constitutionally guaranteed state basic aid funding.

However, the district is not paid per pupil.

Kirk-Carter indicated that most of the district's money is going toward certificated staffing. She reported that certificated teacher salaries are at $5,455 per ADA with an additional $1,145 for other certificated salaries such as counselors and specialized teachers, bringing the total to approximately $6,600.

"The difficult part about it is the way the system is setup and the constraints that we have with running a K-8 model. It's an expensive model."
—BHUSD Superintendent Michael Bregy

"Revenue really isn't our problem," Kirk-Carter said "It is how we spend it."

She also noted that the current budget for the 2016-17 legal fees is $1.3 million. In 2014-15, she said the district was spending $4 million on legal fees.

"One of the allusions [is] that we're spending quite a bit of money on legal. We're not spending a lot of money on legal. [Our] contractive services are high because in that same category are our PTA and our BHEF donations, and we've spent them accordingly."

BHUSD's legal fees exceeded $600,000 between Jan. 10 to Feb. 7, according to the Feb. 7 warrant report [Issue #906]. No other school district of the same size has legal fees at that level.

Some of the suggestions for cuts recommended by the administration included eliminating K-8 technology/STEM teachers by supplementing programs in core classes with iCoach support and reducing librarian technical staffing by 50 percent and moving to a shared service model.

Newly appointed Superintendent Dr.

Program Elimination/ Reduction Options

Action	Estimated Savings
Eliminate K-8 Technology/ STEM Teachers and embed programs in core classes with iCoach support (note: reduction of more than on "special" program results in exceeding the teaching minutes cap for grades 4 and 5).	$400,000
Reduce librarian technical staffing by 50 percent and move to shared service model.	$82,000
Reduce Instrumental Music Teachers by 50 percent and move to shared service model.	$200,000
Reduce K-5 Intervention teachers by 50 percent and all intervention sections at middle school (note: these specialists have only been in place for six months, and so there is limited data to evaluate the overall effectiveness of this new program; also, LCAP requires $678,000 of funding for intervention – UDP)	$480,000
High School Classified	$60,000
GATE: Reduce by 50 percent	$80,000
Increase TK-3 size to 26 or 29	$400,000/ $600,000
Reduce High School Counselors by two	$240,000
Enrollment Reductions	$1,310,000
Estimated Total Savings	$3,452,000
Reaching a $5 million budget deficit reduction target will require a reduction of an additional 16 FTE(Full Time Equivalent position) ($1,600,000)	$5,052,000

Source: Feb. 9 study session presentation, "Planning for long-term financial sustainability"; available on bhUSD.org

Michael Bregy commended the Board on its ability to make cuts in years prior; however, he attributed much of the district's deficit spending to the costly K-8 model.

"Part of the problem, as I've discovered, is really looking at what the community values," Bregy said. "[The] difficult part about it is the way the system is setup and the constraints that we have with running a K-8 model. It's an expensive model. That's a community value and that's something that we would need to talk about. There are a lot of savings when you are starting to put a configuration together where you have a large number of students in a certain grade."

The administrators looked to the Board for feedback and direction.

Regardless of the unanimous vote to make $5 million dollars worth of budget cuts, Vice President Lisa Korbatov and Boards members Howard Goldstein and Noah Margo continually express uncertainty about the actual dollar amount previously advised by Kirk-Carter.

"All cuts are not equal," Korbatov said. "I appreciate that you gave the full Chinese menu and I'm going to think very thoughtfully about it. I understand that there's a magic number of $5 million. I understand the clinical aspect of $5 million. I'm not there yet to cut $5 million, I want to be frank with you all. I'm somewhere but I'm not there."

At the Dec. 12 vote, Margo encouraged the Board to consider cutting expenditures by only $3 million.

A districtwide financial study, presented by School Services of California, is expected to take place at the next Board study session today, Feb. 16 at 3:00 p.m. in the Beverly High Jon Cherney Lecture Hall.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE GETS ANSWERS

Council candidates take a stand on the issues at Municipal League forum

By Madelyn Pariser

The Municipal League put the City Council candidates under rapid fire during its forum in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, Feb. 8.

