Loma Linda Opponents Distribute Door Hangers Against Basement Ordinance Petition

Loma Linda opponents distributed door hangers over the weekend against the Basement Ordinance Referendum, explained in last week's issue.

"Please do not sign the petition," the door hanger reads. "It requires a referendum paid by YOUR TAX DOLLARS to overturn the Basement Ordinance which the City Council passed to protect our City's environment and prevent overdevelopment."

With attorney Bradley Hertz and realtor

Branden Williams reportedly at its helm, the petition uses professional signature gatherers to garner as much support as possible to place a referendum to repeal the Basement Ordinance on the November ballot.

If they receive enough signatures by April 6, the newly-passed Ordinance will not go into effect. If they receive signatures by April 10 the ordinance will be suspended until the Council places it on the ballot.

The door hanger, distributed by Lago Vista neighbors Debbie Weiss, Peter Ostroff and Anne Ostroff, suggests that petitioners are garnering signatures based upon "misleading information."

Peter Ostroff, who serves on the Planning Commission, did not respond to a request for comment.

BHUSD At Impasse with Teachers Over Salary Formula

The BHUSD has reached an impasse with its teachers, leading to the involvement of a third party mediator in order to find an agreement.

The discord comes from the Board of Education's plan to discontinue the salary formula—a measure passed four years ago that provides raises based on property taxes.

At the time, the decision was packaged as a way to attract high-quality educators, but the district is now projected to deplete its already-underwater budget to the minimum three percent reserves in two year's time.

Chief Administrative Officer La Tanya Kirk-Carter emphasized at the March 27 Board meeting that this is why the district must remove its strict adherence to the salary formula.

But at that same meeting, several BHUSD teachers advocated for the maintenance of the formula, arguing that it alone was not responsible for the district's financial instability.

"The district has determined it can make no further progress at the bargaining table while BHEA continues to have an open mind," Beverly Hills Education Association President Telly Tse told the Weekly. "We want to work with the district and in fact, our proposal will save the district over $2 million above their own proposal. The salary formula is sustainable and better for the district and employees over the long term. In many ways, we are trying to save the district from themselves."

The district has offered teachers a three percent increase over the next three years, something Tse says BHEA rejected due to a lack of long-term sustainability. They instead requested a six percent increase per year for three years. Historically, raises have been in the two to three percent range.

After six unsuccessful meetings with each other, both parties are now in the early stages of meeting with a mediator to reach consensus.

"It is important to recognize we must all work together to ensure the success of our students by attracting and retaining high caliber teachers while establishing and sustaining a financially healthy school district," said Superintendent Michael Bregy. "Eventually, we are going to come to an agreement and I am hopeful the next steps in working with a mediator prove to be successful in the negotiations process."

Design Review to Hold Expansion Meeting

The Design Review Commission will conduct a public meeting on April 9 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council chambers to consider potentially expanding the commission beyond the Central Area of the City, which is generally the area south of Sunset Boulevard.

The meeting will discuss altering the Design Review Program so as to include single-family zones in the Hillside and Trousdale Estates areas of the City.

Discussion points will include whether the Trousdale Estates should be included in expansion, whether properties not visible from the street should be exempt, whether the review should be limited to the street-facing façade, whether new findings should be developed for hillside areas, how often the commission should meet, and a review of trash enclosures.

The impetus behind the meeting follows the City Council's decision on March 6 to approve modifications to the Municipal Code regulating site grading and reducing the visual impact of retaining walls and exposed basement walls in the Hillside area.

The Council also, however, expressed concern regarding the fact that the new ordinance does not address the overall review of the architectural design of Hillside Area properties and the potential for requiring the Design Review to "help further improve the aesthetics of the City's residential areas," according to the staff report.

Some residents have already begun to express support for the expansion, including attorney Ronald Richards, who has led the fight against projects on Lago Vista and Loma Linda.

"Due to rising property values, speculators have purchased small, irregular Hillside lots, and are now trying to cram as much square footage on the pad as possible," said Richards. "The designs that follow impacts the neighborhood dramatically, so a design review plan is necessary for the Hillside area."

The building envelope in both the Hillside Area and Trousdale is dictated by the requirements set forth in the Municipal Code and any proposed formal Design Review efforts with impact the surface aesthetics of new projects.

"The critical consideration for Design Review within the Hillside Area and Trousdale Estates is the vantage point or points from which the new or remodeled residence would be adjudicated," reads the staff report.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the commission.

The potential to expand the areas subject to Design Review in the City will also be reviewed in the future by the Planning Commission and City Council.

“Shakespeare is every actor’s first love,” says Shakespeare scholar Louis Fantasia, “And this jubilee on April 28th will show why, as we honor the Bard’s understanding of human nature and celebrate the jubilee organized by David Garrick in 1768, that honored Stratford’s famous citizen. ## HELLOS AND GOODBYES

Deputy Director of Public Works Erick Lee on the way out; Assistant Superintendent Laura Chism on the way in

By Olivia Anderson

Erick Lee

After 21 years with the City of Beverly Hills, former employee Erick Lee will assume a new position as the Executive Director of the South Bay Regional Public Communications Agency on April 9.