At the start of the evening, each of the candidates were provided two minutes to introduce themselves, followed by a five-minute question and answer with moderators Greenberg Glusker partner Fred Fenster, attorney Allyson Wittner and Municipal League Chairman Thomas White.

During the five-minute discussion, the moderators quickly asked candidates to answer questions such as how they voted for Measure HH, their position with respect to lots 12 and 13, and their opinions on the effectiveness of the current Council.

The moderators alternated the order and the specific questions asked to each of the candidates.

City Treasurer Eliot Finkel, Recreation and Parks Commissioner Frances Bilak and resident Vera Markowitz were asked about their stance on Measure HH.

Measure HH, the Hilton Condominium Tower initiative on the November 2016 ballot, asked residents to vote on the construction of a 26-story residential development which would be considered the City's first ever skyscraper.

Bilak and Markowitz voted in favor of the initiative. Bilak says she voted 'no' on Measure H in 2008.

"I would never have allowed an 18-story building to have been entitled to [developer] Mr. [Beny] Alagem," Bilak said. "Between 2008 and 2015 when there was this referendum filed, I felt that City Council should have gone and placed a hard cap in that Special Plan so that he couldn't have filed a referendum to go up 26-stories."

Regardless, she voted to approve Measure HH in 2016 because of the purported increase in green space included in the revised measure.

"[I voted for Measure HH because] I wanted more green space for this city. There's an L.A. resident survey that indicates Beverly Hills has one half of the green space that every other L.A. resident has."

Markowitz was in favor of Measure HH because she felt that the aesthetic of the two small buildings purposed in 2008 were not designed well.

"I love great architecture," Markowitz said. "I thought the two small buildings were not attractive at all. I would not have passed it in '08. I thought that was very poor design. I like the new design and it was strictly based on design."

Finkel said he voted against the measure because the developer chose to bypass the City's planning process.

"I thought [the Measure HH developers] should have gone through the process," Finkel said. "I originally opposed the building of condominiums both on the Hilton property and on what is now 'Beverly One'. Converting commercial property to residential is zapping the lifeblood of our city."

Traffic and Parking Commission Les Friedman was asked if he has ever disagreed with the actions or procedures of the current Council and city attorney.

"I don't think that you create legislation at 11:30 at night," Friedman said. "Writing a bill or an ordinance and doing it on the fly is something that an attorney should not be required to do. I think that is something that our [City] Attorney [Larry Wiener] was asked to do and of course he has to comply with it. But that is something I disagree with."

The current Council recently enacted the Rent Stabilization Urgency Ordinance on Jan. 24 after a five-hour meeting, which lasted late into the night.

After questions from the moderators, the candidates took to the dais to answer additional general policy questions.

Again, the moderators worked to pin the candidates down on where they stand regarding development in the City.

"I've never voted against the General Plan," said in cum - bent Vice Mayor Nancy Krasne. "I didn't vote for the Hilton. I didn't vote for Arnie Rosenstein's project [9900 Wilshire] and I sure didn't vote for Wanda."

Metropolitan Water District representative Robert Wunderlich advocated for examining the specifics of a situation in order to best decide if a project is entitled to an exemption from the specifics outlined in the General Plan.

"The General Plan is an excellent document and I think it should be adhered to," Wunderlich said. "That said, I'm not a rigid person. There are instances in which an exception might be warranted. But the word exception, what does it mean? It means exceptional.

[Exceptions] should be exceptional."

Council candidate Jim Wayne did not participate in the forum.

Two more forums are scheduled to take place before the election on March 7. Students will host a public candidate forum on Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 5:00 p.m. in the Jon Cherney Hall at Beverly High.

The Beverly Hills Active Adult Club forum will be in the Roxbury Park Auditorium on Feb. 27 at 1:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: LAWRENCE LUCHTIKER CASE NO. 17STPB00573

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of LAWRENCE LUCHTIKER.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by AMY L. BAKER in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that AMY L. BAKER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act . (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.)

The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 02/27/17 at 8:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