Tell us about your new position as the Executive Director of the South Bay Regional Public Communications Agency.

I'm very excited about this new opportunity to be the Executive Director of the RCC. There are three member cities that make up the Joint Powers Agency: Gardena, Hawthorne and Manhattan Beach. And there are also three additional cities that contract for services: Culver City, El Segundo and Hermosa Beach. So it's six cities and it's a joint police and fire dispatch center servicing about 250,000 residents. We provide all the 911 dispatching services for police and fire. Additionally, [there's] a vehicle shop where they install all the technology for all the public safety vehicles for the six cities.

What specifically does your job entail?

As the Executive Director I'll be in charge of the entire agency. I think there's about 61 dispatchers and supervisors and also vehicle personnel as well, so it's about 70 people that will be reporting to me.

What has it been like working in Beverly Hills?

Working in Beverly Hills has been the greatest opportunity I've ever had. I've been with the City for 21 years total, left on [March 29]. It's an amazing place to work. It was awesome working for a community that really wants to provide the highest level of services to its community and empowers the staff to go out and do that. As far as people I'd like to thank, certainly [City Manager] Mahdi Aluzri and [Assistant City Manager] George Chavez for investing in me for years. I got hired in 1996 by Records Manager Allison Zuniga, but George and Mahdi are the two who have been supporters of mine in the last few years, helping me to expand my career. And then [Former BHPD] Chief [David] Snowden—his investment in me I will never forget. He's the one who promoted me to commander about six years ago.

I spent 19 years in the [BHPD] and the last two years in Public Works. The last four years at the police department I was the Division Commander [and] reported to Chief Snowden. He was just an amazing leader to work for. For the last two years in Public Works, half that time I reported to George, and over the last year I've been working for Shana Epstein. [I'd like to] thank her for leadership and mentoring me because she's definitely someone who I have tremendous respect for. She's a great boss.

What are the biggest differences between working in the Police Department vs. Public Works Department?

The Police Department has a very defined mission, whereas Public Works is a much larger department and there are over a dozen different business lines that we run, some overlap, some are very disparate. It was a challenge for me to learn how that business was run, but we've got great employees in Public Works that really know the business, and it was a blessing for me to help lead that organization for the two years I was there.

Laura Chism

Assistant Superintendent of Student Services Laura Chism joined the BHUSD last year in a new position that combines two previously different departments.

Tell us about your background.

I hold a Master's degree and a Bachelor's degree in sociology from UCLA. I started as a teacher for emotionally disturbed students here in Los Angeles. I worked in several districts throughout Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties as a special day class tutor as well as a resource specialist, teaching grades K-12.

How did you get to Beverly Hills?

I went to Pomona Unified as a Program Specialist and I was there for seven years. Then, I left there and went to Orange Unified in Orange County as a Coordinator and was there for a little over a year. Then, I went to San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools as the Program Manager for East Valley SELPA, where I managed clients and special education programs as well as due process and mediation for five districts in that county. That was my immediate job preceding Beverly Hills Unified.

How does working in the San Bernardino East Valley SELPA differ from working in the BHUSD?

The major difference that instead of five districts, I'm [now] working in one district. However I'm still dealing with the same types of issues and concerns and programs as far as special education and student services, which is what I was doing there in East Valley SELPA. So it's focusing on one district versus five.

What does "student services" entail?

It's the combination of two different departments. Previously, before the reorganization of the district by Dr. [Michael] Bregy in the 2017-2018 school year, special education and child welfare and attendance and student services were under [education] services. Dr. Bregy reorganized it and made students services its own division, and I was hired as the Assistant Superintendent of Student Services. So, under student services we have special education; we have child welfare and attendance; we have home hospital instruction, health and welfare of students, drug prevention programs—things like that. All those things fall under the umbrella of student services for the district.

Special education is a significant expense for the district. What can be done to mitigate that?

I've been spending my time looking at how we are running our programs, how we are administering them, finding ways to run them more efficiently, looking at our scope of services and programs that we're providing the students. We are looking at revamping how some of our programs are run; we are looking at using staff more efficiently; we're looking at a little bit of reorganization of the department to provide additional support to help provide better education for students, so we don't have parents who feel they have to resort to litigation to get what their student needs. Those are some of the initiatives we're putting in place.

Where do you see special education legislation headed in the future?

Hopefully we'll be looking at getting additional funding. Special education has never been a fully funded mandate at neither the state nor federal level. There's a real push, particularly at the state level, for the governor to look at additional funding for special education. It would be my hope that [special education] gets closer to being fully funded so that we can provide the type of support and programs and services that our students need without having to pull from the general fund to do so.

The Mortgage Law Firm, PLC. may be attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained may be used for that purpose. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site -www.Auction.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: 131643. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. A-FN4652086 04/05/2018, 04/12/2018, 04/19/2018
